KILLER FACES MADMAN'S CELL

RADIO IN CLUTCH OF DEMOCRATS, SAYS FLETCHER

Relies on W-G-N to Surmount Curb.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Charges that the National and Columbia radio broadcasting chains are "involuntarily controled" by the Democratic party through their fear of revocation of licenses were made public tonight by Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican national committee.

Mr. Fletcher made his charges in a letter to William S. Paley, president of the Columbia system, a copy of which he transmitted to Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, president of the National Broadcasting company. The Republican chief wrote in reply to the refusal of these chains to grant the Republicans broadcasting facilities equivalent to those extended to President Roosevelt.

W-G-N to Broadcast Sketch.

In giving out the text of his letter Mr. Fletcher said he had made arrangements with W-G-N to broadcast tomorrow night the national committee's dramatic sketch comparing great events of our history with what is taking place today under the auspices of the New Deal. The National and the Columbia refused to sell time for this broadcast.

"I do not for a moment question your right to determine for yourselves what policies should be exercised by the Columbia Broadcasting system in the use of its facilities," said Mr. Fletcher in his letter to Mr. Paley. "I cannot, however, free myself of the impression that the attitude you have taken is affected and perhaps involuntarily controled by the political party in power which regulates the issuance of your licenses.

Tells of Two Requests.

"The Republican national committee has made two requests of your company. The first is for free facilities comparable to those you have afforded Democratic spokesmen, including the President, now an acknowledged candidate. The second is to rent and pay for such time on the air as is arranged for other programs sponsored by advertisers.

"I believe your policy 'not to sell time for political broadcasts until after the regular party conventions next summer' will leave in the minds of the American public the distinct impression that you either are exercising an unwaranted degree of censorship or that you fear punitive action by the federal communications commission.

"I am informed that both the National Broadcasting company and Columbia Broadcasting system cleared the air of all programs on the night of Jan. 3 and Jan. 8 for the President so that the facilities of some 180 stations were made available for what were in large part political talks of a candidate. I assume this was free time and the question arises was this in the nature of a donation to a political party by the radio companies or by the corporations sponsoring programs which were displaced by the President's speeches?

"Should Be Nonpartisan."

"It seems to me that the services of the great radio chains should be as nonpartisan and free from governmental domination as are great news services like the A. P., U. P., International News, etc., and give both sides an absolutely equal break.

"Now as to the refusal of both the major broadcasting systems to rent or lease us time on their networks prior to the national conventions. It is precisely because the Republican National committee desires to bring home to the voters the effect of the administration's aims and policies and the vital issues affecting the very foundations of constitutional government before the heat and fury of the political campaign that we have planned to take advantage now of modern radio technique to convey our message.

"Your letter speaks of objections to the use of dramatic sketches in political programs. So long as these are truly represented—as they would be—by the announcer as dramatic sketches, as is done in the presentation of commercial programs, I fail to see any legitimate reason for your refusing them, nor have we any intention of cluttering up or overcrowding your facilities.

"The statement in your letter that 'appeals to the electorate should be

HOWARD HUGHES SHATTERS MARK SET BY TURNER

Film Man Averages 260 Miles.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 14 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Howard Hughes, Hollywood film director, landed at Newark airport at 12:42:10 a. m. today, completing a nonstop flight from Los Angeles in 9 hours 27 minutes and 10 seconds. Airport officials said this was a new transcontinental record.

The old mark, established by Col. Roscoe Turner in 1934, was 10 hours and two minutes.

Hughes said he left Los Angeles airport at 2:15 p. m. Chicago time yesterday. He said the trip was without incident.

"I wanted to go to New York," he said, "so I tried to see how fast I could do it in."

After landing here Hughes said he got in touch with National Aeronautical association officials at Los Angeles to confirm the elapsed time.

Consumes No Food on Flight.

Hughes said he had not eaten anything on the swift dash through the skies and planned to eat a hearty meal when he reached a New York hotel [the Waldorf Astoria] to spend the night.

"There was nothing secret about the trip," he said. "If anybody said that, he is mistaken."

Hughes had difficulty hearing questions, which were repeated to him.

The flight, which carried him across the continent faster than any human being has ever traveled the route, was by way of Albuquerque, Kansas City, and due east for Newark.

"It was a good trip," he said, speaking in praise of his [Northrup] low wing plane.

Airport Men Are Surprised.

No one at the airport was aware of the flight until the plane swooped down on the field out of the western sky. The ship landed in front of the United Airlines hangar, then taxied toward the TWA hangars, where it was housed for the night.

"Do you know you've crossed the continent faster than anybody has ever crossed it?" Hughes was asked.

The question had to be repeated before he answered:

"I guess so; I wasn't thinking so much about that."

He insisted there was nothing "out of the way" in trying for a speedy flight. Then he added quickly:

"I can't answer any more questions now. I'm awful hungry. Haven't eaten anything since I left Los Angeles. Call me at my room at the hotel and I'll tell you more."

Speed Record Confirmed.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 14.—(AP)—Joe Nikrent, timer for the National Aeronautical association, said he flagged Howard Hughes away yesterday at 12:15 p. m. coast time on the flight in which Hughes set a new transcontinental speed record. The record is official, Nikrent said.

Hughes, who flew across the continent in 9 hours 27 minutes 10 seconds, shattered the speed record of 10 hours 2 minutes 52 seconds established by Col. Roscoe Turner on Sept. 2, 1934.

Flies in Leased Plane.

Hughes, leaving Union Air terminal, Burbank, in strictest secrecy, flew the great circle route of about 2,450 miles at a speed of about 260 miles an hour. He made the trip in a plane he leased several months ago from Jacqueline Cochrane, feminine speed flyer.

In his own specially built racing plane Hughes last September shattered all speed records for land planes when he averaged 352.46 miles an hour in a series of dashes over a closed course near Santa Ana, Cal.

He took Miss Cochrane's plane and installed the latest type supercharged radial aviation motor built to army specifications. It is rated at 750 horsepower and uses the new 100 octane aviation gasoline.

Nickel Bread Back on Death of AAA Taxes

Day by day prices of additional articles of foodstuffs are being reduced as a result of the Supreme court's decision outlawing the processing taxes levied under the Agricultural Adjustment act.

Today one of the largest chain store organizations is lowering the price of its regular pound loaf of bread from 6 cents to 5 cents. There will be no change, according to the management, in the quality of the product.

Follows Flour Price Cut.

"The price of flour has been reduced about $1.35 a barrel by the removal of the taxes," said an executive of the concern, "and we are passing the saving on to the consumer."

Retail flour prices were cut about 17 cents on a 24½ pound sack by all the leading retail chains immediately after the court decision was made known, and whole wheat bread was cut from 8 to 6 cents a loaf several days ago. Today's announcement, however, is the first cut of white bread to the old nickel level, which is the lowest retail quotation in two years.

The hog and fresh pork markets have shown interesting but logical trends since the removal of the processing charges. In the week since the decision was made known hog prices in Chicago have advanced 65 cents to 75 cents a hundred pounds, but pork loins are selling wholesale at 3 cents to 5 cents a pound lower.

Farmer and Consumer Benefit.

In effect, the farm producer and the city consumer have been getting mutual advantages from the tax elimination. This tax was $2.25 a hundred pounds [live weight] of hog. Hogs do not dress out anything like 100 per cent meat and naturally the tax levied on the meat as a whole was much more than 2¼ cents a pound.

Experts have figured that pork loins bore a tax of 4.85 cents a pound when the burden was distributed.

Present estimates are that 80 per cent of the benefit of the tax removal has gone to the consuming public and 20 per cent to the farmer. The latter, however, is no longer paid out of the tax for keeping his hogs off the market and can ship in larger quantities at will.

ASSASSINS TRAP HOODLUM; RIDDLE BODY WITH SHOT

Eugene Belmonte, alias James Mirabelle, ex-convict, "42" gangster, gunman, robber, and automobile thief, was shot to death last night by assassins who trapped him in an alley at the rear of 3328 Flournoy street. They riddled him with a shotgun charge and three pistol bullets.

Belmonte resided at 1330 Edgemont avenue. His wife Frances told the police that he formerly worked for the city street department, but had been "unemployed" recently. Investigators said they had information to indicate he was an alcohol peddler. It is not believed his death was connected with the murder of State Representative Albert J. Prignano on Dec. 29.

According to witnesses a car with three men in it chased Belmonte in his automobile into the alley, which runs under the elevated structure between Homan and Spaulding avenues. After the shooting the killers' car sped away in Spaulding avenue.

Kipling Goes Under Knife; Has Relapse

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Jan. 14—(Tuesday).—(AP)—Physicians attending Rudyard Kipling reported early today his condition was "still very grave."

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Rudyard Kipling, English poet and author, whose rollicking lines are known the world over, was in a critical condition in the Central Middlesex hospital tonight after undergoing an emergency operation this morning. He suffered a relapse this afternoon.

The hard was stricken with a gastric disorder in Brown's hotel, where he has been with his wife since last Thursday, preparatory to making a trip to the Riviera. He was taken in a semi-conscious condition to the hospital at 8 a. m. and the operation was performed by Dr. Alfred E. Webb-Johnson, honorary surgeon of the hospital, an hour and a quarter later.

Passes 70th Birthday.

His condition was "still very grave," according to a hospital bulletin at 9:30 p. m. However, it added that he rallied well after the operation. Earlier the hospital had declared the operation "satisfactory."

Kipling celebrated his 70th birthday two weeks ago in the moated home at Burwash, Sussex, where he has been virtually in retirement for many years. His wife, American born, was 70 the next day. She accompanied him to the hospital today and remained in an anteroom during the operation. Then she returned to their hotel.

Covered Wide Range.

Kipling came to fame in the 1890's when his stories and poems of India were published. His versatility led him to create such widely different poems as "The Road to Mandalay" and the stately "Recessional."

Despite the popularity of his works, and the fact that he is referred to in British newspapers as the greatest living English poet, he has never been knighted, nor has he been made poet laureate. In 1907, however, he became the first English writer to get the Nobel prize for literature.

State to Test Court Slayer's Sanity in Trial

John W. Keogh, 72 years old, well to do real estate owner who shot and killed an attorney yesterday in a County building courtroom, will be placed on trial for the murder, although an alienist has pronounced him insane.

This was the announcement last night of Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty. Mr. Dougherty said that the probable outcome of the case, in view of the slayer's apparent insanity, would be his commitment to the psychiatric division of the Illinois penitentiary system at Menard.

Attorney Shot to Death.

The victim of Keogh's shooting was Attorney Christopher G. Kinney, 54 years old, who has practiced law in Chicago since the world war. He was shot through the heart in the courtroom of Circuit Judge John Prystalski.

After killing Kinney, Keogh turned his gun on Judge Prystalski. The judge escaped the three bullets fired at him by dropping behind his bench. Spectators in the crowded courtroom quickly disarmed Keogh, whose statements disclosed that the shooting arose from his mania on the subject of legislative reapportionment in Illinois.

Dr. Francis J. Gerty, medical director of the County Psychopathic hospital, examined Keogh and pronounced him of unsound mind, suffering from senility and paranoia. It was after conversing with Dr. Gerty that Prosecutor Dougherty announced Keogh will be tried, nevertheless.

Coroner's Inquest Today.

A coroner's inquest today is expected to result in Keogh's being held to the grand jury, charged with murder, Dougherty said. An indictment and trial will then be sought.

Assuming that Dr. Gerty's diagnosis of the case is correct, the prosecutor said, a jury would find under the law that Keogh had committed the crime and would direct that he be sent to Menard.

Keogh would be held there until he "entirely and permanently" recovered his sanity. This, however, is considered a virtual impossibility in the case of a paranoiac of his age.

Mr. Dougherty said that it is more difficult to effect the release of a person found insane by a Criminal court jury and committed to an institution than it is to release one committed through civil procedure in the County court. For this reason, he said, it was determined to press the murder case against Keogh.

Keogh Reveals His Mania.

In the hullaballoo which followed the courtroom shooting Keogh was perhaps the coolest person present. He killed Attorney Kinney, he said, to bring forcibly to public attention his contention that the Supreme court of Illinois is an illegal agency, because of the legislature's failure to reapportion legislative districts in the state.

He admitted that he held no personal animus against either Kinney or Judge Prystalski, yet said that he fired "in cold blood." Locked in a cell in the sheriff's office in the County building, he discussed the whole affair in calm tones. Admitting that the death of Kinney was "unfortunate," he exhibited no regret.

A Matter of Principles.

Only when questioned about his private life was he reticent.

"Don't make a personal affair of this," he pleaded. "I don't count. Tell the people about my principles."

His only apparent interest in the

SUPREME COURT RETURNS TAXES TO PROCESSORS

Defers a Ruling on Cotton Control.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—While the farm lobby was descending on congress today to exact continuance of subsidies to agriculture, the Roosevelt administration sustained another reverse in the Supreme court on AAA processing taxes, but gained a respite for its compulsory cotton control. There was no decision on TVA.

The court ruled that the 200 million dollars of impounded processing taxes assessed under the AAA, which was held unconstitutional last week, must be returned to the processors.

Then the court dismissed on technical grounds the appeal in the case involving the constitutionality of the Bankhead compulsory cotton control act. In another case instituted by Gov. Talmadge of Georgia, bitter New Deal foe, the court, however, will pass on the Bankhead act within the next two months. That it will be held unconstitutional is indicated by the terms of the AAA decision.

Collected Taxes Not Involved.

To what extent processors can recover more than one billion dollars of processing taxes, in addition to the 200 millions in escrow, which the government collected illegally under the unconstitutional AAA, was left undecided for the present. As this question was not specifically involved the court refrained from passing on the validity of the AAA amendment providing that, in the event the crop control act were invalidated, processors could recover taxes paid only upon a showing that they had been unable to pass the tax on to consumers.

The court will determine the validity of this amendment eventually as the result of a multitude of suits already pending in the lower courts.

The loss by the government of the 200 millions of impounded processing taxes seriously reduces the amount of anticipated revenue and throws President Roosevelt's budget farther out of balance than ever. Even more serious would it be for the treasury if the government should be compelled to refund a large proportion of the billion dollars already collected.

Decision is Unanimous.

Although the AAA was invalidated by a 6 to 3 division of the court the justices were unanimous today in directing the return of the impounded taxes to the processors.

The suit which was brought by the Rickert Rice mills of Louisiana was one of 8 attacking section 21 [D] of the amended agricultural adjustment act forbidding recovery of processing taxes unless processors could show they had borne the burden of the tax. The plaintifs contended that in the multiplicity of transactions it was impossible to establish who had borne the tax.

The lower courts refused to grant the injunctions sought, but the Supreme court issued a restraining order on condition the taxes were placed in escrow pending decision of the suit.

In its decision today the court emphasized that the amended AAA of the last session of congress is as invalid as the original act.

"The changes made by the amendatory act of Aug. 24, 1935," said the court, "do not cure the infirmities of the original act which were the basis of decision in United States vs. Butler [Jan. 6, 1936]. The exaction still lacks the quality of a true tax. It remains a means for effectuating the regulation of agricultural production, a matter not within the powers of congress.

Repay Escrow Deposits.

"We have no occasion to discuss or decide whether section 21 [D] affords an adequate remedy at law. As yet the petitioner has not paid the taxes to the respondent, and, in view of the decision in the Butler case, hereafter cannot be required so to do. If the respondent should now attempt to collect the tax by distraint he would be a trespasser.

"The decree of the District court will be vacated, an appropriate order entered directing the repayment to the petitioner of the funds impounded pendente lite, and the cause remanded to the District court for the entry of a decree enjoining collection of the assailed exaction. A similar disposition will be made of the companion cases."

The opinion was delivered by Associate Justice Roberts who last week delivered the majority opinion in the AAA case.

Bankhead Case Dismissed.

Chief Justice Hughes read the decision dismissing the Bankhead act case on the ground that the writ of certiorari bringing the suit before it for review "was improvidently granted" by the Supreme court. Upon examining the record the court came to the conclusion that the lower courts were justified in denying an injunction because the plaintiff, Lee Moor of Texas, had failed to establish an injury for which he had no adequate remedy at law. The plaintiff did not appear at the trial as a witness and his plantation manager, who did appear, made only general statements to support the contention that Moor would suffer irreparable injury if unable to market his cotton without paying the tax on cotton ginned in excess of quota.

"The trial court," said Chief Justice Hughes, "concluded that the plaintiff had failed to make a case for equitable relief and should be left to his legal remedy.

"The Circuit court of Appeals, in affirming the decree, rested its decision upon the established principle that a mandatory injunction is not granted as a matter of right, but is granted or refused in the exercise of a sound judicial discretion.

"In this view of the record, and of the discretion which the trial court was entitled to exercise, the writ of certiorari was improvidently granted and it is dismissed."

Georgia Case Before Court.

The Georgia case involving the Bankhead act is already before the Supreme court. The government has been allowed until Jan. 20 to reply to the complaint. Then the court will either dismiss the suit or set a date for arguments. In the latter event a final adjudication could be expected by March. Senator John H. Bankhead [Dem., Ala.], author of the act, has conceded that in the light of the sweeping AAA decision there is no hope that the compulsory cotton control will be held constitutional.

Lobbyists for nearly all the farm organizations were on hand when congress met today prepared to rush legislation for a substitute for the late AAA. They said they would camp on Capitol hill till they got a new law under which the farmers would receive bounties equivalent to those they have been paid under the defunct act.

The house committee on agriculture is to begin consideration this week of the bill drafted by the department of agriculture in collaboration with the farm organization representatives last Saturday.

Rewarded for "Conservation."

This proposed substitute for AAA would accomplish the same end in a slightly different way. Instead of being paid for not producing farmers would be rewarded from the federal treasury for withdrawing land from crop production in the interest of "soil conservation."

But as the object is the control of agricultural production the argument is already heard that the proposed legislation would be no less unconstitutional than the AAA, for the Supreme court pronounced agricultural production a "purely local activity" beyond the province of the federal government to regulate and wholly within the jurisdiction of the states.

Senator Ellison D. Smith [Dem., S. C.], chairman of the senate committee on agriculture, is in a state of rebellion against continued rule of agriculture by the federal burocracy.

Opposes Administration Bill.

Senator Smith, a large cotton grower himself, declared today that he was not satisfied with the administration's bill in so far as it continued regulation of acreage reduction on the individual farms. He would leave the actual control of farm production to the states and regions actually involved.

"I'm opposed to having everything in America run from Washington," he said. "I'm sick and tired of it, I'm a real honest to goodness farmer and I know as much about cotton as these experts.

"I think if they would leave control to the states the states can manage that part of any program. Cotton is different from wheat and wheat from hogs. Let the cotton region solve its problem and the wheat region solve its own problem. My reaction is to let congress furnish the means and let the states do the rest."

He proposed two federal activities: Opening up the markets of the world, and establishing a permanent system of financing for agriculture including agriculture banks.

Tells the Old Joke About a Lady in Trafic Court

Hillard L. Ditzler 31 years old, 3534 North Artesian avenue, was arraigned on a charge of reckless driving yesterday before Judge John Gutknecht in the Trafic court. Police testified that Ditzler had an arm around a girl while driving 53 miles an hour on the outer drive. "She was not a girl, your honor," Ditzler said. "She was my wife." Judge Gutknecht fined him $1 and $1 costs.

DIES OF SELF-INFLICTED WOUNDS.

Tony Krys, 45 years old, 163 West Division street, a laborer, died in the county hospital yesterday. On Saturday he slashed his throat with a razor.

REVEAL WILSON FELT LIKE 'CAT'S PAW' OF BERLIN

Munitions Quiz Shows British Tension, Too.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—J. P. Morgan interested the senate munitions committee today with a multi-millionaire's definition of luxury.

"Living on one's capital gives one a feeling of great luxury," he said. "I know; I've done it. And getting back to living on one's earnings isn't very comfortable."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The senate munitions committee today endeavored to show that J. P. Morgan & Co. brought pressure upon the Wilson administration in 1915 to approve the financing of war exports with bankers' acceptances, resulting in a loss of $120,000,000 to the United States treasury.

The controversy over approval of such financing became so intense at one time that Col. Edward M. House, adviser to President Wilson, suggested that if Adolph C. Miller were ousted from the federal reserve board Paul M. Warburg might leave of his own violition. Dr. Miller, who with Warburg vigorously opposed the rediscounting of bankers' acceptances by federal reserve banks, still is a member of the board.

Now Financing Setup.

Both J. P. Morgan and Thomas W. Lamont, a Morgan partner, denied that they had anything to do with the formulation of federal reserve board policies, explaining that the board was just beginning to function at that time and there was an entirely new system of financing in this country.

In connection with the controversy over bankers' acceptances and the broadening of federal reserve credit policies, the committee, without meaning to do so, released a letter from President Wilson to Col. House which disclosed that in August, 1915, the President had greater hopes of composing our differences with Germany than with England.

Senator Barbour, New Jersey Republican, sought to withdraw the letter, but decided to permit publication. "It contains some unfortunate language," he said.

Wilson's hopes, however, were based upon overtures from the German ambassador, Von Bernstorff, and he stated in the letter that he trusted neither Bernstorff's "accuracy nor his sincerity."

Wilson Sees "Ray Opened."

On Aug. 31, 1915, he wrote to Col. House as follows:

"I have your letter of the thirtieth of August inclosing copies of letters from Sir Edward Grey and Bernstorff. Of course our reply to Germany's overtures of conciliation will have to depend a great deal upon the terms in which they actually are made.

"Bernstorff has only stated the principle which will be accepted and you know I trust neither his accuracy nor his sincerity. But it certainly does look as if a ray were opened out of our difficulties so far as Germany is concerned.

"That makes only more perplexing our questions as to how to deal with England, for apparently we have no choice now but to demand that she respect our rights a good deal better than she has been doing.

Bernstorff's Demands.

"Shall we insist that she open the door to neutral trade, to Rotterdam and Scandinavia, for example, which she is right in believing is in effect trade with Germany? Bernstorff now is demanding of us, in a note from his government, that we insist on Germany getting our cotton 'for the use of her civilian population.'

"Germany has at last come to her senses and is playing intelligent politics. She is seeking to put us into a position where we shall have to play to some extent the rôle of cat's paw for her in opening trade with her."

House had written to President Wilson saying, "You know of course there is trouble brewing in the federal reserve board." He said he sympathized with the views of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo regarding acceptances and expressed the hope that there might be some way out without "a public rupture."

In Accord on "Imbroglio."

Praising the federal reserve system as representing the "most beneficial piece of legislation that had been created in this country" and deploring the controversy that had arisen, he continued:

"Miller might be gotten out a little later and then perhaps Warburg will leave of his own volition. I am inclined to think he would."

Wilson replied to this letter with a postscript to his letter expressing the hope of an understanding with Germany, saying:

"You are right about the reserve board imbroglio. And I think McAdoo thinks so, too, now."

The committee examiners led up to these disclosures with a long series of cablegrams between J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, commercial agent of Great Britain, and Morgan, Grenfell & Co. of London, relating to the desirability of securing approval of bankers' acceptances.

Morgan Explains Procedure.

Mr. Morgan explained, under questioning, that a bankers' acceptance is a bill indorsed by a bank with the word "accept" to guarantee the credit of some shipper, importer, or exporter, and that such paper is discounted at banks and sold for investment purposes.

One cablegram, from Henry P. Davison, Morgan partner, dated July 20, 1915, began "have today had a long talk with the governor of the federal reserve board [Charles Hamlin]" and expressed hope of a solution of their difficulties. Mr. Morgan said he had no recollection whether either he or Davison consulted with the federal reserve board governor in the matter.

"Of course," said Mr. Lamont, "all these discussions relating to the internal affairs of the federal reserve board do not concern us. We are mere spectators in this."

Declares Morgan "Interested."

"Well," said one of the investigators, Lawrence Brown, "Morgan & Co. was interested in setting the wheels in motion to have acceptances approved."

Mr. Morgan insisted that there was no suggestion anywhere that his company had anything to do with altering federal reserve board policies and Stephen Raushenbusch, chief investigator, put in:

"Well, if they had not been approved there would not now be some $120,000,000 in default, all of which was paid out of the treasury."

This line of inquiry differed from that of last week, in which the committee dealt with pressure brought by financial and commercial interests upon the Wilson administration to approve loans to the allies and disclosed and showed how President Wilson finally was forced to abandon his neutrality policy in interests of foreign trade and prosperity.

Pressure on War Firms.

There was further efforts today to prove that Morgan & Co. brought pressure upon manufacturers of war supplies, from whom they were purchasing for England and France, to support an Anglo-French loan of $500,000,000, which was floated by a syndicate headed by Morgan & Co. at a profit of $9,000,000. Last week it was shown that companies selling through the Morgan firm took $96,000,000 worth of securities.

There was evidence that the British government became nervous in 1915 and 1916, lest their munitions orders from the United States suffer on account of this country's preparations to intervene in Mexico. Chairman Gerald P. Nye [Radical, N. D.], announced that he would call representatives of the Midvale Steel company, after the introduction of a letter which was construed to mean that this concern gave priority to British orders.

MORGAN EXPLAINS SALE OF ART OBJECTS: TO PROTECT MY HEIRS'

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—John Pierpont Morgan, the banker, today described sales of treasures from his vast art collections as an attempt "to protect my heirs from buying them back from the government" after he dies.

One sale alone—that of six paintings by world famous artists—netted Morgan a reported $1,500,000.

The financier smiled a little quizzically as he pulled his flannel muffler about his throat at the end of a day's session before the senate's munitions ivestigating committee, and said:

"You know, I'm 65. I won't last so much longer. I want my estate manageable after I'm gone. So I sold some of my art possessions."

As he struggled into his overcoat surrounded by a curious and silent crowd he raised his heavy white eyebrows humorously at the suggestion he place a value on the art treasures left to him.

He seemed anxious to be gone with his partners and the guards that accompany his party between the senate office building and their hotel, but nevertheless paused, smiled with that new half joking affability which has characterized his appearance in Washington this year, leaned against a table, grinned and said, "Well, what do you want to know?"

PREPARE CHAIR FOR HAUPTMANN DESPITE RUMORS

See Governor Facing an Investigation.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Despite many wild rumors to the contrary, Bruno Richard Hauptmann remained under sentence of death tonight. His march to the electric chair for the murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. is scheduled for next Friday night.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman was in New York throughout the day. His presence there was unexplained, although he was reported to have conferred with several persons regarding the case, including Bernard M. Finnigan, Chicago lawyer, who carried a tale about a prisoner client revealing to him that he knew three men who had possession of $22,000 of the $50,000 ransom paid the kidnapers.

There were stories that the governor had decided on a thirty day reprieve; that political foes were planning to start impeachment proceedings against the governor when the legislature convenes tomorrow; that Hauptmann had collapsed; that Hauptmann remained cheerful and unconcerned; that Mrs. Hauptmann had offered to be executed with her husband.

Electric Chair Ready.

The one fact that remained certain was that the electric chair has been made ready and that the phlegmatic German alien is to be strapped into it in exactly four days, barring any action by the governor. And under the state law the governor has no power to take any action at all, according to other state officials.

In Trenton it was reported on good authority that Gov. Hoffman's political foes would demand a legislative inquiry into his motives if he reprieved Hauptmann.

On the other hand, if Gov. Hoffman does not act to stay Hauptmann's execution, the plan to force an investigation of his activities in the case will be dropped, according to reports around the state capitol.

Wife Finds Him Cheerful.

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, the faded blonde wife of the prisoner, visited him for ten minutes today and said afterward that her husband remained optimistic despite the "bad news."

"Why is he hopeful?" she was asked. "Because he thinks Gov. Hoffman will help him?"

"I can't answer that," Mrs. Hauptmann replied.

The employment of two Washington attorneys by C. Lloyd Fisher, chief counsel for the condemned man, caused some surprise. These were Neil Burkinshaw and Nugent Dodds, who appear frequently before the Supreme court.

Whether the defense plans to apply for a writ in federal District court or to go directly to the Supreme court was not known, but legal opinion in Washington was that Haputmann's only recourse in the Supreme court would be on a writ of habeas corpus. The filing of such action, it was said, would not necessarily have the effect of staying execution, but the court might grant a respite until it had had an opportunity to act on the writ.

Holds Him Guiltless.

Ellis H. Parker, the county detective who was assigned by the governor to investigate the Hauptmann case, is a close friend of the governor and was to have headed the "state department of justice" which was disapproved by the legislature after Schwarzkopf had testified that it would be a mere duplication of the state police organization. Parker said tonight that he did not believe the impending execution would make Hauptmann talk.

"I don't believe that man can tell another thing, no matter what kind of pressure they put on him," he added. "I've held all along that the picture to me is that he is not guilty."

The dispute over Gov. Hoffman's power of reprieve still waged today. New Jersey's constitution adopted in 1844 says the governor must exercise this power within ninety days after conviction.

The fact that many governors of New Jersey have reprieved prisoners long after the 90 day period has expired was cited by the governor's press aids as setting up "precedents."

WIFE RENO BOUND

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Manville.

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Marcelle Edwards Manville, former "Vanities" showgirl and No. 4 in Tommy Manville's matrimonial life, was Reno-bound tonight. Tommy's other wives divorced him and received a reported settlement of $1,000,000 each.

The $50,000,000 asbestos heir and his showgirl bride have been Park avenue's scrappiest couple since they were married in 1933. Their tiffs have been frequent. She even took a trip to Reno once before, but came back.

It was understood that a separation settlement had been reached. Details were not disclosed, but there was no reason to suppose Marcelle would fare any worse than her predecessors after she stays six weeks in Reno and gets her divorce.

Her predecessors on Manville's marital merry-go-round were:

No. 1. Florence Huber, "Follies" girl, 1911-1922.

No. 2. Lois McCoin, his father's secretary, 1925-1930.

No. 3. Avonne Taylor, showgirl, 1931-1931.

ATTORNEY FLIES BACK HERE FOR MORE DATA ON HAUPTMANN CASE

Attorney Bernard M. Finnigan, 8922 Harper avenue, returned home last night by plane after a conference with Gov. Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey on the Bruno Hauptmann case. Mr. Finnigan said he told the governor that a client, who will be freed Friday from the Bridewell on a minor charge, asserts he once was in contact with three men who offered to sell him $22,000 of the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom money.

"All I can say at this time," declared the lawyer, "is that I still am interested in the case. My business is not yet finished. I returned home to clear up some phases of the matter."

Attorney Finnigan added that on his New Jersey visit he talked only with Gov. Hoffman and not with any member of the defense counsel.

Applications for Bonus to Be Taken Until 1940

E-service men who have not obtained their bonus certificates may file their application for a bonus until Jan. 1, 1940, Lester Benson, in charge of the American Legion service office at 127 North Dearborn street, said yesterday. Reports that bonus applications are not being received are wrong, he asserted. After the ex-service man has received his certificate, he still may apply for a 50 per cent loan against the certificates.

BONUS IN BONDS WINS BACKING OF SENATE LEADERS

Plan Acceptable, House Chiefs Assert.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—A compromise soldiers' bonus bill providing for payment in $50 bonds that may be cashed by the government upon demand was introduced in the senate today by Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.]. Harrison, who is chairman of the powerful senate finance committee, asserted that the bill would be passed.

The bonus bill, if enacted into law over President Roosevelt's veto, would require 2 billion 237 million dollars. Such a heavy strain on the United States treasury, carrying with it the threat of inflation, has been held as the cause of the dollar sag on foreign exchanges the last few days.

As though to stave off alarm, Harrison, along with the lobbyists of veterans' organizations here, issued statements claiming that many of the holders of the bonds would not cash them immediately, but would husband them in order to draw 3 per cent interest, one of the bill's provisions.

Hold Long Study Session.

The senate finance committee held a long executive session on the bonus issue this afternoon. Afterward Harrison announced that Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau would be called in tomorrow morning. The secretary will be asked to tell what effect the flotation of bonds to veterans will have on the government securities market.

Senator Thomas P. Gore [Dem., Okla.] asserted that "neither the king nor the king's horses" could halt passage of the bill as he emerged from the finance committee session. In addition to Harrison, the bill also bore the names of Senators James F. Byrnes [Dem., S. C.], Bennett Champ Clark [Dem., Mo.], and Fredrick Steiwer [Rep., Ore.].

The new bonus measure differed from the bill passed overwhelmingly by the house last Friday principally in the method of payment—bonds instead of cash. Leaders of the house bonus bloc, however, said they were satisfied with the change.

Would Cut Off 61 Millions.

The Harrison bill would subtract from the adjusted service certificates of the veterans $61,162,000 accrued interest on loans up to Oct. 1, 1931, while the house bill had canceled the amount. Similar to the house bill the new legislation would "forgive" $236,189,000 in interest on loans obtained from the government after Oct. 1, 1931.

The bonds would be nonnegotiable and would bear the 3 per cent interest from June 15, 1936, to June 16, 1945. No interest would be paid on a bond if the veteran cashed in on it before June 16, 1937.

A joint statement issued by Ray Murphy, national commander of the American Legion; James E. Van Zandt, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and M. A. Harlan, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, urged enactment of the bill.

"Merits Approval" of All.

"We are of the opinion that the senate bill today introduced merits the support of all friends of payment of the adjusted service certificates and we are united in support of the measure," the statement read.

According to a table accompanying the senate bill, the maturity value of outstanding certificates as of June 15, 1936, will be 3 billion 456 millions. Added to this would be 263 millions in the "forgiven" interest. A total of 1 billion 482 million should be subtracted to arrive at the 2 billion 237 million dollars required to pay the bonus under the new legislation.

The house moved the Patman bill, providing for payment of the bonus in greenbacks, from the ways and means committee to the active calendar during the day.

U. S. BAR GROUP DRAFTS UNIFORM AIRCRAFT LAWS

Lawyer Committees to Open Sessions.

Lack of uniformity in state laws dealing with aeronautics was the subject of study by a special committee of the American Bar association at the Palmer house yesterday. The committee is one of several executive and investigating groups of the association which are meeting here this week.

A uniform law dealing with the liability of owners and operators of aircraft for injury or damage resulting from mishaps, was considered by the committee as being the most pressing legislative need. It was pointed out that a majority of states either lack such statutes or else rely on amended laws dealing with all types of vehicles and accidents.

Draft a Uniform Measure.

The special committee's report, with a draft of a proposed uniform measure, will be submitted to the bar association's conference of commissioners on uniform state laws which is to meet in advance of the annual gathering of the association next summer.

As part of a uniform aeronautical code the association is sponsoring two other measures approved by its meeting last summer. One measure provides for state aeronautical commissions to inspect planes, airports, and personnel. The other deals with municipal operation of airports and acquisition of land through condemnation for airport purposes.

Hauptmann Trial Report Ready.

A report on the Bruno Hauptmann trial will be submitted to the executive committee of the bar association at the Palmer house today. The report deals with incidents of the trial and not with its legal aspects.

It is to be made by a special committee composed of Oscar Hallam of Minneapolis, Dean Albert J. Harno of the University of Illinois, John Kirkland Clark of New York, and Charles P. Taft II. of Cincinnati. It is understood their report contains suggestions for preventing a repetition of "certain sensational incidents" that occurred during the trial.

William L. Ransom of New York, president of the American Bar association, addressed a dinner given last night by junior members of the Chicago Bar association at 160 North La Salle street. He urged adoption of reorganization plans, now under consideration, to bring a majority of the 175,000 lawyers in the country into the national association. Only 28,000 lawyers are members now, he said.

VOTE TO INDICT COURT CASHIER IN $10,000 FRAUD

A true bill charging Ralph T. Crean, former cashier in the Circuit court clerk's office, with the embezzlement of $10,876 of office funds was reported voted by the grand jury yesterday. Crean is sought by the state's attorney's police, who are looking also for Miss Shirley Arle, 20 years old, a dancer of Hammond, who is believed to be a friend of Crean and may know of his whereabouts. She was reported to be in Champaign. John J. Wallace, attorney for Crean, told Sheriff John Toman last week that Crean would surrender within a few days, but the fugitive has failed to appear.

FEDERAL QUIZ INTO 476 LUNG DEATHS SOUGHT

Disease Is Contracted by Tunnel Workers.

Gauley Bridge, W. Va., Jan. 13.—(AP)—This quiet little mountain village became a center of interest today by the introduction of a resolution in Washington asking investigation of conditions under which an undetermined number of workers allegedly died in recent years of a lung disease contracted while boring a river tunnel.

In placing his request before the national house of representatives, Vito Marcantonio [Rep., N. Y.] declared 476 workers died a slow death of silicosis and that 1,500 still are suffering.

The resolution also charged 169 of the workmen were buried in a corn field with no markers erected over their resting places.

Case Aired in State.

The Washington action revived interest in a case that was aired by action within the state in recent years.

The tunnel, designed to swerve the waters of New river beneath a mountain to provide power for a giant electric project, was completed in 1934.

Prior to completion various workmen and their relatives brought suit against the contracting company, charging that while working in the huge hole beneath the mountain they encountered silica sand—used for the manufacture of glass.

Physicians say inhaling the dust from this fine, white substance causes lung disease.

Many Suits Settled.

Official records in Charleston show more than 300 workers brought suit in West Virginia courts demanding a total of around $3,000,000 and that many cases were settled out of court.

Last May the state Supreme court threw out cases in which approximately 200 men asked damages against Rinehart and Dennis, Charlottesville, Va., contractors, who drilled the tunnel for the New Kanawha Power company. The court ruled the workmen waited too long to file their complaints.

Under Marcantonio's resolution a board of inquiry would be appointed by the secretary of labor to study conditions and submit a report to the congress.

Son Saves 340 Lb. Texan from Potter's Field Grave

The body of Edmund Paul Jersig, 340 pound Texan who imagined himself to be a millionaire rancher, was saved from a potter's field burial at Sycamore, Ill., yesterday by the arrival of $125 from his son, Gordon, of San Antonio. Jersig will be buried today at De Kalb. He hanged himself in the De Kalb county jail last Wednesday while awaiting trial on a charge of cashing a $15 fraudulent check. Jersig was divorced by Mrs. Eleanor Lauderdale Farnum Burke Jersig, one time Follies dancer and the daughter of Henry M. Lauderdale, former Chicago banker, who charged he promised her a $19,000,000 ranch.

20 BEGIN DRAKE DEFENSE AFTER ACQUITTAL OF 21

Still Believe in Estate, Say Those Released.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

After twenty-one defendants in the Drake estate mail fraud trial were freed yesterday on verdicts of not guilty returned at the direction of Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan the defense began the task of seeking a similar verdict from the jury itself on behalf of the twenty remaining defendants.

Lloyd Truax, bookkeeper for a large garage in Mitchell, S. D., was the first of the remaining defendants to take the stand in his own defense. He said he had contributed $350 to the venture of recovering and distributing the estate of Sir Francis Drake, Elizabethan navigator. He told of collecting and forwarding funds for other donors in Mitchell and surrounding towns. He said that there were in Mitchell at least a thousand such donors.

Traux, an intelligent looking business man, 49 years of age, denied that he had ever made representations to induce others to come into this deal.

Testifies to Own Good Faith.

"I put in my money in expectation of return," he asserted when asked to explain his frame of mind. "I believed in it. I had no idea of what the profit would be. I never charged for my services or profited from the estate. I became interested in 1929 through a friend of mine, A. C. Berry. He thought it a good proposition. My employer and others were in it."

Questioned by Austin Hall, government prosecutor, as to what he thought the Drake estate was, he replied:

"I always thought of it as a trust fund."

Truax said he knew of the conviction of Oscar Hartzell, chief defendant, in Sioux City, and that his collections stopped about that time.

The defense put on the stand Delmer C. Short, Chicago auditor for the Drake collectors, who told of the contributions made by each of the defendants. There were 70,000 donor accounts in all, he testified, and in addition a $69,289 defense fund for Oscar Hartzell. He asserted that Amos Hartsock, chief government witness, collected $56,000 from donors.

Defense Calls Iowans.

William Spence, Cherokee, Ia., former gasoline station man; Emmett E. Cook of Emmettsburg, Ia., chain store manager, and O. H. Hesla, groceryman of Sioux Falls, S. D., were put on the stand for the defense by Attorney George Crane.

Each told how he had contributed and collected money for the Chicago estate promoters. Cook said that he had sent in also $9,000 for exchange into English pounds sterling, a transaction which yielded the estate supporters the only profits they have ever received from the Hartzell source.

The separation of the twenty-one "not guilty" from those who must go to the jury with their cases was not accompanied by any scenes of jubilation. The twenty-one released said they were no different from those kept in the trial.

Loyal to Blasted Idea.

"We believe as we always have," they said after the court's decision. The Oscar Hartzell conviction and the disclosures at this trial that there is in England no Drake estate or trust fund of any character awaiting distribution to rightful heirs or American investors have not changed the mentality of the defendants in the least, it appeared from their conversation. Several insisted that something new would come out that would change the whole aspect of the case. They all are expected to go on the stand, with the exception of Hartzell himself.

Judge Sullivan made no explanation of the legal line he drew between the group dismissed and those held in the trial. He followed this procedure, he said, because the trial is still in progress and the jurors read the newspapers.

Advice to the Acquitted.

After the judge had announced his decision and ordered the jury to retire to bring in a directed verdict he said to the group:

"To defendants who are going to be found not guilty; if you have sinned go ye and sin no more; if you have not sinned, don't be sinned against any more. Go back to your hamlets, villages, your cities, highways and byways, cross roads, and farms, and tell all those people, the donors and contributors, that the court has judicially found that there is no pot of gold at the end of the rainbow."

On the instructions of the court the jury retired and returned in a few minutes with a verdict signed by George A. Jacob, foreman ,and all the others, finding the 21 defendants not guilty.

The Persons Released.

Those freed are Charles B. Jones, Breda, Ia.; L. M. Davis, Harlingen, Tex.; William Spence, Cherokee, Ia.; Miss Bess L. Dahlberg, Des Moines, Ia.; Dr. J. W. Hof, Marshall, Ia.; Nels P. Peterson, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Charles B. Turner, Spencer, Ia.; O. H. Hesla, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Joseph D. Gough, Harlingen, Tex.; J. Lucas Fox, Pharr, Tex.; Guy O. Walk, Lafero, Tex.; F. L. Kirstein, Clarion, Ia.; Emmett E. Cook, Emmettsburg, Ia.; Ren Crummer, Gowrie, Ia.; O. E. Sickels, Sioux City, Ia.; B. A. Dubbert, Laurens, Ia.; J. C. Ritchie, Stratford, Ia.; Mrs. Pearl Palmer, Galva, Ill.; Henry Zeithner, Tripp, S. D.; Mrs. Claire Hartzell, New York City, and H. L. Clum, Emmettsburg, Ia.

Those Held for Jury Verdict.

The following are the defendants remaining in the case: Oscar M. Hartzell, address, Leavenworth prison; Joseph H. Hauber, Croydon hotel, Chicago; Canfield Hartzell, 54 Riverside drive, New York City; Lester E. Ohmart, 19 East Bellevue place; Delmar C. Short, 19 East Bellevue place; Otto G. Yant, Croydon hotel; H. Landerson, Rockford, Ill.; F. O. Bankson, Canton, S. D.; J. Verne Carlson, Boone, Ia.; Guy D. Doty, Lake City, Ia.; A. R. Gregory, Wenatchee, Wash.; John L. Hensel, Auburn, Ia.; W. C. Kirkpatrick, Sioux City, Ia.; Ben Lindberg, Balaton, Minn.; Henry T. Osborn, Hartley, Ia.; Edward A. Peterson, Rockford, Ill.; Emil R. Rochel, Madison, Wis.; Charles A. Storla, Mitchell, S. D.; Thomas Throckmorton, Mitchell, S. D., and Lloyd Truax, Mitchell, S. D.

The defense is expected to take about two weeks.

PICKFORD DIVORCE MADE FINAL

They Chat Together

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The 15 year old "ideal marriage" of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks was formally dissolved late today while they sat together at a movie business conference.

Judge Dudley Valentine signed the final decree as the two film stars were meeting with other officials at the United Artists' studio.

"Doug," who returned from England only yesterday, attended the conference as a producer. There he met Miss Pickford, whom he had not seen for nearly 18 months. He crossed the room directly to her and extended his hand. She took it, smiled, and they began to talk as casually and amiably as though he had been gone for only a week-end.

The actress received an interlocutory decree of divorce from Superior Judge Ben B. Lindsey on Jan. 10, 1935. Her attorney filed the final papers and had them signed today.

FROM ONE CELL TO ANOTHER IS FATE OF GIBLIN

Auto Thief Loses Battle Against Return Here.

Michael Giblin, 39 years old, one of Chicago's most notorious automobile thieves, yesterday lost a fight to prevent his return to Illinois, where a prison sentence awaits him for stealing motor cars.

Denied a writ of habeas corpus upon his release from the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., where he served two years for interstate transportation of stolen cars, Giblin was taken into custody by Cook county deputy sheriffs who at once started with him for Chicago by automobile.

Seized While Duck Hunting.

While duck hunting at Ottawa, Ill., in November, 1933, Giblin was arrested and turned over to Chicago police who wanted him as the head of a ring of thieves reported to have stolen more than 1,000 automobiles in the Chicago area. The Cook county authorities allowed the federal court to try him first on the interstate transportation charge.

The government tried him in federal court at Springfield, Mo. He was convicted, sentenced to two years in Leavenworth and fined $5,000. In May of 1935, while he was still a federal prisoner, Cook county officials brought Giblin here for trial in the state courts. He was again convicted and was sentenced to 1 to 20 years for stealing an automobile. This sentence was to start upon the completion of his federal term.

He Fools the Deputies.

With good time allowances Giblin finished his federal imprisonment last November. Deputy Sheriffs William F. Feeney and Patrick Keenen were waiting for him at the Leavenworth prison gate. But Giblin balked them by refusing to sign a pauper's oath which would have waived the $5,000 fine. He insisted on remaining in the penitentiary to serve an additional 11 months to satisfy the fine.

Giblin announced his intention a few days ago of taking advantage of the pauper's oath, and his release was ordered. When Deputies Feeney and Keenen met him at the prison gate yesterday, however, they learned he had filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Leavenworth County court.

Loses Habeas Corpus Plea.

As his own attorney, Giblin argued in the Kansas court that he was illegally taken from the federal prison to Cook county for trial last May. County Judge Wendorff denied the habeas corpus petition, however, and gave Giblin into the custody of the two Cook county deputies.

On leaving the courtroom Giblin protested loudly against the "injustice of the federal, Kansas, and Illinois courts."

He also tried to put up a fistic protest against returning to Illinois, but the deputies quieted him and started with him for Chicago.

COUPLE OF GOOD TRACKING COPS GET THEIR MAN

Policemen John [Daniel Boone] Meehan and Patrick [Kit Carson] Beckham yesterday demonstrated that the pioneer ability to track enemies by prints in the snow has not died out.

They were sent to investigate the theft of roofing material valued at $3,000 from the United Roofing company, 900 South Kostner avenue. After a few minutes they were able to determine that the roofing had been hauled away in a truck with diamond shaped marks on the left rear wheel.

Since slush in the streets had frozen during the previous night the trail had frozen, too. With ease the policemen traced the truck to a rental concern at Ogden avenue and Austin boulevard, five miles away. And they learned, from the company, that the vehicle had been hired the previous day by Carl Hines, 6707 Ogden avenue.

When the trackers interviewed Hines they persuaded him that it was no use battling against such sleuthing and he confessed. Meehan and Hines compelled him to drive the truck to a garage at 3440 South Wesley avenue, where he had cached the loot, to reload it and return it to the rightful owners. When he had done this they locked him up.

AUNT AND UNCLE SUE ED WYNN ON RICHES PROMISE

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Ed Wynn promised to make his aunt and uncle "rich," papers filed in Supreme court contended today, if they would soothe his wife and prevent her from interfering with his work.

The stage and radio comedian's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Greenberg, filed a bill of particulars listing expenses and other damages they say they incurred in carrying out their part of the alleged verbal agreement. The total came to $115,921.24, of which $3,006 was for liquor.

Wynn, the Greenbergs said, asked them to nurse his wife, provide for her wants, supply her with liquor, try to soothe and calm her and prevent her from coming to theaters where he was appearing and raising a rumpus.

In return, they declared, he promised to "make them rich."

State's Attorney Mason Is Again a Candidate

State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county yesterday announced his candidacy for reelection. He will be opposed in the Republican primaries next April by Attorney Harry A. Hall of Waukegan, member of the firm of Hall & Hulse, who also announced his candidacy yesterday. Mr. Hall is a former University of Illinois football star and is a leader of the Lake County Young Republican clubs.

SEEKING DIVORCE

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Marjorie de Haven Lockwood, actress and daughter of Carter de Haven, today filed an amended complaint asking divorce for nonsupport, instead of legal separation, from Paul A. Lockwood, movie cameraman.

Lockwood a year ago filed suit against Victor Fleming, movie director, asking $150,000 damages on grounds Fleming stole his wife's affections.

Lockwood also filed the original action in a series of marital lawsuits. This also named Fleming, but it never came to trial.

MOTHER OF VINCI GANGSTERS DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Mrs. Angelina Vinci, 60 years old, 718 West 25th place, mother of two sons who were slain in the alcohol wars of the prohibition period, died in St. Luke's hospital early today, a short time after she had been stricken by a heart attack.

At the time of the seizure Mrs. Vinci was boarding a train to go to Springfield, where she intended to present to the state parole board a plea for the release of her son Sam, sentenced to serve twenty-six years in prison for the murder of John Minatti in 1926. She was accompanied to the train by another son, Joseph, who aided in taking her to the hospital.

The slain sons of Mrs. Vinci were James, who drove the automobile from which Mossy Enright, early Chicago racketeer, was killed, and Michael. It was at the inquest into Michael's death that Sam Vinci suddenly drew a pistol and shot Minatti to death. Minatti had been summoned as a witness, but Sam Vinci apparently believed he was one of the killers of his brother. Sam will have served ten years of his term next April. There is a third son living, Charles.

FRANCE CONFERS HONOR ON ARTIST GILBERT WHITE

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Gilbert White, the American painter, was created a commander in the Legion of Honor today, one of France's most distinguished honors.

Henry Peartree, former president of the American chamber of commerce in Paris, was made an officer of the legion; Edward B. Close, vice president of the American hospital at Neuilly, was made a knight; and Miss Sarah Watson, director of the International Women Students house here, also was given the rank of knight.

Frenchmen awarded the red ribbon included: Pierre Francois Girod, vice president of the Society of French Professors in America; Frederick Hoffher, professor of French at Columbia university; Robert Hurel, head of a Franco-Canadian film company; and Andre Mancel, founder and director of the French theater in San Francisco.

4 HURT IN CRASH; MAYOR DIRECTS FIRST AID WORK

Orders Arrests as Street Car Hits Cab.

A few seconds after a street car struck a taxicab last night at 35th street and South Park way, injuring the four colored occupants, Mayor Kelly, who was driving home, arrived on the scene. The mayor superintended lifting the injured from the wreckage, and began an investigation on the spot.

Witnesses told him that the street car started across the intersection as the trafic lights were changing. Mayor Kelly then instructed Lieut. John McCarthy to place two policemen on the street car and arrest the motorman, Frank Wagner, 51 years old, 2912 West 39th street, at the end of the line. This was done and Wagner was locked up at the Stanton avenue station on a charge of criminal carelessness.

One in Critical Condition.

The injured were John Johnson, 35 years old, 406 East 51st street, taken to the County hospital in a critical condition; William Parnell, 38, of 4950 Washington Park court; Theodore Burton, 31, of 3006 Calumet avenue, and the latter's baby son, Theodore Parnell Jr. Burton and the baby were treated at a doctors' office for cuts.

Jacob Rybrandt, 71 years old, 1117 Fry street, a laborer, died in the County hospital yesterday from injuries incurred earlier in the day when he was struck by an automobile driven by Rocco Chiere, 33 years old, 1852 Pensacola avenue, at Ogden and Chicago avenues.

County Toll Reaches 47.

At 4 p. m. yesterday 47 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. During this period 40 were killed and 528 injured in trafic accidents within the Chicago city limits.

ROOSEVELT BOY IS FREED OF GUN ASSAULT CHARGE

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Charges of assault with dangerous weapons against Cornelius van Schaak Roosevelt, 20, grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt, and a college classmate, were nolle prossed today. The charge carried a maximum penalty of ten years in state prison.

Young Roosevelt, son of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, and Peter De Florez, 21, of Pomfret, Conn., both sophomores at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, were accused of peppering two policemen and a Boston newspaperman with pellets shot from imported air pistols on Nov. 20.

Announcement that the charges had been nolle prossed was made by District Attorney Warren L. Bishop a few minutes after both students had pleaded not guilty to the charges named in an indictment returned last week by the grand jury. Bishop said that since the students acted in a spirit of playfulness and no injury was suffered, "further prosecution would be a travesty on justice."

A SILENT TRUCE MARKS HOUSING WAR IN QUEENS

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The siren on Mrs. Corinne Thal's home did not blow today.

It was installed for the purpose of rallying Mrs. Thal's neighbors in Sunnyside gardens, Queens, whenever Sheriff William F. Brunner and 100 policemen should arrive to evict her from the house.

Mrs. Thal applied today to Supreme court Justice Peter P. Smith in Brooklyn for a stay. He denied it, but he granted an order for the purchaser of her home to show cause Wednesday why she should be evicted, and this, her attorneys assured her, protects her until after the hearing.

Before she received this news, Mrs. Thal had a telephone call from the sheriff, who has gone to Gov. Lehman in an effort to stop the eviction of the Sunnyside people who are fighting for a reduction of mortgage interest.

He told her sadly that he didn't want to evict her, but it was his duty.

Nevertheless the electrical siren is still there.

DEMAND $50,000 RANSOM TO FREE KIDNAPED CUBAN

BULLETIN.

GUANAJAY, Cuba, Jan. 14 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Cuban soldiers and police today arrested five men, hiding in the foothills, in connection with the kidnaping of Paulino Gorostiza Jr., 28, and soldiers said one of the suspects confessed and said that Gorostiza, the fourth prominent victim of Cuban kidnapers within the last year, was held by others of a ring in a nearby cave, and that he believed Gorostiza had been slain. Army men advanced for a raid on the cave.

HAVANA, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Behind almost airtight secrecy police tonight moved to thwart the ransoming of Paulino Gorostiza Jr., 28, the fourth prominent victim of kidnapers within the last year.

Gorostiza was kidnaped early this morning as he drove his automobile through the Almendares suburb of Havana.

The abductors reportedly demanded $50,000 ransom to be paid within an hour, and the Gorostiza family was said to have paid $25,000 within that time limit, promising to pay the remainder tonight.

The last previous important kidnaping was that of Nicolas Castano on Dec. 9. He was held for ransom of $500,000 but was released by soldiers who found the kidnap hideout in a cave 30 miles from Havana.

The other two important kidnapings within the year were those of Eutimio Falla Bonet on last April 4 and of Antonio San Miguel on June 5. Falla Bonet paid $300,000 for his release and San Miguel was released by his kidnapers on the promise to pay the ransom letter.

G. O. P. TO DECIDE SLATE MAKING METHOD TODAY

Party Leaders Invited to Attend Caucus.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Republican ward committeemen voted yesterday to invite George F. Harding, former county treasurer; Charles S. Deneen, former senator and former governor; Robert E. Crowe, former state's attorney; Fred Lundin, and others to a formal meeting of the Cook county committee this afternoon at the Bismarck hotel to consider a method of indorsement on the governorship and other offices.

The action was taken at a meeting in Henrici's restaurant on call of 34 committeemen led by Eden T. Brekke [36th], which was attended by 48 of the 50 ward committeemen and eight of the eleven members from the country towns.

Set Up Voting System.

The main item before the conclave was a resolution pledging the committeemen to be bound to support primary candidates for city, county and state offices who receive 80 per cent of the total vote as represented by the committeemen in the last county convention.

This 80 per cent requirement resolution was drawn by George F. Barrett [21st] and was presented by William E. King [2d]. It evoked much discussion, in which there was little mention of candidates by name, and action upon it was postponed until the regular meeting today.

"This 80 per cent plan," argued Senator King, "is the only thing that can harmonize the party. Under it no one group will dominate, and it holds us all in check until substantial harmony can be attained."

"Backroom" Tactics Come Up.

At one time there was a warm passage over "backroom" slatemaking between Mr. Barrett and Judge Oscar F. Nelson [46th].

"The idea of this 80-20 plan," said Mr. Barrett, is to get away from backroom tickets."

"I'll say," remarked Judge Nelson, "that Mr. Barrett has been in more backroom politics than any committeeman."

"I've never been in one backroom caucus," replied Mr. Barrett, "except the one two years ago when I voted no against the ticket picked by a 51 per cent control."

Judge Nelson moved to refer the 80 per cent resolution to today's committee meeting. The vote was regarded as of significance as indicating tendencies among the committee. Of the 19 south side ward committeemen, five voted against the Nelson motion and 12 for it.

West Siders Oppose Nelson.

Of the eleven west siders, all were against Nelson except Edward F. Moore, secretary of the county committee. Of the eleven members from the northwest side eight were against Nelson's postponement, while all of the north siders except Ald. John A. Massen [48th] were with Nelson.

The vote, on the basis of the vote cast for G. O. P. two years ago stood 194,415 for postponement, and 163,429 against. The lineup on the motion to defer action on the 80 per cent plan until today was:

Committeemen declared after the meeting that individual candidacies will not be taken up at today's session. Many of the members regard the 80 per cent indorsement scheme as arising from an effort to block Wayland Brooks as a candidate for governor on the part of groups friendly to other candidates. Antagonism to George F. Harding, who has been lining up committeemen for Mr. Brooks, was expressed by some speakers.

Several Candidates Supported.

The reorganization committee, of which Fred Lundin is moving spirit, says it has not picked any candidate. John G. Oglesby has his supporters in this group; so has Senator Earl Searcy and Oscar Carlstrom and others. During the debate it was said that the suggestion that the county committeemen and the reorganization committee meet to promote harmony came from Silas H. Strawn, a sustaining member of the Republican citizens' organization. Mr. Strawn, however, it was stated, had nothing to do with the 80 per cent plan.

Leslie P. Volz of the "reorganizers" was secretary of the Henrici meeting and Charles J. MacGowan [39th] was chairman.

From Quincy last night came word that Sam H. Thompson is to announce his candidacy for congress in the Republican primaries in the 15th district. Mr. Thompson served on the federal farm board, appointed by President Hoover. He is a former president of the American Farm bureau federation and was also head of the Illinois Agricultural association. J. Leroy Adair,, Democratic congressman of Quincy, has announced himself for renomination, but there is a rumor he is slated for a federal judgeship.

PAUSES IN CHICAGO

COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT
[Metropolitan Newsreel Photo.]

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who is regarded as a possible candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, spent several hours in Chicago yesterday conferring with local G.O.P. leaders. He arrived from New York on an AmericanAir Lines plane and then left by plane for Oklahoma City, where he addressed the National Young Republican organization.

'AMPLER LIFE' SLOGAN RAKED AS VOTER BAIT

Merely Deceptive Phrase, Says Col. Roosevelt.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 13. —[Special.]—President Roosevelt's slogan, "An Ampler Life for All," is the most betraying of all the well turned phrases demagogs use to capture the imaginations of people, Col. Theodore Roosevelt said in an address here tonight before the state convention of Young Republican clubs.

"As a matter of cold fact," Col. Roosevelt said, "the policies of the present administration under the direction of President Roosevelt are not laying the ground work for an ampler life for all men. The ground work that is being laid is for a harder, more circumscribed life for all, and particularly for our children.

"In his preelection campaign and in his speeches thereafter the President has iterated and reiterated the phrase, 'An ampler life for all.' He has announced it as the goal he was attaining.

Sentiment Mere "Vote Trap."

"It is a noble sentiment. Indeed, it is a sentiment that appeals to the better feeling and self-interest of the vast majority of any community. Fine words, however, amount to nothing unless they are backed by fine actions. Unless the policies undertaken are such as to render the accomplishment of the sentiment possible, that sentiment is a word trap, no more, no less, a vote catcher with no sincerity behind it."

Col. Roosevelt also dwelt on the President's expression that he intended to "drive the money changers from the temple."

"It is a fine phrase and it appealed to us all," the speaker said, "for it brought to our minds in vivid fashion the great ideals for which we have been striving since those days in far away Palestine when the Great Founder of Christianity was preaching the loftiest doctrins of life the world has known.

"We must remember, however, that He who preached those doctrins did not try to dazzle the people with the thought that every one would be rich by working less, that humanity would advance through sloth and self-indulgence."

Cites Effect of NRA Death.

President Roosevelt also was wrong in his statements, Col. Roosevelt said, when he declared in effect that as a result of the abolition of the NRA we would have an economic disaster. Instead, business took heart, the speaker said.

"It is interesting to note," the executive's distant relative declared, "that this organization which was declared illegal by the Supreme court still is in existence and costing the people of this country millions. Its pay roll in November was $529,171.

"The employés number more than 2,000. These Democratic henchmen are kept on at the public expense, a cost that will probably run close to 10 million dollars for the year."

AIR TRANSIT YEAR TO BE REVIEWED BY RICKENBACKER

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, general manager of Eastern Airlines and a world war ace, will review developments in air transportation within the last year at a luncheon of the Chicago Traffic club today in the Palmer house.

The luncheon will be the occasion for a gathering of air line presidents who soon are to form the new air transport trade association from the old transport division of the aeronautical chamber of commerce.

"We may have a significant announcement concerning the new transportation trade association to make at the luncheon," said W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines and head of the trade association organizing committee.

Buying of 1936 Auto Tags Is Reported Slowing Down

Purchases of city and state automobile licenses for 1936 are slowing down, it was reported yesterday by City Clerk Brady and Secretary of State Hughes. Brady reported a sale of 8,628 vehicle stickers yesterday, making a total of 278,156 sold so far this year. Last year 464,000 stickers were sold. Secretary Hughes' office at 120 South Ashland boulevard reported a sale of approximately 6,000 licenses yesterday.

3 Captains Named Rear Admirals by Roosevelt

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated Capts. George J. Meyers, Edward J. Marquart and Gilbert J. Rowcliff to be rear admirals. John M. Brister was appointed medical director also with the rank of rear admiral.

RUNS FOR SENATE

GOV. FLOYD B. OLSON.
[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

Rochester, Minn., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Floyd B. Olson, Minnesota's Farmer-Labor governor, was definitly in the race for the nomination for United States senator today on a campaign platform of "check the Supreme court."

Recuperating from a stomach operation, Olson said he would seek election to the seat of the late Thomas D. Schall, Republican, who was killed in an automobile accident in Washington last month.

The governor recently appointed Elmer A. Benson, Farmer-Laborite, to complete Schall's term, which expires next January.

RECORD OF JESUS' TRIAL DOCTORED, PASTOR ASSERTS

Pontius Pilate, Roman procurator in Jerusalem and judge in the trial of Christ, "double crossed" his chief in his official report of that trial to the emperor, according to the Rev. Paul S. Newey, pastor of the Assyrian Evangelical church, 617 Wellington avenue. The Rev. Mr. Newey addressed the Congregational ministers of the city yesterday in the Central Y. M. C. A., 19 South La Salle street.

He declared that researches in ancient Syriac documents have revealed that the first name of Barabbas—the robber released by Pilate at the behest of the mob during Christ's trial—also was Jesus, and that Roman records show that Jesus Barabbas, not Jesus the Christ, was crucified.

This fact, the Rev. Mr. Newey said, may explain why the account of Christ's crucifixion is not confirmed by Roman documents.

FEDERAL JUDGE REFUSES TO ACT IN BAN ON PLAY

Boston, Mass., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Federal Judge George C. Sweeney today refused to grant an injunction sought by the Children's Hour, Inc., of New York to permit presentation of the play of that name here.

The injunction was asked against Mayor Frederick W. Mansfield, the police commissioner, and Chief Justice Wilfred Bolster of the Boston Municipal court to prevent them from refusing to license the production.

Judge Sweeney said no constitutional grounds were involved in the refusal to license the play.

The play, "The Children's Hour," recently was banned in Boston. Mayor Mansfield explained that the reason for the ban was the fact that the play centered about the theme of homosexuality.

The Brand of His Chew Gives a Burglar Away

The tobacco chewing burglar who looted the Seemen general store at Minooka in Grundy county early Sunday of its entire stock of his favorite brand was arrested last night in Chicago. He is Paul Peterson, 21 years old, 4825 Race avenue, and he has admitted his guilt. Grundy county authorities had requested the arrest of Peterson, a former resident of Minooka, who was suspected of the burglary because of his known addiction to the brand of tobacco which was stolen. Peterson is to be turned over to the sherif of Grundy county.

Five Month Old Baby Abandoned in Flat Hall

When John Gabelick, 1548 West 62d street, answered a ring at his doorbell late last night he found an abandoned five month old baby lying on a pink blanket on the floor of the vestibule. Attached to the baby's jacket was a note signed "Baby's Mother," asking Gabelick to care for the child until she could come for it. The note said the mother was out of work and that the child was "Steve's." Gabelick said he knew no Steve. A postscript gave instructions for feeding the baby, which was taken to St. Vincent's orphanage.

CONFESSES SNATCHING PURSE.

Leo Mierzwa, 24 years old, 1530 Cornell street, was held by the Austin police yesterday after he confessed two purse snatchings.

'KEEP GANG OUT, ROOSEVELT IN,' IS FARLEY'S CRY

Arraigns "Gangsters of Big Business."

Tuckahoe, N. Y., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley tonight sounded the Democratic rallying cry for the 1936 presidential campaign: "Keep Roosevelt in—and keep the gang out."

In an address couched in sharp and vigorous phrases, the Democratic national chairman arraigned "the self professed gangsters of big business" as "arrant demagogs" and "hirelings of privilege" whose "stock in trade is talk."

Farley prepared his speech for delivery at a delayed Jackson day dinner of the Westchester county Democratic committee. His words were a clear amplification of the President's declaration to congress of "no retreat."

Attempt to "Muscle In."

He accused what he called the "unprincipled brigands" of money and big business with crying for quarter in 1932, but now attempting to "muscle in" on the fruits of a general prosperity.

"President Roosevelt proposes to make a clean workmanlike job of reform," Farley declared, "because he knows that only through reforms that end the exploitation of the many by the few can American institutions be preserved.

"He knows that since every element has suffered from the wrongs, the reforms must touch every element in the nation, the farmer, the industrial worker, the miner, the toiler incapacitated by age, the small business man, the professional business man, the white collar worker.

Faced by New Enemy.

"The war against depression has been won, but the forces which have so successfully attained this victory cannot yet be demobilized because we are faced with another enemy, an enemy who would snatch the fruits of our victory and use them to undermine again the foundations on which we are striving to build a permanent prosperity.

"These are the ones who would 'gang up on the government.'

"There is only one answer: 'Keep Roosevelt in—and keep the gang out.'"

Farley asserted that the "selfish group of industrialists and financiers —who were the first to run to cover in 1929 . . . now wish to profit from the prosperity of progress by getting into the game with dice loaded in their favor."

Lion's Share, or None.

"Instead of being grateful," he said, "they have become the die-hards who would wreck their rescuers, and unless they can have the lion's share they would drag to ruin a great structure built not to benefit any one class but all classes.

"If any one is guilty of setting class against class, they are, and their cry is wholly in the interest of that small class which knows not the meaning of the words sportsmanship, gratitude, and patriotism."

Farley charged that attacks on New Deal legislation were attacks on legislative enactments which did not directly benefit the attackers.

"Why do they not attack the legislation which benefited them directly?" he continued. "They do not because they are perfectly willing to be on the receiving end."

Farley said attempts of "hirelings of special privilege" to demonstrate that New Deal reforms were destroying American institutions were "having hard going."

FRACTURES SKULL REPAIRING FENCE.

intellectual and not based on emotion, passion or prejudice' seems almost funny in the light of the impassioned appeal to class prejudice made by the President in his congressional broadcast on Jan. 3. To my mind the use of what you are pleased to call your 'editorial judgment' amounts in practice to censorship.

"The two great systems enjoy under the 90 day license system imposed by the Federal communications commission a precarious lease of the great theater of the air. You decline to open the door of this theater to those in opposition to the policies of the administration unless your 'editorial judgment' approves the program to be presented.

"In view of the public interest involved in this question of the freedom of the air, I am giving a copy of this letter to the press."

W-G-N TO GIVE PROGRAM.

Harrison E. Spangler, director of the western division of the Republican national committee, declared here last night that the National and Columbia radio broadcasting chains are attempting "to prevent the Republican party from enjoying the freedom of the air." He asserted that the two chains have abandoned their function "as servants of the people, surrendered their independence and joined the dictators of the New Deal."

"The Republican party has no quarrel with the independent or associated stations of the networks," Spangler said, "because the stations have been too long dominated and forced to do things by virtue of their affiliation, many times at a sacrifice of their earning capacity. They, too, have felt the heavy hand of the burocratic spirit.

"Fortunately there are a great many independent stations which are not yet dominated and coërced through the great monopolistic chains, which in turn are dominated by the Roosevelt and Farley régime in Washington. One of these stations, W-G-N, will present tomorrow night [Tuesday] at 8:30, the first of a series of programs sponsored by Republicans of Chicago, calculated to visualize to the American people some of the vicious results of centralized government now in the saddle in Washington."

CUBA ORDERS ARREST OF GRAU, EX-PRESIDENT

HAVANA, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The urgency court issued an order for the arrest of former President Ramon Grau San Martin and several others today after army intelligence agents charged they published "subversive propaganda."

This included, the agents asserted, photographs of dead persons sent in leaflets to United States senators and representatives as well as American tourist agencies with the idea of hurting Cuba's business.

The pamphlets, the agents asserted, were written by Dr. Rafael Trejo at his home in Miami, Fla., and were edited by Grau and others. The former president is now living in Miami.

Sues U. of C. Professor on a Charge of Assault

Joseph Roseen, 56 years old, 4424 North Whipple street, an unemployed glass cutter, filed suit in Superior court yesterday seeking $5,000 damages from Chester Nathan Gould, an associate professor of German at the University of Chicago. The bill charges that Gould assaulted Roseen on Dec. 5 when he asked permission to remain in his home at 5715 Manton avenue, a property on which a mortgage held by Gould was foreclosed.

ANTI-NEW DEAL FILM BEGINS TOUR OF SOUTH TODAY

Sentinels of Republic Sponsor Cartoon.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The Sentinels of the Republic, organized in 1922 "to maintain the principles of the republic of the Unted States," will send out from Independence square tomorrow one of the most unusual "road shows" ever to hit the highways.

An automobile and large trailer will invade the solid south with a lively bit of anti-New Deal propaganda in the form of an animated cartoon, "The Amateur Fireman—A Parable of the New Deal."

The film brought cheers and guffaws from several thousand Philadelphians in a week's run under the Sentinels' auspices last October.

The animated cartoon shows the Democratic donkey walking into the kitchen of Uncle Sam and Ma Liberty, nosing into the pork barrel and upsetting the frying pan of Recovery, which sets fire to the house.

The New Deal fire brigade, with President Roosevelt at the wheel of a dilapidated fire engine, answers the alarm and does everything but put out the fire.

Included in the fire company's equipment are a set of alphabet blocks, a rubber yardstick with a two way stretch, a bass drum, and a deck of New Deal poker cards.

Shot by Fellow Watchman Who Tries to Invade Room

James Moran, 28 years old, 830 Wolfram street, a watchman employed by the Pinkerton watch service and assigned to the coin machine exhibit in the Hotel Sherman, was shot and slightly wounded in his right hand early yesterday by George McClure, 443 Arlington place, another watchman, whom Moran was keeping out of a private bar in a hotel room. McClure, who police said was intoxicated, was locked up in a detective bureau cell.

FORMER HOOVER AID COMES OUT FOR GOV. LANDON

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Sam R. McKelvie of Lincoln, former Nebraska governor and Hoover farm board member, announced today he would support Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the Republican presidential nomination.

"What we need now is a President who has just plain, everyday horse sense and claims no more," McKelvie said. "Gov. Landon is our neighbor. He made a record for economy in handling taxpayers' money."

Announcing his candidacy as a Landon delegate to the Republican national convention, McKelvie said "the issue in the next campaign is profligate public spending. As a result of that comes uncontroled burocracy, unbearable taxes, and destructive inflation or debt repudiation."

McKelvie, foe of the AAA before its invalidation, is author of a bounty plan for agricultural parity.

Enjoy the comfort of having prepared for winter– build good general resistance now

Because common winter ills have not bothered you so far this year, you may think that you're prepared for winter. Newer facts show, however, that January and February are peak months for these conditions. You may keep well early in the season, and still be affected.

Low general resistance is one reason. During the first spells of rigorous, winter weather, you draw constantly upon your physical reserve. By now, your general resistance may be low.

That's why it is so important to prepare ahead for the "peak illness season." Do all you can now to build good general resistance.

Increase of common ills during winter months. Chart from U.S. Public Health Dep't. figures

One effective means is offered by Adex. It is a source of natural Vitamin A, the vitamin which specifically helps to build up good general resistance. Adex also supplies Vitamin D, the factor you get from sunshine in summer, but probably need from some other source at this season.

HORNER WHETS AX TO GET EVEN WITH HIS FOES

Reprisals for Ditching Him Expected.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Reports that the headsman's blade is being sharpened at Springfield following the slating of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, head of the Chicago health board, as choice of the Illinois Democratic organization for governor, caused quaking yesterday among statehouse pay rollers. Reprisals were deemed in sight as Gov. Horner, torpedoed by the organization, prepared to bring his campaign for renomination up to Cook county.

Latest head to fall was that of a state highway policeman, Thomas J. Walsh of Herrin. At Springfield, Dan Sullivan, administration auditor, reported more than a score of employés had been dismissed for "inefficiency" in the last few days, although only a few names of casualties came to light.

Bundesen to Stay on Job.

Dr. Bundesen, it was announced at the city hall, will remain in his position of president of the board of health. Mayor Kelly said there was no reason for the doctor to resign as it would not be necessary for him to put on a campaign for the April primary. The organization will attend to that.

Hardly before the Democratic slate makers had returned to their homes the campaign was on. Bruce Campbell of Belleville, state chairman, who had been enrolled among the possibilities for the governorship choice, said he was "satisfied."

"The eight downstate members at the Chicago conference submitted my name as their unanimous choice," said Mr. Campbell. Eight Cook county members, who thought it best to oppose Gov. Horner with a Cook county man, were just as insistent upon Dr. Bundesen. After a deadlock of hours I had my name withdrawn. Dr. Bundesen will undoubtedly be nominated and will make a strong candidate in November."

Just Pantomime, Says Horner.

The opposite view was taken by Gov. Horner at Springfield.

"I think the meeting was a pantomime in which the leaders were called there to reflect Mayor Kelly's desires," said the governor. The Chicago slate was not a nomination, but an indorsement by one man—Kelly.

"I expect to win the Democratic nomination. I shall support the candidacies of John Martin for treasurer, Edward J. Hughes for secretary of state and Otto Kerner for attorney general." These three candidates were on the organization slate framed Sunday.

More bitter words came from Dan Sullivan, secretary of the state central committee and political adviser of the governor. He challenged the democracy of Dr. Bundesen and declared his candidacy "makes a Republican-Democratic fight out of a Democratic primary."

"The selection of a candidate who was first appointed to office by a Republican mayor of Chicago," Sullivan said, "shows how sincerely interested are the men, who are animated by hatred of Gov. Horner, in the success of the Democratic party. Is it possible that Dr. Bundesen was indorsed for the purpose of advancing the candidacy of Wayland Brooks, Chicago Republican?"

Bundesen Says He's Democrat.

At the city hall this brought an immediate response.

"I have always voted in the Democratic primaries and the Democratic ticket at elections," said Dr. Bundesen. "I have always been a Democrat.

"I first entered the health department in 1913, under Mayor Carter H. Harrison, five times Democratic mayor. When Dr. John Dill Robertson went to the school board, I was made commissioner by the Republican mayor. I retained that office under Mayor Dever, Democrat. After I became coroner, I was appointed again as head of the health service by Mayor Cermak and am still serving under Mayor Kelly, two Democrats as the world knows."

The Horner camp brought up the fact that in the mayoral battle of 1931, a movement was afoot to bring out Dr. Bundesen as an independent candidate, after the Democrats had nominated A. J. Cermak against a former Republican mayor in the primaries.

Dr. Bundesen's friends countered by citing that a week or so after the primaries Bundesen announced his decision not to become an independent candidate, and called the group which had been pushing him an "unauthorized committee." The Association of Commerce had made a public appeal asking him not to run.

"Dictatorship" to Be Cry.

In the Horner camp it was said the intention is to carry the fight into Chicago on the issue of "city hall dictatorship." The plowing under of Lieut. Gov. Thomas F. Donovan by the slatemakers is to be used by the Horner men as basis for a similar appeal downstate.

The Horner forces are still pointing to the large vote the governor polled in the last primary election, when he was organization choice, while other politicians are contemplating the huge vote which the organization can flop to or from a candidate in Cook county merely by designating its pick.

GOES ON TRIAL FOR BIGAMY

Called a "Nice Man"

Gardner Allison Stewart, 30 years old, 6213 University avenue, a truck driver who boasted he had 1,500 sweethearts when arrested on a bigamy charge Dec. 13, was described as a "cultured, refined, and nice man" by his second wife, Claire Hart Stewart, in his trial on bigamy charges before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in the Criminal court yesterday. Stewart is expected to take the stand in his own defense today.

Mrs. Claire Hart Stewart, 18 years old, 2656 East 73d street, said she married Stewart on Feb. 11, 1935, not knowing he was married. The state exhibited records to show that he had married Marie Rose Stewart, 26 years old, 4527 Justine street, in 1927, and that he had not been divorced. The first Mrs. Stewart was not permitted to testify because she is regarded legally as the defendant's wife. She told newspaper men she is ready to take back her husband.

Stewart is expected to testify today that his first wife said she would divorce him and that he believed she had done so.

PRIVATE SOCIAL AGENCIES URGED TO STAY ON JOB

Reynolds Commends Children's Aids.

BY KAY HALL.

The private social agency must not abdicate in favor of the tax supported and politically controled public agency, declared Wilfred S. Reynolds, director of the Council of Social Agencies and former director of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, at the 52d annual meeting of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society yesterday at the Hotel Sherman.

Similar views were expressed by Chauncey McCormick, president of the society, who asserted there was no evidence that social work could be done better by the government.

"The private agency is sensitive to local needs and it is not handicapped by legislative machinery," said Mr. Reynolds. "It experiments for the development of proper methods. Its practices become the standards for the public agency, which too often has workers without the qualifications required in the private agency. The civil service has not proved an adequate checkmate to adroit political selection of personnel."

Contributions to Technique.

As illustrations of the superior performance of the private agency, Mr. Reynolds cited the Home and Aid society's half century of pioneering in child placement and its development of the practice of caring for dependent children in foster homes rather than in institutions.

Mr. McCormick announced at the meeting a gift of $50,000 to the society by Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson in memory of her late husband, a former president of the organization. He said the income from the fund will be used for preventive care of the society's child wards.

In the last year the organization served 3,800 children, of whom 2,281 were cared for individually in the society's family homes and 1,474 were attended in their own homes, according to the report of Louis C. Sudler, secretary. In addition, 45 children were supervised for other welfare organiaztions. Expenditures for the year were $375,000.

Officials Report on Work.

Work of the society's Evanston receiving home at 826 Ridge avenue was discussed by Mrs. Edward P. Welles, past president of the North Shore Advisory board; the receiving home at Du Quoin was reported on by Mrs. George C. Wilson, cottage mother; the Mary Judy School for Girls at Potomac, also maintained by the society, by Miss Fay Corner, superintendent; the colored auxiliary by Mrs. Benjamin W. Sayre, the women's board by Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, the case committee by Mrs. Edward H. Brewer; the utilities committee by Lincoln T. Torrey, and the treasury by Bowman C. Lingle.

All officers were reëlected for the coming year. The following were elected to fill vacancies on the board: Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, Dr. Joseph Brennemann, Mrs. James R. Hume, Gordon Lang, Franklin J. Stransky of Savanna, Frederic F. Robinson and B. Harry Reck of Mendota.

28 Hijackers Convicted and Imprisoned in 1935

Twenty-eight hi-jackers of motor trucks in the Chicago area were convicted and imprisoned in 1935, according to a report made public yesterday by the cartage theft committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

FINEST YEAR YET FOR COMMUNITY TRUST REPORTED

At the annual meeting of the board of the Chicago Community Trust yesterday, Frank D. Loomis, secretary, reported the best year in the trust history. Disbursements for charitable purposes in 1935 totaled $140,780, an increase of 40 per cent over any recent year.

Gifts, amounting to $750,000, were received increasing the capital of the trust available for charitable purposes to $4,800,000. These gifts were derived principally from the Albert Wadsworth Harris general fund, the Samuel Hoffman Memorial trust, and the Dr. Norman Bridge bequest.

The largest single disbursement during the year was $36,820 for settlement and neighborhood work, and character building agencies, Mr. Loomis reported.

WATCHMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

John G. Mans, 56 years old, 1451 Wolfram street, a watchman for the Markrum company, 2800 Southport avenue, teletype manufacturers, was stricken with a heart attack in the office of the company yesterday and died on the way to the Alexian Brothers hospital.

HOUSE VOTES 2½ MILLIONS TO PAY RELIEF

Approval by Senate Seen for Tomorrow.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The Illinois house, voting 132 to 1, tonight approved the proposed appropriation of two and a half million dollars from the state general revenue fund to avert the closing of relief stations Jan. 15. The bill then was sent to the senate, where it is expected to be adopted Wednesday and to be immediately signed by Gov. Horner.

No serious obstacles were raised to adoption of the appropriation measure. F. W. Lewis [Dem., Robinson] contended that 2 million dollars would be sufficient, and cast the single negative vote. Others expressed some concern over the amount, but voted affirmatively.

Green Urges 10 Million.

"This amount will carry relief until Feb. 1," said Leroy M. Green of Rockford, Republican minority leader, "but what is to be done after that? We should appropriate 10 million dollars so we won't be kept in session all through the spring to vote additional sums.

"As for the plans other than appropriating from the general revenue fund, the localities certainly cannot carry the burden."

"What will happen to this amount," said Richard J. Lyons [Rep., Libertyville], "is that $1,850,000 will go to relief and $650,000 to the Illinois Emergency Relief payroll. They have about 5,000 persons on the administrative payroll now."

Representative Lewis also introduced a new bill on relief. This measure would abolish the IERC, and turn over to the governor, the lieutenant governor, and the speaker of the house one-half of all state sales tax receipts, to be distributed by them among the counties on the basis of need. Only one-third of the sales tax, or about two million dollars monthly, now goes to relief.

Propose State Lottery.

Another suggestion for raising relief funds was suggested in a bill introduced jointly by John M. Bolton and Raymond T. O'Keefe, both Chicago Democrats. They proposed a 100 million dollar lottery of which 75 millions would be given out as prizes, 20 millions go to relief, and five millions for expenses. A commission of eleven would direct the lottery, for which tickets would be sold at 10 cents each.

With the passage of the 2½ million dollars for relief as a precedent, the house went on to adopt three bills appropriating a total of $122,000 for the expenses of the second special session.

A reaction to the Democratic slate making in Chicago on Sunday was seen in an announcement by Representatives Nicholas L. Hubbard [Dem., Mt. Pulaski] and A. A. Brands [Dem., Prairie du Rocher] that they would ask the governor tomorrow to call a third special session for the passage of a permanent registration bill and the repeal of Chicago's home rule bill over utilities.

Two Boys Confess Firing Fatal Bullet During Play

Two boys confessed yesterday to the Willow Springs county highway police that the bullet which fatally injured Herman Heersma, 38 years old, 9328 South 54th avenue, Oak Lawn, on Dec. 24 came from a .22 caliber rifle they were firing at bottles. The boys are Eberhardt Hamer, 14 years old, 9326 South 54th avenue, Oak Lawn, and Theodore Rooda, 13 years old, 95th street and Harlem avenue, Oak Lawn. Heersma died Dec. 26 in the Little Company of Mary hospital.

SHOOTS HIS WIFE TO DEATH AFTER SHE SPURNS HIM

Mrs. Mary Grochowski, 43 years old, 1614 Superior street, was shot and killed in her home yesterday by her estranged husband, Stanley, who has been living at the Crown hotel, 1659 Division street, since his wife forced him to move six months ago. Grochowski fled after the shooting.

Their daughter, Jessie, 19 years old, said her father tried to persuade Mrs. Grochowski to take him back. She refused, and locked herself in a bedroom. Grochowski picked up a butcher knife, and forced open the door. His wife fled to the kitchen where he drew a revolver and shot her. She died later in the county hospital.

The Grochowskis have two other daughters, Mrs. Anthony Bydon, wife of a state highway policeman, and Mrs. Jean Jakovec, a probationary policeman.

IERC ALLOCATES $3,000,000 FOR JANUARY RELIEF

Uncovers $445,000 to Add to Expected Funds.

Having discovered $445,905 in the accounts of the various county relief units, the Illinois Emergency Relief commission allocated $3,074,725 to its county units yesterday to continue their operations from Jan. 16 through Jan. 31, in the expectation that this week the general assembly will make $2,500,000 available from the state treasury.

The $445,905 discovered, according to Chief Auditor Russell L. Peters, consists of unused December funds in the counties. He said that the difficulty of estimating relief needs accurately, due to the Works Progress administration program, made it advisable to withhold about 5 per cent of the scheduled December expenditures.

Closing Order Still Stands.

Still in force is an order issued last month that every relief station in the state close on the night of Jan. 15 unless additional funds be made available by that time, but yesterday's $445,000 discovery might prompt a change in this command. Moreover, legislative leaders have predicted enactment of the $2,500,000 appropriation by Wednesday night.

Leo M. Lyons, executive secretary of the IERC, denied a few days ago the existence of any financial "cushion" in the face of apparent exhaustion of IERC funds by Jan. 15. Yesterday officials commented that they had not expected so large an amount to accrue from the December holdback.

Included in the allocations is $160,884 for giving supplementary relief to WPA workers whose wages amount to less than their former relief budgets. Cook county is down for $112,285 of this supplementation, although the minimum wage scale here is $55 a month while downstate it is $45.

Stelle Demands Action.

The commission members struggled with new statistics presented in an effort to show the current and future effects of the WPA program on relief rolls. State Treasurer John Stelle, one member, criticized the IERC staf for delay in "washing out" of relief rolls those families assigned to WPA.

"I can't understand," Stelle exclaimed, "why the staf doesn't act faster in getting back to headquarters the names of those assigned to WPA who do not report for work on WPA projects. Why is there so long a lapse between WPA assignments and our knowing about it? It's the IERC's fault."

"No, it's WPA'S fault," retorted Executive Secretary Lyons. "However, in a few days we will start a complete check of all families to remove all those eligable for WPA jobs from the relief rolls. We will have accurate information on this complicated situation by Jan. 25."

Map Staf Curtailment.

The WPA executive staf met yesterday to arrange for compliance with a Washington order calling for simplification and curtailment of its personnel setup.

After the meeting it was reported that 35 per cent of the WPA administrative employés are to be dismissed. Deputy Administrator Ralph H. Burke declared that the proportion might be larger or smaller than this figure. WPA has close to 2,000 employés and its overhead runs about $350,000 for January.

DECIDE NOT TO TAKE CRIMINAL ACTION IN GIRL'S INJURY CASE

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 13.—(AP)—District Attorney Matthew Brady announced definitly today that his office would not initiate criminal proceedings against those responsible for the sterilization operation performed on Ann Cooper Hewitt, 21 year old heiress.

Miss Hewitt, who has sued her socially prominent mother and two physicians for $500,000, previously declined to sign a mayhem complaint. Brady said he would prosecute if she signed.

Brady also said he could see no reason for questioning Miss Hewitt, who charged that her mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt McCarter, duped her into the operation in a plot to deprive her of her inheritance.

"I know as much as Miss Hewitt does about the case without interviewing her," Brady declared.

REJECT MALCOLM MacDONALD IN SCOTTISH VOTE

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Ross and Cromarty [Scotland] Conservatives, tonight rejected the appeal of their leader, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, for support of Dominions Secretary Malcolm MacDonald in the forthcoming by-election for a seat in the house of commons.

Backing the youthful Randolph Churchill as Conservative candidate, the local association telegraphed the prime minister that "your action challenges the whole democratic structure of the Unionist party."

Churchill's offer to withdraw in favor of a government candidate acceptable to both the Conservatives and the Liberal National organization was turned down late today by the Liberals, who unanimously indorsed Malcolm MacDonald a week ago. Shortly afterward Baldwin sent a telegram assuring MacDonald of him own "whole-hearted support."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.
If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.
Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

ETHIOPIA HANGS 80 MUTINEERS, ITALIANS REPORT

Fascists Say 100 Others Were Flogged.

ROME, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Italian newspaper dispatches from Djibouti, French Somaliland, said tonight eighty mutineers of Ras Mulugheta's Ethiopian troops on the Tigrean front were hanged and 100 flogged. The Fascist reports said there was widespread disaffection in the Ethiopian ranks.

Ras Mulugheta is Ethiopia's minister of war and one of her ablest generals. He is commanding a huge army in the northern sector.

Invaders Stopped in South.

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Forces of nature have combined in throwing up an effective bulwark against an advance of Italy's southern army, an impartial European observer said today.

Returning from an airplane flight to that front, the observer said rains, the intense heat, lack of water, and malaria made a strong Italian offensive unlikely. Should the Italians successively cross the hot desert of the southeast, he added, a high barrier of mountains would then confront them.

He disclosed that Italian airplanes daily are bombing Ethiopian camps and villages to the west, but said the natives are fully prepared for the raids and that damage was negligible.

Six Killed by Bombs.

In an attack two weeks ago, however, on Negele, 190 miles northwest of Dolo, six persons were killed and forty wounded when fifteen planes dropped 500 bombs. A Swedish hospital unit in the same vicinity has been bombed four times recently.

Italian planes fly up the course of the Shibeli river and down the Ganale Doria daily between 7 a. m. and 9 a. m., the observer said.

The observer said Italian flyers are wasting thousands of dollars in bombs by dropping them on huge ant hills which they think are native huts. They are the same size and shape as the "tukuls" of the Ethiopians.

The foreigner was the guest while at the front of Ras Desta Demtu, son-in-law of Emperor Haile Selassie. He said most of Desta's warriors are concentrated in ravines in the vacinity of Malka Ladir, forty-five miles up the Ganale Doria from Dolo. Dolo is headquarters for the main forces of Gen. Rudolfo Graziani's Italian army.

Sneers at Peace Talk.

[Special to the London Daily Telegraph and the Chicago Tribune.]

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Jan. 13.—An eagerness to disclaim all knowledge of or interest in the peace plans which have been reported from abroad was the outstanding political features in the Italian capital tonight. The foreign office said it "knows nothing about them," and that they therefore can be dismissed as "pure invention, whether they emanate from Belgium, the Vatican, or elsewhere."

The Swedish minister again saw Fulvio Suvich, undersecretary of foreign affairs. Their conversation was devoted to the recent bombing of a Swedish Red Cross unit at Dolo oy Italian war planes. It was said no orders to avoid Red Cross units had been issued to the Italian air force as a result of the incident.

Further grants to meet the expense of the war were announced in a decree. The Official Gazette said a sum of $53,500,000 has been assigned toward extraordinary expenses in connection with the conflict. Most of the money will be spent by the war office. The admiralty will get some and the rest will be spent for the relief of dependents of soldiers serving in the war. This is the third grant of extraordinary funds since September. The first was for $205,000,000 and the second for $80,000,000. The total now reaches $338,500,000.

France Maps Colonial Defense.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Defense of France's African colony of Tunisia in the event of possible Italian attack was reported discussed by Marcel Peyrouton, governor general of colonies, in a call today on Navy Minister Francois Pietri. Peyrouton also is resident governor general of Tunisia, which borders on the Italian colony of Libya.

ITALY PLANS TO BUILD 'NEW SEA' IN DESERT OF EAST ETHIOPIA

ASSAB, Eritrea, Jan. 13.—(AP)—An Italian engineering commission arrived here today to complete plans for creation of a "new sea" which would admit ships directly to the eastern Aussa region of Ethiopia, where Francis M. Rickett and other promoters say there is oil.

The engineers expect to let the Red Sea and the Indian ocean flow into Danakilia's sunken "death valley," in some places 500 feet below sea level, and bring Eritrean ports 100 miles nearer the interior.

Surveying between Massaua and Assab, they plan to dig one canal to the north and one to the south, to maintain the level of the "new sea." They estimate the job will require two years and cost about $120,000,000. They expect that the flow of the Red sea and Indian ocean will widen the small, man-made canals sufficiently to admit ships to the interior waters.

The engineers hope to inundate a worthless territory 100 miles wide and 200 miles long, transforming a large desert area into fertile regions and lowering the temperature which is now often 145 degrees fahrenheit.

Philippines Army Born; First Unit Constabulary

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Philippine army became a reality today. Under the stringent new national defense act President Manuel Quezon issued a proclamation transferring the Philippine constabulary to the army. He ordered all male citizens in the islands who became 20 years of age during the current year to register by April 7 for military training. Those to be trained will be selected by lot.

Ubinas Volcano Erupts in Peru; Destroys Crops

LIMA, Peru, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A dispatch to the newspaper El Comercio said today the Ubinas volcano is actively erupting ashes, which are destroying crops in the surrounding countryside. Huge clouds of reddish smoke are visible nightly, the dispatch added, and inhabitants are in a panicky condition.

Canadian Destroyers Sail for Winter War Games

HALIFAX, N. S., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Canadian destroyers Champlain and Saguenay were to sail from Halifax today with 270 men aboard for five months' maneuvers in southern waters. They will meet the destroyers Skeena and Vancouver of the Pacific division off the West Indies for winter exercises.

PREMIER LAVAL DECIDES AGAINST NEW PEACE TALK

Seeks Cabinet Support of "Watchful Waiting."

PARIS, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Premier Pierre Laval, with the chamber of deputies reconvening tomorrow, is expected to seek the cabinet's approval of his policy of "watchful waiting" for the Italo-Ethiopian war to be settled at Geneva or on the battlefield.

Usually well informed circles reported that Laval considers a revival of peace negotiations at present to be out of the question after listening to the report of Vittorio Cerruti, Italian ambassador here, on his recent talk with Premier Mussolini.

Talks with U. S. Envoy.

Il Duce, it was reported, is insisting the league first wipe out its condemnation of Italy as an aggressor. Officials were convinced, however, that Mussolini will neither leave the league nor attack Britain.

Friends of Laval said he expected the forthcoming council session at Geneva to result in neither oil sanctions nor a new peace plan.

Laval discussed the American neutrality situation, it was reported, when Jesse I. Strauss, the American ambassador, called upon him late today. The premier also talked to Japanese and Belgian envoys on the Italo-Ethiopian situation.

Let Laval Keep Job.

Political maneuvers to dodge sharpshooting by Laval's enemies in the chamber also will be considered at the cabinet meeting tomorrow.

An immediate revival of critics' attacks is regarded as unlikely in chamber lobbies, where the tendency is to let Laval stay in the saddle until the general elections in May rather than shoulder his job of keeping war away from France's frontiers while averting an upset in the country's finances, which might bring devaluation of the franc.

PERSIA TO PUT TAX ON BACHELORS TO PROTECT MAIDENS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TEHERAN, Iran [Persia], Jan. 13.—The Iranian government has drafted a law providing for a tax on bachelors as a means not only of increasing the population, but also of protecting the large number of unmarried girls. The measure soon will be presented to the majlis [general assembly].

High taxation and the higher prices resulting from the government's trade monopoly in sugar and cotton, woolen and silk cloth, has prevented many young men from marrying. It is proposed to make the tax effective when a bachelor becomes 25 years of age. The legal marriage age for men now is 18.

However, it is feared many bachelors will prefer the tax to the much heavier expense of keeping even one wife, particularly since women are now discarding their traditional veils. As a result of the new custom, the women are wearing more expensive clothing when they appear in public.

U. S. Military Aid in Rome to View War in Ethiopia

ROME, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Maj. Norman E. Fisk, assistant American military attaché here, and other military observers from nonsanctionist Austria, Hungary, and Japan will leave soon for Ethiopia, it was announced today. Premier Mussolini promised the observers ample facilities to see what is going on in the battle zone.

BRITAIN TO PRESS A MORE RIGID ITALIAN BOYCOTT

Eden Urges Sanctions Be Extended.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The extension of sanctions in order to force an early conclusion of Italy's war against Ethiopia will be urged upon the British cabinet by Capt. Anthony Eden, foreign minister, as the best policy to be pursued before the league of nations next week, according to reports in diplomatic circles today. The cabinet meets Wednesday. At that time the government will discuss the application of an oil embargo against Italy and the possibility of the Italians considering this an act of war and attacking the British fleet.

The British believe now that conciliation will be the eventual method of bringing about peace, although more pressure from the league may be necessary first.

Hint Duce Seeks Peace.

It was indicated that Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin's cabinet under Eden's pressure will revert to its pre-election promises of making full support of the league, and "collective security" through it, the keystone of British policy.

This intimation that British policy against Italy will be stiffened comes at a moment, however, when talk of peace is being quite generally circulated even in England. The British press tonight proclaimed that Mussolini is ready for any peace offer that will save his face and extricate his armies from the mess in Ethiopia.

According to widely published information, Il Duce has hinted he would welcome a visit of a league commission to East Africa in the hope that such a commission would be an agency for peace negotiations thereafter. Such a commission would correspond, it was pointed out, to the commission which went to China under Lord Lytton in 1932 in connection with the Chinese-Japanese dispute.

British "Playing Along."

The British seem anxious in any case to give the impression they are playing along with the real initiative coming from Belgium and France.

Coincident with the departure of the battleship Nelson and other war vessels from Portsmouth this morning for a "spring cruise" in southern waters, chiefs of the defense departments and permanent officials met with other members of the cabinet.

Among those present were the three defense ministers, Viscount Monsell, first lord of the admiralty; A. Duff-Cooper, secretary for war; Lord Swinton, secretary for air, and Sir Erne M. Chatfield, first sea lord, and Sir Edward L. Ellington, chief of the air staf.

Defense Measures Considered.

The defense problems considered at the meeting were supposedly concerned with the situation in Mediterranean and military coöperation with the French in case of an attack by Mussolini. According to well informed sources it was said this cooperation between the French and British would consist of three steps.

1. The British are to have the use of the French naval bases, docks and workshops.
2. The French army is to call up at least two annual contingents of conscripts.
3. The signaling forces of the French air force are to be placed at the disposal of the British air ministry.

CLAIMS 1,700 ITALIAN WAR DESERTERS FLED INTO AUSTRIAN TYROL

INNSBRUCK, Austria, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Dr. Edward Reut-Nicolussi, president of the Patriotic Andraes Hofer society, said today that since the beginning of the Ethiopian war 1,700 deserters from the Italian army have made their way into the Austrian Tyrol. This figure was confirmed by the Tyrol director of security.

[The Austrian foreign office in Vienna, however, issued an official statement saying: "Deserters who so far have entered Austria number about 300. Reports published in England that they range into the thousands are fantastic"].

Reut-Nicolussi, who is a lecturer at Innsbruck university, added: "On a basis of the numbers coming to the Austrian Tyrol it might be assumed the total of deserters who have crossed all Italian frontiers have reached 10,000. But that figure is pure speculation."

Of the 1,700 who, he contends, have entered Austria, most have gone on to Germany and only a few remain in the Tyrol.

Patricia Wing Will Fight Husband's Divorce Action

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—First intimation of a marital break for Patricia Wing, retired actress and sister of Toby Wing, was when her attorney today announced her decision to fight a divorce action brought in Bakersfield by W. H. Perry, young, wealthy and socially prominent landowner, to whom she was wed in 1933 in New York. The Wing sisters are daughters of Capt. Paul Wing, United States army, retired.

DUTCH BAN TALK OF BRITISH PEER ON ITALIAN RAID

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The government refused to allow Lord Robert Cecil of England to address a meeting of the Netherlands Ethiopia committee tonight on the subject of the Italian bombardment of a Swedish ambulance.

Since this question is before Geneva, an official explained, the government does not desire political statements on the subject. The newspaper Telegraf said the move "painfully impressed" many circles.

Lord Cecil in a recent speech demanded that the league of nations sever all connections with Italy in order to end the war.

8 Children and Mother Die in Fire; Father Saved

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Eight children and their mother, Mrs. Sarah Alice Tyrer, 40, perished today when fire destroyed their miner's cottage at Tyldesley, Lancashire. Adam Tyrer, the father, was the only survivor.

REVEAL JAPANESE PLAN TO RESTORE CHINESE EMPIRE

Move to Put Pu-Yi on Peiping Throne.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TIENTSIN, China, Jan. 13.—Speeding up of autonomous government until complete independence is won from Nanking, and following with restoration of Henry Pu-Yi [now Emperor Kang Teh of Manchukuo] to the ancient dragon throne in Peiping, constitutes the fundamental attitude and policy of the Japanese army in China, it appeared today.

Publication at Peiping of a new Japanese magazine "Caravan" with an article captioned "Pu-Yi, Emperor of All China," introduced the subject of a Manchu restoration.

It was undoubtedly inspired by high officers of the Kwantung army [Japanese continental] who are now conferring with Chinese officials here.

The article declared the Hopei-Chahar political council is only a stop-gap and "North China's destiny of unity, stability and permanency points to the restoration of the Manchu empire."

See Restoration March.

The article mentioned March 1, which is Pu-Yi's lucky date, as a fitting time for his restoration. This corresponds with the anniversary of the creation of the Japanese puppet state of Manchukuo as well as with his receiving the crown as empepor.

"Pu-Yi has the unqualified support of Japan, most powerful Asiatic state since Genghis Khan's state, with an unbroken record of success," the article declared.

"The autonomous movement [in North China] is in reality an expression of the steady underground development for a restoration of China to kingly rule," the piece continues. "When an autonomous North China is referred to we may assume beyond doubt a new imperial China is meant because powerful Japanese elements are active in supporting and encouraging the movement. The Japanese, from experiences since the creation of the republic in 1911, are convinced that the republic meant disintegration and the evasion of responsibility.

"Now Japan wants a strong stable government and the only possibility rests on a monarchy with Pu-Yi or his brother for bringing order into the chaotic agglomeration south of the great wall."

Discredit Republicanism.

Of special interest to the United States was the declaration: "Republicanism is discredited not only in China but everywhere in the world, as evidenced by the fact that royal England climbed back to normalcy while France and the United States still are lagging behind.

"While republican China was rolling downhill, Germany and Italy gave example of magnificent recovery under systems of personal leadership and national unity."

The article on the restoration of Pu-Yi deeply stirred the foreign embassies in Peiping, where it is generally admitted an attempt at restoration of the throne is the logical outcome of the present muddled situation.

It was reported that Gen. Yoshiyuki Kawashima, minister of war, shortly will announce to the diet that Japan now is in open support of the independence of North China. The high Kwantung army officers meeting in Tientsin are said to have prevailed over the more moderate army elements in Tokio.

Warns Peiping Leader.

Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, vice chief of staf of the Kwantung army, following a conference with Gen. Han Fu-chu, war lord of Shantung province, in which the latter was urged to cast his lot with the independent North China, flew in a Japanese military plane directly to Peiping where he conferred for four hours with Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan, chairman of the Hopei-Chahar political council. Gen. Itagaki told Sung the Japanese army's support of Sung's régime will be increased in direct proportion to the completeness with which Sung severs relations with the government at Nanking.

As a result of the Tientsin Chinese-Japanese military conferences, two previously discredited Chinese generals were restored to high posts. They are Gen. Shih Yu-san, once designated as a bandit and rebel, who was made chief of the new peace preservation corps at Peiping and Tientsin, and Gen. Sun Tien-ying who rebelled against Dictator Chiang Kai-shek. Sun was appointed to an unrevealed high post.

Peiping authorities today seized eight cases of stamp plates belonging to the bureau of printing and engraving which the Nanking finance ministry attempted to ship from Peiping to Nanking.

3 UKRAINIANS SENTENCED TO DIE SPARED BY POLES

Doomed Assassins Are Given Life.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Jan. 13.—Found guilty of complicity in the assassination of Minister of Interior Bromislaw Pieracki on June 15, 1934, and of terrorist activities supported by funds from Ukrainian sympathizers in the United States and from the Lithuanian government, twelve youthful Ukrainians were sentenced to long terms in prison by the Warsaw district court today.

Stefan Bandera, a student at Lwow university; Nicolas Lebed, a graduate, and Jaroslav Karpynec, a student at Cracow university, were sentenced to death, but they will not be hanged. Their sentences were communted to life imprisonment under a recent amnesty law.

Two other prisoners were sentenced to life imprisonment, one to fifteen years, three to twelve years, two to eight, and another to seven years in prison at hard labor.

Shout "Glory to the Ukraine."

When the death sentences were pronounced the defendants attempted to create a disturbance. Police officers carried the three who were sentenced to death from the courtroom, while the youths shouted "Slava Ukrainia—Glory to the Ukraine."

Mary Hnitiaska, one of the defendants, threw a kiss to her sweetheart, Lebed, as he was being carried out. A few moments later she was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. Katherine Zarycka, a student, was sentenced to eight years.

The court also fined M. Slapiak, one of the defendants' attorneys, $60. He was reproved for using the defense plea to make a political harangue.

Warsaw newspapers published extra editions announcing the verdict. The sentences were called unexpectedly severe.

Amnesty Pleases Ukrainians.

The inclusion of the Ukrainian terrorists in the amnesty law was welcomed by the Ukrainian leaders who are coöperating with the Polish government after opposing its policies for many years. Damaging evidence which was introduced in court against the defendants apparently lost for them what little sympathy they had from their countrymen.

Minister of Interior Pieracki was killed as he entered a government club. The prosecution declared the actual murder was committed by Grzegorz Maciejko, who escaped to Czechoslovakia. Pieracki was a champion of coöperation between Poland and the Ukrainian minority.

The indictment against the Ukrainians formally accused the Lithuanian government of giving funds and false passports to the Ukrainian terrorist organization and of aiding its members to secure visas for entrance into the United States.

Premier Juozas Tubelis of Lithuania was also charged in the indictment with using secret funds to subsidize the Ukrainian and anti-Polish organization. The indictment also charged that the Ukrainians coöperated with the Croat terrorist organization Ustasha.

New Entente Formed; Four Nations Will Sign Pact

ISTANBUL, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Reliable reports stated today the foreign ministers of Turkey, Iraq, Afghanistan, and Iran [Persia] plan to meet soon, probably at Bagdad, to sign a non-aggression pact recently broached at Geneva.

30,000 Already Tested

The Chicago Tuberculosis institute began yesterday at Bowen High school the first of a series of free tubercular tests of Chicago High school pupils. Bowen has 2,500 students who will undergo the tests in the next few days. The institute has tested 30,000 students in the last three years, finding that 33 per cent of them showed signs of the disease. The tests, known as the Mantoux skin tests, are being given by Dr. Julius B. Novak and Dr. Albert L. De Guevara of the institute staf.

GERMANY FIGHTS DEMILITARIZED ZONE ON BORDER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—Diplomatic circles have learned Germany plans to demand explanations from England and France on their new military agreement. Germany holds that as a signatory to the Locarno treaty she is entitled to be informed on military agreements of the other partners of the Locarno pact.

Germany feels the Versailles treaty provisions for a demilitarized zone on the western border "are a thorn in the flesh of a proud nation" and a dishonoring discrimination. She will atiempt to compel England and France to drop these last military restrictions and hopes that, being engrossed in negotiations with the Italians and the Ethiopians, France and England will make concessions to Germany.

A systematic campaign has been started in most of the middle sized papers in Germany demanding removal of the restrictions on the demilitarized zone and asserting that the Versailles treaty has not been wiped out until the wrong done to the Germans in the Eupen, Malmedy [Belgium], and Memel [Lithuania] districts are canceled.

JAPANESE CLAIM NAVAL PARLEY DIES TOMORROW

Tokio's Delegates Ready to Bolt Conference.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—[Tuesday]—(AP)—Authoritative Japanese sources predicted early today the doom of the five-power naval conference, saying the Japanese delegation will quietly withdraw from the conference after a session Wednesday.

The Japanese were declared to be preparing a formal note explaining the Tokio government considered a continuation of their presence useless in view of "apparently unbridgeable differences of opinion." The note will be presented to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden after its final drafting, these sources said.

Japs to Stay as Observers.

The Japanese, however, will leave observers for the remainder of sessions if the four other powers, United States, Great Britain, France and Italy, decide to continue.

A comprehensive statement of the Japanese position in demanding a common upper limit for fleet strength will be laid before the conference Wednesday, it was further asserted, when comment will be asked from the others.

The Japanese, fully realizing the "certainty" of a united front opposition, it was said, will bow themselves out from the conference when the other powers state their opposition. The Japanese delegates, Admiral Osumi Nagano and Matsuzo Nagai, will deliberately avoid a dramatic walkout, simply "failing to return," it was said.

Mikado Approves Stand.

It was understood that the Japanese action was determined when a two hour conference between Japanese and British officials revealed an impossibility of harmonizing divergent views. Emperor Hirohito in Tokio approved the instructions for withdrawal in view of the "realities of the situation," authoritative reports said.

Through adopting a policy of non-coöperation without a formal withdrawal, it was said, the Japanese hoped to avert the world's censure for responsibility of a breakdown in the naval conference and impress the powers with the earnestness of their insistance upon equality in sea power. Some informed sources asserted that the move was a subtle maneuver for "home consumption."

A meeting scheduled for today was delayed on the plea the Japanese had not yet received fresh orders on what to do about Japan's fight for naval equality.

STUDENT'S DEATH MARKS CLOSE OF TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Lawrence Lampe, 22 years old, 937 North Austin boulevard, a student of radio engineering who was shot three times on Dec. 5, died of his wounds yesterday in the Illinois Central hospital where his father, Dr. Henry Lampe, is an assistant surgeon.

Young Lampe was in the room of Mrs. Grace West, 27 years old, at the Belmar hotel, 711 Belmont avenue, when Joseph Downey, 27 years old, 63 West Schiller street, burst in. Downey shot and killed Mrs. West, shot Lampe, and then killed himself.

Nazis Rechristen Saar Town Named for French Conqueror

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—While all public buildings throughout Germany were decorated with flags today in honor of the first anniversary of the Saar's return to the reich, the celebrations were climaxed in Saarlouis. There Wilhelm Frick, home minister, ceremoniously rechristened the town with "an old German name, Saarlautern." Thousands of Saarlanders, Storm Troopers, Labor Service men, and Hitler Youths attend the celebration.

Referring to the day when Louis XIV. of France conquered the Saar district, Frick declared:

"An old injustice today has been redressed. The name of Saarlouis dates back to the most shameful days in German history. In the midst of peace German territory was robbed and a foreign name forced upon a German town. In vain the inhabitants begged to retain the old name, Saarlautern."

Addresses Hitler Youth.

Frick also addressed Hitler Youths of the Saar and declared: "We must insist on absolute totalitarian rights for Hitler Youths. In the new state youth will be called upon to make boys and girls into good citizens of the Nazi state. Nobody in the future may become an official unless he has been trained in Hitler Youth."

The fact that this statement was made in the stronghold of Catholicism in the Saar adds to its importance, since the church has been insisting that its right to unite its children into Catholic associations was guaranteed in the concordat. The Catholic church considers Frick's statement as a gross violation of the promises given, and the Vatican is planning new steps to remind the German government of the pledges made in the concordat.

To help the Saar become Nazified to the bone, Bernhard Rust, Nazi minister of culture, has founded a teachers' academy in Saarbruecken. According to Nazis, the academy is to be "a vital center of German cultural life and to embody the spirit of the new Germany on the extreme borders of the country."

Hurt in Bus Crash.

NEUNKIRCHEN, Germany, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Celebrations of the first anniversary of the Saar's return to the reich were marred today when a large bus crashed into a building, injuring 19 persons, seven of them seriously.

GERMANY EXPELS ERNST POPPER, CZECH WRITER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—Ernst Popper, correspondent of the Prager Tagblatt and former employé of the German Ullstein concern, today was ordered to leave Germany by Saturday. Popper, a Jew, was arrested two years ago by the GSP [secret police] and his arrest was kept secret for a week until his paper queried the Czech minister in Berlin. The minister today called on Foreign Minister Van Neurath to intercede for Popper.

Popper is the twelfth member of the Association of Foreign Press Correspondents to be expelled from Germany. The association usually numbered 113 members. The expulsions do not include newspapermen and writers who do not belong to the association, such as Dorothy Thompson, wife of Sinclair Lewis the novelist.

The Nazis, in announcing the expulsion order, adopted an educational tone, saying:

"His [Popper's] expulsion was necessary because the manner of his reporting represented a constant burden for the numerous other foreign newspapermen who attempted to report in a matter of fact, fair manner. His misleading articles harmed the interests of the reich and poisoned the international atmosphere."

STATE TO TEST COURT SLAYER'S SANITY IN TRIAL

John W. Keogh to Face Murder Charge.

killing of Kinney was his statement that he expects an opportunity, in case he is convicted of murder, to renew his reapportionment fight through an attack in the federal courts on the Illinois Supreme court as an "illegally constituted" tribunal.

Dr. Gerty's examination also showed the extent to which Keogh had fallen victim to paranoia. This type of insanity, according to alienists, may take varying forms, but obsession on a single subject is a frequent symptom. The victim at the same time may retain a normal viewpoint on matters not connected with his obsession.

The paranoiac may proceed for some time to accomplish an end by orderly methods, as Keogh attempted through various legal proceedings to enforce reapportionment.

In the end, however, the obsession often becomes so great, psychiatrists explained, that the victim loses all sense of social values and will kill without compunction, either to remove a person who he believes stands in the way of his all important cause, or merely to attract attention to that cause.

Income Tax Battle Recalled.

In 1931 Keogh refused to pay his income tax. He carried to the United States Supreme court the unsuccessful contention that the federal government was barred from collecting taxes because of failure to enforce the constitutional provision for a republican form of government in Illinois, which, he asserted, was violated by failure to reapportion.

On one occasion while the income tax case was in the courts Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson reprimanded Keogh severely when the latter said during an argument that the justices of the Illinois Supreme court "ought to be hanged."

Two years ago Keogh sought to prevent Illinois congressmen from taking their seats in congress, using similar arguments. He raised the same legal points in the case which was before Judge Prystalski yesterday.

Issue Before the Court.

This case grew out of the foreclosure by the New England Mutual Life Insurance company of a mortgage which Keogh had placed on the building at the southeast corner of Michigan avenue and Ohio street. The insurance company obtained possession of the building in 1934, and last February got a deficiency judgment for $25,000 against Keogh.

In its attempt to collect the judgment the company sought to set aside a trust fund which Keogh had set up on the land he owns which underlies the London Guaranty and Accident building at Michigan avenue and Wacker drive.

Yesterday Keogh, who has acted as his own attorney in all his actions, although he is not a member of the bar, appeared before Judge Prystalski with a motion to dismiss the action against the trust fund.

He argued at length on his motion, citing principally his arguments based on failure to reapportion legislative districts, which he claimed renders the Illinois Supreme court an invalid body. Judge Prystalski sought to interrupt him several times to announce his ruling, and finally succeeded, overruling Keogh's motion. Keogh kept on talking.

Story of the Shooting.

"Mr. Sheriff," called the judge, seeking a bailif to remove Keogh from the bar.

At those words Keogh jerked out his pistol. It was a .25 caliber automatic. Attorney Kinney, who was counsel for the insurance company in the case being heard, was standing at Keogh's left. Keogh pressed the pistol against Kinney's body and fired his first shot. The lawyer fell, fatally wounded.

Keigh swung his gun toward the judge. But Judge Prystalski, forewarned, had dropped to the floor behind his bench. Keogh's second shot hit the chair the judge had just vacated. Two more bullets struck the woodwork of the bench as lawyers and spectators surged against Keogh.

"I peeked over the bench once," said Judge Prystalski later, "and 'Bang' came another shot, so I ducked again."

Attorney Jacob Legion Tenny struck the first blow at the killer. A heavy signet ring which he wore raked a long wound on Keogh's scalp and cheek.

Then John W. Ryan, a special deputy sherif, and Attorney Stanislaus E. Basinski, 1615 West 51st street, got their hands on the man. They wrested away his weapon and handed it to Judge Prystalski.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the city board of health, was called from his office in the city hall and pronounced Kinney dead. Keogh was locked up in the sherif's office, where Dr. Gerty questioned him during the afternoon. Later he was taken to the detective bureau.

There special precautions were taken against a possible suicide attempt. Keogh was deprived of his belt and necktie and a guard was detailed to his cell.

Keogh, it was learned, lives at the Wellington Arms hotel, 2970 Sheridan road, but has been getting his mail at the Chicago Athletic association, of which he had been a member since 1892. His wife died some years ago. He has one daughter, Mrs. Ruth Dickinson of Covina, Cal.

For many years Keogh has had an independent income from near north side real estate. He inherited the property, he said, from his father, William H. Keogh, who invested his savings as chief clerk of a steamship company in the properties many years ago, before the opening of Michigan avenue shot their values upward.

Kinney, the slain attorney, lived at 2223 Farwell avenue. His widow, Mrs. Jean Kinney, lives in Socorro, N. M., where she is a matron at the New Mexico School of Mines. There are two children, Mrs. Lester Brown of Las Cruces, N. M., and C. Gordon Kinney, a law student in Washington, D. C.

Attorney Kinney enlisted in the regular army in his youth and served two enlistments in the Philippines.

He left the army in 1910 and practiced law in St. Paul until the world war, when he reëntered the army and was stationed in Chicago as a major in the quartermaster corps. He became an expert on real estate law, and was employed by the Chicago Title and Trust company until 1924, when he joined the law firm of Judah, Reichmann, Trumbuss, Cox & Stern.

Keogh a Figure on Cape Cod.

Harwichport, Mass., Jan. 13.—(AP)—For the last 15 years John W. Keogh, who killed an attorney in a Chicago courtroom today, has been a familiar figure in this Cape Cod town.

He lived aloof in his fine summer home and he has been seen on the streets in mid-summer clad in a skiing costume, with spats. He has appeared as his own attorney in the Harwichport District court and in the county courthouse in Barnstable.

Last October he fought a $30 plumbing bill in court on the ground of a 50 cent overcharge.

When the jury retired to deliberate, Keogh requested the judge to direct a verdict against him, saying he would appeal the case to the Supreme court. His request was granted and the appeal still is pending.

THREE FACING PRISON IN 'MASSACRE' CASE PLEAD FOR FREEDOM

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Three persons facing two year prison terms and $10,000 fines for conviction of conspiracy in the Kansas City Union station massacre today asked the Supreme court to free them.

The appeal was filed for Richard T. Galatas, Herbert A. Farmer, and Frank B. Mulloy. The three appealed from a ruling by the Eighth District Court of Appeals last Nov. 18 which affirmed the conviction and the sentence imposed by the federal district court of western Missouri.

Four officers and Frank Nash, escaped convict who had been recaptured, died in the Union station massacre when friends of Nash used machine guns in an attempt to free him.

The high court appeal contended the conspiracy indictment against Galatas, Farmer, and Mulloy was faulty and the evidence on which they were convicted insufficient.

MONTREAL BARES RING SMUGGLING ALCOHOL BY AIR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 13.—Aided by good flying weather, American bootleggers during the last few weeks have brought thousands of gallons of alcohol into Montreal by plane, Chief D. P. Fitzgibbon of the Quebec liquor police revealed today.

"But I think we've got them on the run now," he added.

The chief's surmise came on the heels of two sweeping seizures over the week-end which netted police three prisoners and almost 2,000 gallons of alcohol.

WOMAN DIES OF BULLET WOUND.

Miss Fanny Wabrick, colored, 45 years old, 328 East 28th street, died in the county hospital yesterday from a bullet wound inflicted on Nov. 30. The police are seeking Ki Barney, also colored, as her assailant.

BEGIN CONTEMPT TRIAL OF 18 FOR STRIKE VIOLENCE

Factory Officials Testify Against Union Men.

A hearing on contempt citations against Charles White, president of the Metal Polishers and Buffers union, local No. 140, and 17 other members of the union, began yesterday before Judge Edward D. Shurtleff in the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan. The defendants are charged with violating an injunction restraining them from molesting employés of the Oakes Products company in North Chicago, where 92 members of the union have been out on strike since Dec. 11.

The injunction was issued on Dec. 18 by Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady of Lake county. The 18 defendants were cited last Tuesday to show why they should not be held in contempt for violating the order. They asked a change of venue and the case was assigned to Judge Shurtleff, of McHenry county, to be heard at Waukegan.

Company Officials Testify.

Officials of the Oakes Products company, which manufactures automobile and radio parts, testified yesterday to the acts of violence alleged to have been committed by the union men. The witnesses asserted that other employés of the plant had been intimidated and homes in the vicinity of the factory on Marquette avenue near 2d street in North Chicago had been damaged by bricks thrown by the strikers.

Several witnesses testified that a truck driver for the plant was kidnaped by the strikers. Others said the strikers had been violating the injunction order by picketing the plant in groups of more than two.

The defense will introduce its evidence today. Attorneys for the union men contend that their clients had no connection with the alleged violations of the injunction.

Carry On Bomb Inquiry.

Meanwhile detectives for the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad continued to investigate the dynamiting of a section of track south of Mundelein early Saturday. The detectives asserted that the bombing is part of the violence which has marked the strike at the Oakes plant. The company uses the railroad exclusively for shipment and receipt of merchandise.

Two men were held yesterday by the Shakespeare avenue police for questioning about the dynamiting. They are Frank Cox, 25 years old, of North Chicago, a member of the Polishers' union, and Paul Odom, 23 years old, of Libertyville.

They were arrested last Thursday—two days before the bombing—by Sergt. Edward J. McBride after a truck driver for the Oakes company said they were following him in their automobile. Lengths of fuse, such as are used in dynamite bombs, were found in the car.

Clash Over New Machines.

The strike was called at the Oakes plant because the union men objected to the installation of new polishing machines which replaced union members with unskilled labor. At one time more than 400 of the 600 employés of the plant were on strike but all except the 92 union men have now returned to work.

The driver of a truck carrying a shipment to the plant from Cleveland refused last night to deliver the load. Although North Chicago police offered him protection, the driver said he would not attempt to go through the picket line. He turned around and started back to Cleveland.

Grandson of Bryan Gets First Film Assignment

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 13.—(AP)—John Bryan, grandson of William Jennings Bryan, was assigned his first film rôle today—Friar John in "Romeo and Juliet." Bryan is the son of Ruth Bryan Owen, United States ambassador to Denmark.

1ST SON BORN TO COL. GOWENLOCK, WORLD WAR HERO

Soldier to Write Story of Military Experiences.

A son was born to Col. and Mrs. Thomas R. Gowenlock of the Ambassador hotel at St. Luke's hospital last night.

Mrs. Gowenlock is the former Miss Marjorie Gird and is an active and popular member of Chicago society. The couple was married in 1923 and the child is the first born to them.

Col. Gowenlock was a notable figure in the world war, serving first as an infantry line officer and later becoming intelligence chief of the First division. In the St. Mihiel, Meuse and Argonne campaigns he displayed such courage and military ability that he was cited several times and granted the French croix de guerre with palm and the distinguished service medal.

The French Citation.

"This officer displayed great military knowledge," stated the French citation, written by Marshal Petain, which accompanied the first decoration. "Often volunteered to instruct and lead patrols; worked without thought of self to obtain military information, and contributed greatly to the success of the division."

He was also singled out for special mention by Maj. Gen. C. P. Summerall and Maj. Gen. Frank Parker.

Writes His Experiences.

After the war Col. Gowenlock returned to Chicago and devoted himself to the advertising business, but continued his military interests as a member of the National Guard. In 1928 he was appointed chief of staf of the 33d division, a position he held until 1931, when he resigned.

For years friends of the colonel have urged him to write some of his interesting experiences in actual warfare. This he has done, and an article on the way in which military information is gathered at the front will appear soon under his signature in the Graphic section of THE TRIBUNE.

HURT IN FALL FROM WINDOW.

NEW SUIT IS BROUGHT BY EX-SON-IN-LAW AGAINST J. F. CANNON

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Joseph F. Cannon, Concord capitalist, today was served with a summons in a projected new civil action by F. Brandon Smith Jr., his former son-in-law, a few hours after abandoning a motion for a new trial of Smith's $250,000 "heart balm" suit.

The summons served notice upon Cannon that Smith would sue for the return of a $7,000 note and for $4,000 which the 20 year old real estate operator said represented the total of outstanding obligations incurred during his marriage with Cannon's daughter, Anne, and which he said Cannon had made a verbal agreement to pay.

TRAFIC CONTROL PLAN OFFERED FOR WEST SIDE

Synchronized Signals for All Major Streets.

A plan for a comprehensive trafic control system for all major streets between Canal street and Austin boulevard and North avenue and Roosevelt road was offered yesterday by the Association of Commerce to Mayor Kelly and Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district.

The proposal calls for the use of progressive trafic control lights which would permit an average speed of 30 miles an hour the length of the thoroughfares. This would eliminate congestion and reduce accidents, the association declared.

Oppose One Way Proposal.

The progressive control system is not offered as a substitute for a plan to make Jackson boulevard and Monroe street one way thoroughfares, now before the city council, although the association is opposed to the one way street plan. It would, however, solve the west side trafic problem on a comprehensive scale and should eliminate the need for the one way street program, according to the association's trafic committee.

The west side trafic control plan calls for the synchronization of 225 trafic lights now installed on 120 miles of streets in the area. Cables would be laid to bring these signals, now independently controled, under a single master control in each street. Thus, for example, a car in Jackson boulevard could proceed from Canal street to Austin avenue at a speed of 30 miles an hour without making a stop for a trafic signal. The cost is estimated at $150,000.

List of Streets Affected.

The streets which now have independent trafic controls at their various intersections and can thus be brought into the unified system at little expense follow:

EAST AND WEST STREETS—North avenue, Grand avenue, Division street, Augusta boulevard, Chicago avenue, Lake street, Washington boulevard, Warren boulevard, Madison street, Van Buren street, Harrison street, and Roosevelt road.

NORTH AND SOUTH STREETS—Canal and Halsted streets, Ashland boulevard, Damen and Western avenues, Sacramento boulevard, Kedzie, Homan, and Hamlin avenues, Independence boulevard, Pulaski road, Cicero avenue, Central avenue, and Austin boulevard.

Ogden avenue, running southwest, and a section of Blue Island avenue, would also be included.

"The territory covered, although comprising only 10 per cent of the city's area, accounts for about 20 per cent of the city's accidents," the association said. "It lacks improved trafic facilities, such as the Outer drive, which serves the north and south sides. Because of these two conditions, it is the stand of the Association of Commerce that this step should be undertaken to improve trafic movement in the area."

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that he will submit the association's plan to Leslie E. Sorenson, city trafic engineer, for study. "It is an inexpensive plan that should solve the west side trafic problem," he said. "Such a solution is vitally necessary, and we will give the proposal every consideration."

RESUME WORK ON OUTER DRIVE BRIDGE TODAY

Construction work on the outer drive bridge will be resumed today after a delay of several years due to lack of funds, Robert J. Dunham, president of the park district, announced yesterday. Brief ceremonies, to be attended by city and park officials, will be held at Field boulevard and Randolph street before the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company begins placing caissons for the Field boulevard and Wacker drive extensions.

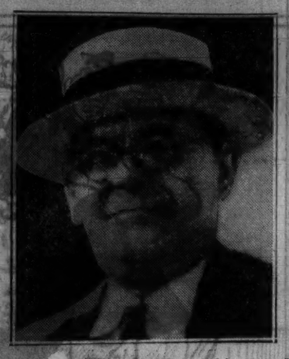
Workmen are now finishing construction on the dock under the Wacker drive extension, to make way for the new approaches.

The park district expects to start work on the Randolph street extension project as soon as final plans have been approved by the federal Public Works administration, according to Mr. Dunham. Plans for the steel work will be completed within another month, he said, and concrete work plans are to be ready this summer.

GET $700 IN TWO HOLDUPS.

Four colored men yesterday obtained $700 in robberies of a Consumers Coal company office at 238 North California avenue and the Alamac hotel, 1938 Jackson boulevard. One of the gunmen struck Adolph Hellman, manager of the hotel, with a revolver, knocking him unconscious.

Father and Son Shot in Holdup



James Petrowski and his son, Edward, both shot last night during holdup of clothing store at 3312 South Halsted street. The bandits fired when the son tried to resist as they demanded cash.

ROUND UP 4 MEN AND 5 WOMEN AS BOGUS BILL RING

Federal secret service agents under Capt. Thomas J. Callahan and policemen from the Hudson avenue station revealed yesterday the arrest on Saturday of five women and four men accused of circulating $20,000 in counterfeit money in Illinois, Missouri and Tennessee.

The members of the gang, arrested at 1019 North Dearborn street, were taken before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday where three of them, Rudolph E. Smith, 27 years old, 65 West Maple street; Andrew Mansola, 25, of the same address, and Miss Lueldia Smith, no address, waived a preliminary hearing.

The others were granted continuances to Jan. 17, and were held under bonds of $10,000 each. They are Mrs. Mildred Mansola; Misses Laura and Hazel Booker, sisters and night club entertainers; Mrs. Louise Russo; her husband, Frank Russo; and Peter Finali, 35 years old, said to be the leader of the gang.

Norman Thomas Debates with Communist Leader

Norman Thomas, presidential nominee of the Socialist party in 1932, and Earl Browder, general secretary of the communist party, debated last night before 5,000 persons in the Ashland avenue auditorium. They argued on whether or not the two parties should join in a "united front." Thomas, opposed to this move, attacked the communists as working directly on orders from Moscow to destroy a general democracy. Browder favored bringing the two parties together in aggressive action to fight "the capitalistic war with war."

Both May Die

James Petrowski, 55 years old, proprietor of the Bridgeport Clothing company at 3312 South Halsted street, and his son, Edward, 21 years old, were shot last night by two robbers who held them up in the store. The father and son were both shot in the back, and a third bullet grazed the son's head. At the German Deaconess hospital it was said both may die, although hope is held for them.

Peter Madox, 3324 Emerald avenue, a customer in the store, described the shooting for the police. Two youths entered, Madox said, and displayed pistols. The elder Petrowski was standing at the cash register, Madox said, and the son, Edward, was in the rear of the store.

Edward ran towards the robbers, flourishing a long pair of scissors, and his father started to run to the rear. One of the bandits fired at the father, who fell, and the son then turned to run and was shot down.

SHOOTING VICTIM GETS PRISON ON PERJURY CHARGE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Joseph Walsh, liquor salesman and good timer around town whose crime was inability to testify "where the bullet came from," today was sentenced from one to fourteen years in San Quentin for perjury. Lorraine Hewitt [Lorraine Walsh], his sweetheart, already is in state prison from one to twenty years for shooting Walsh. Walsh was denied permission to apply for probation.

GET TIME TO BUY LICENSES.

Municipal Judge Frank M. Padden yesterday granted continuances of a week to ten days to 200 cigaret dealers who have not yet purchased 1936 licenses. The dealers promised to obtain the licenses within a few days.

URGES REMOVAL OF TRACKS FROM ROOSEVELT ROAD

Engineer for Commission Recommends Buses.

The removal of street car tracks of the Chicago and West Towns Railway company in Roosevelt road between Harlem avenue and Austin boulevard and the substitution of bus service was recommended yesterday by Merrill B. Knox, trafic engineer employed by the Illinois commerce commission, at a hearing before the commission.

Mr. Knox, who was retained to make a special investigation of the condition of the tracks and right of way on Roosevelt road, testified that in his opinion the tracks were not only unsafe for the operation of street cars at present rates of speed but also were a hazard for automobile trafic.

Oak Park Favors Removal.

The hearing was held on the petition of the village of Oak Park for the removal of the company's tracks or reconstruction of the right of way to conform with street level. Mr. Knox supported the testimony of previous witnesses to the effect that tracks are from 3 to 9 inches above the grade of the road.

The state highway department yesterday confirmed the statement of Kendrick Harger, district engineer of the department, that if the tracks are abandoned the state will remove them and pave the entire road. The company is opposing the petition and has entered testimony designed to show that the tracks are safe.

Faster, Cheaper Service.

Mr. Knox, under questioning by Lee A. Freeman, commission attorney, said faster, cheaper and more comfortable service could be furnished by the company if buses were used instead of street cars.

Freeman said he expects the commission to conclude hearings on the petition by the end of this month.

Food Show Picks 20 Girls as Style Exhibit Models

Twenty young women were selected last night as models for the style show which will be presented three times daily at the week long International Food Show and Home exposition that is to open Monday in the Palmer house. Frank J. Kennedy, manager of the exposition, solicited women's clubs to provide "amateur" models. The winners were chosen from a group of forty.

CATHOLICS PLAN SOCIAL PROBLEM MEETING JAN. 27

Noted Speakers to Talk on Various Views.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

About seventy-five leading Catholic priests and laymen of the Chicago archdiocese met yesterday afternoon in the Palmer house to plan a conference on industrial problems to be held here on Jan. 27 and 28.

This conference is to be part of a study movement started in 1891 by the encyclical "Rerum Novarum" ["Concerning New Things"], which was promulgated by Pope Leo XIII. The "new things" to which the pontiff directed the attention of all Catholics were the social and economic problems arising from large scale industry. These problems, according to Pope Leo, are not only economic but "first of all social and religious."

In 1931, on the fortieth anniversary of "Rerum Novarum," Pope Pius issued his famous encyclical "Quadragesimo Anno," which signifies "in the fortieth year" from the "Rerum Novarum" encyclical.

Asserts Social Doctrin.

Pope Pius, after declaring it to be the Catholic church's "right and duty to deal authoritatively with social and economic problems," proceeded to do so with definitions and bills of particulars which won the enthusiastic approval not only of social scholars of his own faith but also of Protestant exponents of "the social gospel."

In the United States, the "Forty Year" encyclical prompted plans for fifty study conferences, some of which already have been held. Announcements of the forthcoming assemblage here refer to it as "a traveling school of social thought," and express concern "that Catholics will understand the necessity of supporting, not by word alone but by deed, the problem outlined in those two great manifestoes of the church, 'Rerum Novarum' and 'Quadragesimo Anno.'"

Many Speakers of Note.

To the Chicago conference will come speakers who are authorities on constitutional procedure, legislation, capital, industry and labor. The sessions are convoked under the patronage of Cardinal Mundelein and under the presidency of Bishop Bernard J. Sheil.

The Rev. John J. Doody, pastor of St. Mary Queen of Angels' parish, who presided at yesterday's preparatory meeting, announced that a leading conference speaker would be the Right Rev. John A. Ryan, Washington, D. C., of the National Catholic Welfare conference.

Others on the program include Thomas J. Norton, constitutional lawyer; E. J. Marron of the Portland Cement association, president of the National Catholic Alumni federation; Martin Durkin, Illinois labor commissioner, and the Rev. Francis Haas of St. Francis seminary near Milwaukee.

Judge Refuses to Upset Divorce on Woman's Plea

Superior Judge Rudolph F. Desort refused yesterday to vacate a divorce decree won last May by Edward Nelson, 38 years old, 4823 Lake Park avenue, from Katharine Nelson, 35 years old, 1115 East 47th street. The divorce was uncontested and was granted on a charge of desertion. Mrs. Nelson sought to void the decree on the ground she did not receive proper notice of the suit, but she admitted yesterday that she received "some paper but paid no attention to it."

ORDERS INQUIRY IN $100,000 AUTO COMPANY BLAZE

Fire Attorney Thomas J. Sheehan yesterday began an investigation into the blaze which caused damage estimated at $100,000 early in the day to the Mercantile Motors company, 3950 Roosevelt road. There were 40 automobiles in the building, according to Harry Gutterman, dealer in Ford cars, who owns the building.

The fire, which called out all available apparatus on the west side on a 4-11 alarm, tied up street car trafic on both Roosevelt and Pulaski roads for two hours and threw a large area into darkness. The main floor of the wrecked building was occupied by automobile shops and salesrooms and the Mid-City Supply company, manufacturers of beauty shop supplies, occupied part of the second floor.

Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan asked for an investigation because when firemen arrived they found all the windows of the building blown out, as if from an explosion.

SLAYING UPHELD BY JURY.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide yesterday at the inquest into the death of Walter Wajda, 23 years old, 4422 South Richmond street, who was shot to death Saturday night by Frank Zadny while trying to break into Zadny's apartment at 4062 West 26th street.

MODERN COLLEGE EDUCATION AT LOW COST

To HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

AFTER high school—college. This is the trend today. Achievement in this modern, complex world demands a college education . . . . At Central College, 2000 young men and women are enjoying a unique college experience. They are facing present-day problems and attempting solutions for them as part of their classroom work—learning to think for themselves—to become effective, useful citizens . . . . These students enjoy other advantages, too. They have a wide choice of programs taught by an outstanding faculty. They participate in a variety of extra-class activities—social, musical, dramatic and athletic. And their tuition rates are low—$76.00 covers a full college program, including laboratory subjects. Many pay out of income as they attend. Furthermore, they live at home, thus greatly reducing the cost of their college course.

Banish Hidden Dirt—Reduce Pores This Amazing New Dreskin Way!

Beauty scientists now know that one of the most common causes of skin trouble is the "hidden," pore-clogging dirt that is caused by stale make-up, gland secretions, traffic dust and harsh, drying alkali in the hard water we have here. For it is this treacherous, unseen dirt that gradually stops up your pores resulting in "faded skin," enlarged pores, blackheads, pimples and shiny, oily skin. A condition that is easy now to avoid with Dreskin—Campana's new skin-invigorating discovery that cleanses, freshens the skin; and reduces pores all at the same time. So your skin "breathes" naturally . . . keeps young, really clean looking.

So go to your American Family dealer today. Get the regular 10c size bottle of Dreskin he will give you free when you buy only one medium-size package of American Family Flakes. Then make the famous Dreskin 1—2—3 test on your own skin. (1) Dampen a piece of cotton with Dreskin. (2) Rub gently over face and neck. (3) Look at the cotton. If it is dirty, heed the warning, and remember that Dreskin neutralizes alkali . . . banishes the risk of alkali dryness and "faded skin" appearance.

You'll be glad you did when you see how much better your skin looks after using Dreskin. But hurry—the gift supply of Dreskin is limited and this offer will not be repeated. So get it free today when you buy one medium-size package of American Family Flakes. It is the same marvelous Dreskin that is on sale at all drug counters.

Amazing Gift Offer Being Made Solely to Induce You to Give American Family Flakes a Real Trial—The One Brand Specially Created for Safer, Easier, Quicker Washing in the Water of this Region

● Amazing, but true—while the limited gift supply lasts, you can get a regular 10c bottle of Campana's Dreskin—the original Skin Invigorator—absolutely free when you buy only one medium-size package of American Family Flakes from your dealer. So go to your dealer today. Get American Family and your free Dreskin now—before the supply is exhausted.

Now—this marvelous offer is being made simply so you—as thousands of other women already have—can see for yourself why Chicago housewives say it is far cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. For once you do use American Family Flakes, you will understand why you can't afford those so-called "bargain" soaps that often contain harsh alkali to ruin fabrics, fade colors . . . besides giving you lazy, thin suds that make you rub the life out of clothes. Yes, actually make you wear them out right in the wash.

Double-Suds Banish Hard Rubbing!

You'll see, too, why thousands of women always use safe American Family Flakes for their wash. For it is the one brand specially created for use in this water. The one brand that always makes rich double-suds. Pure mild suds that simply float the dirt out of clothes quick as a flash—without hard rubbing, without washday drudgery. Hence, with American Family Flakes, fabrics stay like new far longer—colors stay fresh and hands keep their smooth, white loveliness.

So—get American Family Flakes from your dealer today. Then, next washday prove to your own satisfaction how it saves clothes, saves time, saves work . . . why it is the biggest selling brand in Chicago!

How to Get FREE Dreskin

While they last, accept from your dealer his gift of a regular 10c bottle of Campana's Dreskin, absolutely free. It is the revolutionary new liquid skin invigorator, freshener and pore reducer combined that has been recently discovered by the makers of famous Campana's Italian Balm. And—you'll be thrilled when you see the lovely youthful radiance and fresh, clean look it gives your skin. So hurry—get American Family Flakes and your free bottle of Dreskin today—the supply is limited!

THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR.

A former governor who, when state treasurer, took ten million dollars of the state's money, used it for his own profit, put a million dollars in his and other pockets, and, escaping punishment in the criminal courts, compromised with the restitution of six hundred and fifty thousand of what he had stolen, is again a candidate for Republican nomination. There are a number of candidates and this ancient evildoer has been induced to think that with the votes divided many ways there may be enough crooks in the state to give him the nomination. While such an outcome may be regarded as unlikely, still it is there as a risk and if the primaries produce such a calamity for the Republican party it would give Illinois to the Democratic party. It would insure the election of the Democratic ticket from top to bottom.

Returning Republican confidence has invited a number of reputable candidates, moved by natural ambitions, to enter the field. Each has belief in himself encouraged by the loyalty of friends. Each thinks he is the most likely to be nominated and if nominated most likely to be elected. They cannot all be right.

A better situation would be one in which the contest did not offer an opportunity for the gray wolf, but it being what it is, it is well that the reputable candidates should demonstrate the kind of campaign they are capable of making against the New Deal and let their support develop and take shape. Other considerations being equal, vote getting becomes an important qualification. It can be hoped that the better men will get the best response from the Republican voters and that this will be indicated in time to permit the well disposed citizens of Illinois to unite and get behind the strongest of the candidates.

FROM THE HIRING LINE.

Our collaborator, Reuben Cahn, attended the recent sessions of the American Economic association in New York, as readers of the financial pages well know. Mr. Cahn's dispatches may be said to have come hot from the hiring line. He says:

"At these meetings a sort of slave market is conducted where collegc prexies and department heads look over unattached Ph. D.'s and arrange for the manning of social science courses in coming semesters. A good volume of business was said to have been done today, with active bidding at advancing prices for the fancier grades."

Appropriately enough, this paragraph immediately followed Mr. Cahn's summary of the remarks of Prof. Rexford Guy Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture. Prof. Tugwell presided at a sectional meeting devoted to the discussion of rigid and flexible prices. Prof. Tugwell, it seems, took the position that there will be control, and held that the only question to be settled is, Who shall sit on the throne of control?

If Prof. Tugwell had been as astute an observer as is Mr. Cahn he might have found his answer in the slave market out in the corridors. In an economy of the market nobody sits on the throne of control. No budding Ph. D. has to accept an offer and no prexy has to make one. The prospective buyer bids and the prospective seller offers. There is no compulsion beyond the desire of prexies to maintain the best departments their means will afford and the desire of Ph. D.'s to eat.

To minds of the Tugwell type this kind of thing is all wrong. They shy from the word "may," because they think it creates uncertainties. They propose to substitute "must." They say "may" cannot work in the face of the fact that it does work. When markets are permitted to function with reasonable freedom commodities and services do move into use at prices which buyer and seller will accept. The free market for economists may occasionally leave a good man out in the cold, but by and large they get placed and are paid reasonable salaries.

Occasional injustices may be conceded for purposes of argument, but they are negligible compared to the privations imposed in a "must" economy. In such a régime a man could not be an economist unless somebody else gave him permission to enter the field; his terms of employment would be out of his control, and his salary could be fixed without any regard for his professional standing or his intellectual capacity. Needless to say, his freedom in writing and in the classroom would be seriously curtailed. That is what happens when politicians sit on "thrones of control."

LOOK HOW BANK DEPOSITS ARE INCREASING!

Here's how the Roosevelt system works. The government borrows money from the banks, giving them bonds to evidence the debt and receiving credit for deposits on the books of the banks. The day after one of the operations is completed both sides of the bank statement are increased. Bond holdings are up and deposits are up. Within a few days the government starts drawing down its balance to pay for ordinary expenses, relief, boondoggling, and public works. That reduces the deposits for the moment, but the recipients spend the money and it reappears in the bank statements as private deposits. The government has repeated this process many times, now for a billion or two, then for a mere half billion.

The deposits soar, but, it should be clear, the increase is due entirely to government borrowing and spending. It is these government manufactured bank deposits which have pushed up the prices of stocks and commodities. Fifty leading common stocks have risen 160 per cent under the stimulus of large artificially created deposits. And an index of 15 commodities compiled by Moody's has gone from 78 early in 1933 to 170. That figures out to be 118 per cent. In extent that is equivalent to the rise in the early part of the printing press currency period in Europe.

When intelligent Americans saw this going on in other countries they called it by its right name—inflation. Abroad it was customary to do business in currency. In inflating, therefore, the currency printing presses there were employed. In the United States, however, it is customary to do business by check. Hence, in inflating this government has increased the funds subject to check.

Is it economic illiteracy or a lack of frankness which leads people to say in all seriousness that the increase in bank deposits in the United States is an evidence of the recovery of business?

SHIPPING FERTILITY ABROAD.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wallace have turned a corner. At first they did not want to produce for foreign markets because there were no foreign markets. The loss of the markets was regretted. It was farm misfortune No. 1. It caused a surplus and so reduced prices that the farmer could not get the cost of production. Therefore the surplus was to be plowed under or put in the grease tank and the producer was to be paid for idle land.

At the Washington conference of farmers called by Mr. Wallace both he and Mr. Roosevelt hit upon two new phrases. "The voiceless land" calls out against "shipping our soil fertility to foreign nations." We'll raise too many corn, wheat, and cotton crops and presently raise nothing but dust storms.

In sane and prosperous days Americans made much of selling the ingenuity of their minds, the dexterity of their hands, and the fertility of their soil in as many markets as they could reach. They thought they knew how to keep their heads clear, their hands capable, and their land rich.

Turning the new corner Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wallace find that this was bad. We were shipping our fertility abroad. We must allow Canada, Argentina, Brazil, Russia, Denmark, etc., to ship their fertility to us. They are gladly doing so, attracted by the scarcity caused here by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wallace. The food exporter is importing food he once raised.

The foreign nations seem quite happy to make such use of their own fertility.

ANOTHER HIGHWAY RACKET.

Dixmoor, formerly notorious among motorists under the name Specialville, remains a nuisance calling for abatement. The latest is a practice, adopted by Police Magistrate Braun, of taking articles in the possession of motorists arrested for alleged highway offenses as security for payment of fines, "a sort of hock shop," as Assistant State's Attorney Rothford calls it. Magistrate Braun explains this as an accommodation to motorists without ready cash. The case of a legless musician who was fined $5 and surrendered a valuable accordion as collateral throws light on the possibilities of this method. The musician has just obtained a judgment of $350 against the police magistrate, but other victims might not find it possible or worth while to sue and even if they did would be put to unnecessary trouble and expense to recover property considerably exceeding in value any proper fine.

The scheme is a racket and its inventor should be penalized heavily and removed from the office he is exploiting at the expense of the motoring public. Appropriate action in this instance would discourage petty grafting under pretense of highway law enforcement throughout the state.

CULTURE FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

[Peoria Transcript.]

Sally Rand may be the world's best fan dancer, but she is a piker when it comes to getting publicity. Sally has reenacted Lady Godiva and has wise-cracked with policemen and judges and invited arrest to gain publicity. She has been measurably successful.

But even at her best, Sally Rand and her exploits never were a major concern of the government of the United States. It remained for one of her humble disciples and imitators to make the fan dance a major issue at Washington.

This girl, a Ruby something, hearing that the government was carrying culture to the unemployed, avowed that the fan dance is culture and applied for a job waving at the boys in CCC camps. Her application was received, and she almost got the job at $104 a month and expenses, when some nosey person protested that a fan dance isn't culture.

That started a controversy which hasn't yet been settled. As a matter of fact, it probably won't be settled inasmuch as culture is not defined. Whether or not a fan dance is culture, the CCC boys probably would prefer it to Shakespeare and other "serious" plays presented for them by ham actors and actresses who are more at home in burlesque houses.

Meanwhile, of course, the publicity is doing Ruby no harm. If she is astute she will realize that sensation-crazy Americans will pay good money to look at any one who embarrassed the national administration with a fan dance.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

WE'RE COMMENCING the presidential campaign in earnest. A South Dakota paper brands one of the Republican candidates as a dirty, black liar. Gosh, that sounds like old times. We can't have a presidential campaign unless some of the candidates are branded as dirty, black liars. Why a candidate can't be simply a black liar without being dirty I don't know. But it's so. A black liar is always dirty. He doesn't shine his shoes, or wash his face, or shave every day. Anyhow, a black liar is always dirty. I should think it would be enough for a black liar to be a black liar, but he always manages to be dirty, too. I suppose black liars are like that.

WE LOYAL KENTUCKY colonels appointed by our peerless leader, ex-Gov. Ruby Laffoon, while deploring the fact that the new governor has not appointed a single additional colonel since he has been in office, also point with satisfaction to the fact that as a consequence nobody outside of Kentucky knows the name of the new governor. Fellow colonels, attention! A health to our peerless leader, Gen. Laffoon! Mint juleps, front and center. Ready, colonels! Salute! Parade—'Smissed!

LETTERS FROM A LOUNGING CHAIR.

Regarding Love and all his devious ways
I know but little; still I should not dare
To banish him forever from my lays
And so disclose how still far less I care.
Conventional at heart, I knit my brow
And strip my bookshelves, borrowing with zeal
Such furnace-sighing lines as, up to now,
Are much too torrid for the things I feel.
I do protest you might parade them all
Before the window of my fluttering heart
(So called, being female)—men both fair and tall
And learned in every amatory art,
Suburban saint and fascinating sinner—
And I should yawn and wonder what's for dinner.

Poor sickly Love, a pale and sighing slave,
Shudders at thought of dining; he will stand
And weep his dear for hours above a grave
Dug ready to receive her on demand.
Contrariwise, your epicure is calm;
He sighs no sigh, he sheds no salty tear
Into his quail Lucullus, presses palm
Against no aching brow—and nowhere near.
No seeker of the summum bonum he;
His song of life from prelude-bar to coda
Is one divine unfinished symphony
Of breakfast, luncheon, dinner, mint, and soda;
And though his pleasures aggrandize his girth, it
Remains a question what is better worth it.

Perhaps I lead a life devoid of life,
Placid as cows in clover. I don't know.
Natural as it seems to flee from strife
And say my prayers where grass and harebells grow,
And laugh above a book, and slave at chess,
And lie abed too late, and curse my clothes,
There may be more in life than I can guess;
I never claimed omniscience, goodness knows.
Life is a fire, and it has never warmed me;
Life is a feast, and I have never dined;
Life is a serpent, and has never harmed me;
Life is a treasure I shall never find;
Life is a kiss, and I have never kissed it;
Perhaps it may be so. I never missed it.

DOROTHY KISSLING.

AND A FRIEND OF mine has a letter from a man who bought a brand new car and went down to Florida. The other day he wrote: "There's been no hurricane to speak of since I got down here, but there was a considerable breeze blowing yesterday morning. The man who sold me my car said it could do seventy or eighty miles an hour, but it was going faster than that yesterday when I looked out the window and saw it going by at what I think must have been at least a hundred. And without using any especial amount of gas, either, because the engine stayed behind, but the tonneau and two fenders were having a fine race. It seemed to me at least five seconds after they had gone by before the seat cushions, the tail lights, and the front fender went past. I am going out today with a basket to reassemble my car, but I doubt if any used car dealer will allow me much on it in a trade-in."

NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER says Senator Borah does not have his sanction as a presidential candidate because he is a "hopeless reactionary." Which is either a knock or a boost according to what you think reactionary means.

HERR HITLER IS mighty quiet these days, seems to be in seclusion or something. Whether he is framing up another putsch, planning a new war, or devising a new style in mustaches remains to be seen. He'll have to do something pretty quick if he wants to hold his job. A dictator's public is more fickle than that of a cinema queen or a radio star and if the dictator doesn't keep his public interested it's liable any day to get up and walk out on him.

NEED.

They offered me wine and fresh Spring rain
And honey-filled cups of gold to drain;
They broke up dreams and made a tea.
But nothing they gave was good for me.

Then, calling them off, a kind one said,
(Oh knowing old heart; oh wise old head)
"Try him with tears." They let me cry . . .
No other was near content as I.

KELLY HARRELL.

IF EDWIN MARKHAM'S "Man with a Hoe" were alive today he wouldn't be leaning on his hoe as the poet described him. No, he'd be leaning on his fountain pen wondering what a benevolent administration is going to do about finding another set of checks for him to sign for not planting things as the AAA did. R. H. L.

GOOD AND BAD BACTERIA IN THE COLON.

MANY years ago Elie Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute of Paris observed that Bulgarian children fed on clabbered or soured milk were unusually healthy. Experimenting with the lactobacillus which produces lactic acid from milk sugar, Metchnikoff announced that life could be greatly prolonged if this organism were allowed to grow and propagate in great numbers in the intestinal tract. Following his pronouncement the world witnessed an almost hysterical desire to drink soured milk and live forever.

As with many so-called discoveries the pendulum swung too far. Lactic acid milk was not a cure-all; neither was it a passport permitting each of us to join the centenarians. Nevertheless, the value of acidophilus milk has gained wide recognition, and it is now used extensively in the treatment of constipation, diarrhea, mucous colitis, and intestinal fermentation.

It has been shown that the best results are obtained when the lactobacilli are grown on whey and taken in this form. Following large and continued doses a definite tendency toward growth in the intestine is often observed. The procedure is like sowing a field with a given type of seed. Dry weather may prevent germination and the seed will need to be resown if a crop is expected. Lactose [milk sugar] is given with each dose of the culture.

Regardless of the number of doses taken it is sometimes impossible to plant the lactobacillus in the bowel, although about 60 per cent of the cases will encounter no difficulty. Certain others will prove strongly resistant, as the lactic acid organisms will be killed as rapidly as introduced. Nevertheless, some of these patients are reported to show clinical improvement.

Should these bacteria gain a foothold in the intestine but few patients will need to change the routine diet in any particular. It has been noted, however, that diets high in meat and low in starches and sugars have a killing effect upon the acidophilus organisms and it may be necessary to restrict meat eating and increase somewhat the carbohydrate intake.

An organism that it is important to eliminate from the bowel is the streptococcus. The presence of this bacterium in the colon is a frequent source of arthritis, or of bladder and urinary tract infection; and in a long series of cases complaining of intestinal indigestion, streptococci were found in not less than three-fourths. With an increase in concentration of the milk acid organisms, streptococci decreased in most instances.

In mucous colitis, characterized by great irritability of the colon, watery stools, and the expulsion of considerable quantities of mucus, the use of acidophilus milk has been reported to be of value. In a group of cases reported by Rettger and Levy there was marked improvement in about 75 per cent. They believe, however, that lactic acid organisms must be maintained in the bowel if permanent relief is to be expected. In some patients a return of symptoms followed the failure to continue the use of acidophilus milk. These authors emphasized the necessity of constant treatment, possibly interrupted by short rest periods. The usual prescription was one quart of acidophilus milk each day.

Favorable results in the treatment of simple constipation have been reported in a high percentage of cases, and again, as in the management of mucous colitis, it was observed that in some patients while constipation was entirely relieved as long as acidophilus milk was taken, the symptoms would return within two or three weeks whenever the bacteria were omitted from the diet.

We may conclude that organisms of the lactic acid group are capable of destroying many of the disease producing bacteria of the intestine and of restoring a more normal function to the bowel. The method is simple, but when prescribed the physician should make certain that pure cultures are fed and that enough powdered whey or milk sugar accompanies the dose to supply food for the lactobacilli.

DISCHARGE IN EYES.

M. M. writes: What causes a slight whitish secretion in the corners of the eyes?

REPLY.

Angular conjunctivitis is a variety of chronic catarrhal inflammation of the conjunctiva [the thin layer of mucous membrane which lines the eyelids] that usually occurs in adults. In addition to smarting and itching there is a slight, grayish, tenacious discharge which may glue the lashes together. Local treatment consists in washing the eyes with a mild solution of boric acid. Consult an ophthalmologist if the condition persists.

MAY NOT BE FOUND.

J. J. N. writes: Is there any other cause than syphilis why three in a family should have the following: St. Vitus' dance, granulated eyelids, and enlarged neck glands? The father had his arm amputated because of bone disease. The family doctor says the father should have a blood test made.

REPLY.

Syphilis is not probable. St. Vitus' dance [chorea] is an infection, probably rheumatic in origin. Granulated eyelids [blepharitis] is an infection, caused by lack of cleanliness or poor nutrition. Enlarged glands in the neck may be due to tuberculosis or to some disease condition of the mouth or throat. The picture is one of bad hygienic surroundings with lack of proper food. Test for syphilis, if you will. My guess is that it will not be found.

VALIDITY OF DEED.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Jan. 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father died and left me a deed to his property. 1. If a deed is written six months or a year before death and not recorded until after death, is it legal in Michigan? 2. Is the husband sole heir of all the property at the death of his wife when there are several children, all of age, in the family? 3. Some of the children claim that they are entitled to their mother's share, or one-third. Is this correct? L. G.

1. Since the validity of a deed depends on its being validly delivered during the lifetime of the grantor, questions are likely to be raised where the deed is not recorded until after the death. The validity of your title would depend largely on your proof as to delivery.
2. No.
3. Their mother's share of what? You have not given us the facts.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

RIGHT TO ESTATE.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A few years ago my father's brother died leaving property. He was a bachelor and left no will. The heirs at that time were my father, grandmother, an uncle and aunt, who were my father's brother and sister. Since then my father, grandmother and uncle have passed away leaving my aunt still living. The title to the property is still in my uncle's name. 2. When we ask my aunt about this property she claims when her mother died, which is my grandmother, she left a will deeding the property to her. Could my grandmother do this as the title is still in my uncle's name and has never been probated? 3. Are we children entitled to our father's share of the property? C. H.

1. No question asked. We assume that by saying the title is still in the name of the deceased, you mean simply that his estate has not been probated. Absence of probate does not prevent the title from going to the heirs. It merely means that the title is not readily merchantable.
2. The grandmother could only leave the share which she had inherited. She could not make a gift of your father's share.
3. Yes. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TERMS OF WILL.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I am a widowed mother with three living children and three deceased. I wish to leave a will dividing my property equally among my two sons. 1. Is it necessary for me to leave any amount to my daughter? 2. Can the heirs of my deceased children contest the will? 3. I have been told I must leave my daughter and each heir at least one dollar. 4. The attorney I have employed advises me this property is mine and I have a clear title, to dispose of as I see fit. I wish to know the legal procedure to follow in order to avoid a contest of the will. C. C.

1. No.
2. Of course they can file a bill to contest, but in order to succeed they would have to prove undue influence or lack of testamentary capacity.
3. This rule does not hold in Illinois.
4. Your attorney is in a better position to advise you than we are.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN.—Some idea of the remarkable change in the Irish Free State's foreign trade may be gained by a comparison of the figures for 1935, recently published, with those of ten years ago. In 1925 the total was about $510,000,000. In 1935 it had fallen to $285,000,000. The fall has been proportionate both in imports and exports. Imports, which in 1925 were $305,000,000, fell in the ten years to $185,000,000. Exports fell from $218,000,000 to less than $100,000,000.

Interchange of commodities with Great Britain and Northern Ireland constituted the main foreign trade of the Free State, and this is still the case. But this trade now is only a fraction of what it formerly was. This is a direct result of the tariff war between the Free State and Britain.

The tragedy of the tariff war is that both countries suffer by its operation. Each is the other's largest customer for various products, yet neither will take the necessary step to restart negotiations for a reasonable settlement.

And while this is the case, there is the curious contradiction that both go on making arrangements to their mutual benefit in regard to individual items of commerce. The coal-cattle pact of last year is an example. Under that pact the Free State gave Britain a complete monopoly of the supply of its coal in return for permission to export to Britain 150,000 head of cattle which could not otherwise be sold.

In respect of other commodities, such as pork and bacon, the quotas have been increased from time to time.

When these agreements can be reached amicably, people naturally wonder why in the major matter similar steps cannot be taken. The answer is that President de Valera for three years has refused to pay the land annuities formerly paid to Britain. Britain's reply was to impose a heavy tarif on all products from the Free State.

De Valera retaliated with the control of imports act, under which he was given power to impose not only heavy tarifs on British goods but also to exclude altogether such commodities as could be produced here.

This was the beginning of what is called the policy of self-sufficiency. The present aim of the Free State is to produce everything possible at home and thereby increase home employment. The results of this are already apparent in many ways. New factories have spring up on all sides. There are four new sugar factories manufacturing sugar from beets, in addition to a similar factory set up by the previous government.

These have their repercussions on agriculture, inasmuch as they have provided the farmer with a new crop. Beets were never grown before, but it has now been found that the soil is quite suited to them and that they are remunerative.

Factories for the production of alcohol or crude spirit for industrial purposes are being erected. These will find a new use for the potato, which is one of the most extensive crops in the country.

In addition there are growing up smaller factories for the manufacture of boots and shoes, electric fittings which were never before manufactured here, and other goods.

To find the capital for these new industries was a matter of considerable difficulty. It was soon discovered, however, that the British firms which had previously supplied these goods were willing to supply the money. The Free State government limits the use of British capital. Before a factory is permitted to be set up 51 per cent of the capital must be provided in the Free State. The new factories, therefore, are all Irish controled.

MEDITATION IN A LOG CABIN.

Ellison Bay, Wis., Jan. 7.—The snow is now piling high between here and the highway. The world with its good and bad lies beyond. The wind roars through the white pines, and from across the bay, whose waves have now been silenced into icy fields, comes the sting of the northwester, whirling the drifting snow into clouds, and through it all, on the icy limb of a plum tree the Bohemian waxwing is enjoying this great tableau.

It is warm and snug within the log cabin. The fire crackles on the harth and from without comes the song of the chickadee and the hammering of a pilated woodpecker, who is busy looking for food.

THE TRIBUNE has just arrived, through the drifts of snow, bringing the news from the world beyond—a mad world, it seems, in comparison with the life here. One begins to wonder if we are reasoning beings when we read what we are doing! Mussolini, conceited and hungry for power, kindling the fire in a great continent which will some day make Italy black! Cousin Hitler, who has an eye on Russia! Just think of the stupidity of trying to subdue the Slav, the greatest power in Europe today; if he unites the answer is, western Europe Slav! The orient is also speaking loud to the white man and my Hindu friends say, "Some day even we poor Hindus will be permitted to scatter perfume on your graves."

I can hear the squirrel scolding just outside the window. Why not? Man has invaded his rightful domain. And——!

JENS JENSEN.

HE ASKED FOR IT.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—On Jan. 6 I wrote to you commending the leading editorial in Monday's issue of THE TRIBUNE and suggesting it should have been placed on the front page. After writing my letter I contacted fifteen men during the afternoon and evening. In each case I asked if they had read the editorial. Five of them had read the article and ten had not. Three of the five had not read it until their attention was specifically called to it by a friend.

THE TRIBUNE has a very wide circulation and is one of the great journals of our country wielding a great influence. In the fight that is on to rescue our country from the despoilers we need the full power of all the influence we can get. If the editorial in question had been placed on the front page in bold face type and boxed, every man and woman taking THE TRIBUNE in your large circulation would not only have seen but have read the article. Think what an influence that would have been. It's no time to hide our light under a bushel. G. W. CARMAN.

REVULSION.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Your editorial "He Asked for It; Here It Is" is such an extraordinary breach of decent journalism that I am prompted to voice my revulsion. Editorials of this type seem sufficient justification for restricting the so-called free press, and, in my opinion, will in time alienate whatever sympathetic leanings the public may have toward the principle of free speech. As a one time Republican, who might be brought back to party lines by an appeal to reason, you leave me and countless others no alternative except to align ourselves on the side of fair play and common decency. A. C. B.

CONCERNING ANDREW JACKSON.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 9.—We heard quite a lot about Andrew Jackson last night, but nothing of that little incident which produced the Jacksonian threat to "hang as high as Haman" John C. Calhoun, who advocated the nullification of a mere act of congress. I wondered what the shade of Old Hickory was thinking of his professed disciple who lately recommended to congress the ignoring or nullification of the constitution itself.

B. R. B.

Marion, Ill., Jan. 9.—"History repeats," says the President. Of Andrew Jackson the Encyclopedia Britannica says: "He left his party strong, perfectly organized, and enthusiastic on a platform of low expenditure, payment of the debt, no expenditure for public improvement or for glory or display in any form, and low taxes."

R. H. THOMPSON.

FINANCING THE BONUS.

Chicago, Jan. 10.—In your editorial, "Financing the Bonus," you advocate payment from the four billion dollar relief fund. Then what? Three million and a half men go back to where they were under Hoover, walking the streets.

Listen, I am a WPA worker, also a veteran with $600 bonus coming, but if I must deprive some other unfortunate person of his security in order to receive payment they can count me out.

BILL DYER.

LICENSE PLATES THAT PEEL.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—If I'm not mistaken some one in high authority promised that this year's license plates would have a durable and lasting finish. On a set which I have the black background has disappeared, leaving the white numerals standing in a field of rust. I have heard others complain of the same condition. I am wondering if the salt placed on our streets during the icy spells had any effect on the finish of the plates.

GEORGE L. WILLIAMS.

THE WEATHER FORECAST.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—How is the weather forecaster appointed, and how does he hold his job? He predicted a 10 degree above zero temperature for two days; it's thawing outside. When we had that very cold spell at Christmas he didn't know anything about it until it came and then it was a "freak" cold spell. Why doesn't he predict the weather something like this: "Warmer and continued cold; fair, if it doesn't rain or snow; not much change in temperature unless a 'freak' storm hits us?" M. D. S.

FLASH.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—It has just occurred to me why Mr. Roosevelt chose the title of "On Our Way" for his first effort as an author. He left the way open for the people to add the word "Out" some time this year. N. H. SHUPS.

COB WALLACE.

Mundelein, Ill., Jan. 9.—Your cartoon balloons Wallace as "Corn Wallace."

Remember the Negro during the revolution who said, "Yo' mean Cobwallis; Massa Washin'ton done shell de corn all off"?

Respectfully request that he be redesignated "Cob Wallace." Supreme court done shell de corn all off.

FUNDS ASSURED FOR INQUIRY IN LIGGETT SLAYING

Minneapolis Crime Study Committee Urged.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—As the Minnesota legislature late today gave final approval to a $5,000 fund to finance the attorney general's prosecution of the Walter W. Liggett murder, a bill was introduced to provide a 10 man interim commission to investigate Minneapolis crime conditions.

The bill passed finally by the house authorized the attorney general to take $5,000 from his contingent fund to pay expenses of the Liggett case. The sum was voted after Assistant Attorney General F. A. Pike appeared before a committee and told it that the obtaining of valuable evidence hinged on provision of the fund.

The inquiry into lawlessness was demanded by Representative Walter Campbell of this city, who proposed a committee of five senators and five representatives.

Charges Bring Slaying.

Liggett's murder Dec. 9 has been attributed generally to the campaign he had been carrying on in his newspaper, the Mid-West American, against vice, gambling, and racketeering in Minneapolis, which he charged was directed by a "syndicate" of prohibition era hoodlums operating under protection of politicians.

Liggett was shot down with a machine gun as he got out of his car in the rear of his apartment. Isadore [Kid Cann] Blumenfeld, one of the men frequently mentioned in his articles, was identified by the publisher's widow and another eye-witness as the gunman and is awaiting trial Jan. 20, on a charge of first degree murder.

Reward Bill Signed.

Gov. Floyd Olson, another target of Liggett's attacks, announced at the Rochester hospital, where he is convalescing from an operation, that he had signed the bill offering a reward of $2,500 for arrest and conviction of each of Liggett's slayers. This bill was passed last week.

Meanwhile a new Hennepin county grand jury prepared to hear witnesses tomorrow as it continued the investigation into Liggett's murder and into the broader aspects of the Minneapolis crime conditions.

A warning to this jury and to subsequent ones against exercising judicial functions was sounded today by District Judge W. C. Leary in a "manual for grand jurors" prepared at the request of the association of grand jury foremen of Hennepin county.

SAVAGE FINISHES HIS TESTIMONY IN ACCOUNTING CASE

Campaign Donations His Theme.

Political contributions were the principal subject of testimony yesterday as Attorney Joseph P. Savage concluded his appearance on the witness stand in the suit brought against him by his former law partner, Robert E. Crowe.

Crowe is seeking an accounting of the assets of the dissolved firm of Crowe, Gorman & Savage, the third partner in which was the late George E. Gorman. Evidence in the case is being heard by Master in Chancery Samuel B. Epstein.

Savage, who was an assistant state's attorney when Crowe was state's attorney and who later was attorney for many Cook county villages and a member of the Chicago school board, said he made campaign contributions every year he was a member of Crowe, Gorman & Savage —from Jan. 2, 1929, to March 15, 1935.

He said he gave $10,000 as a contribution to Crowe in 1928 when Crowe was a candidate for the Republican nomination for state's attorney.

Savage said that in 1932 Crowe drew $42,000 of the firm's money and used it for politics, charging $14,000 each against Savage and Gorman. He said the money came from a fee of $48,000 collected by the firm at that time.

He denied that Crowe gave him $2,050 in cash to be used in his ward —the 25th—when he was a ward committeeman. He said he was allowed a credit, however, of $2,000 on the books of the firm.

Master Epstein said he hoped to conclude the hearing this week.

Civil Engineers' Society Honors John W. Alvord

John W. Alvord, a consulting civil engineer in Chicago for more than 40 years, was elected yesterday to honorary membership in the American Society of Civil Engineers. The announcement was made at a session of the society's annual convention in New York. Mr. Alvord, who is 75 years old, maintains offices at 20 North Wacker drive and lives at 5023 Kenwood avenue.

SLAYS HER HUSBAND AND SELF AS CLIMAX OF JEALOUS QUARREL

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Accusing her husband of trifling with her affections Mrs. Melita Powell Rovig, former Metropolitan singer under the name of Horiato Powell shot and killed him in their home here last night and then killed herself with the same weapon.

The husband, Charles Rovig, 53, a liquor salesman, died an hour later. In a dying statement he said: "Mrs. Rovig accused me of being friendly with other women. This I denied.

"She said, 'You're not fooling me' and jerking a pistol from the chiffoner drawer, she shot me twice in the stomach. Then she pointed the gun at herself and fired two more shots."

As Horiato Powell, Mrs. Powell was with the Metropolitan Opera in New York in 1910. She was formerly the wife of Homer Powell, a captain of the air service who was killed in action during the war. She married Rovig a year ago.

DON CHAMPAGNE $220,000 SWINDLE JURY COMPLETED

CRIMINAL COURT.

Phillip Nash and Edward Greatz, burglary, sentenced to one year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Robert C. O'Connell.

Daniel McCoy and Francis Seeley, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Denis J. Normoyle.

Rudolph Trozos, John Zaracki, and Walter Klozak, robbery, sentenced to one year to life each in the penitentiary; Robert White, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph B. David.

A jury was completed yesterday in the Criminal court of Judge Joseph Burke to try John Donald Walker [Don Champagne] on charges of conspiracy in connection with the swindling of Mrs. Grace M. Forschner, wealthy Palos township widow, out of $220,000 within a year after he was paroled from the penitentiary. Walker was tried on larceny charges last March, and the jury failed to agree. His alleged fellow conspirators, J. Henry Jonassen and Miss Louise M. Ranger were granted a severance and will be tried separately. Mrs. Forschner was in court yesterday and is expected to be the first to testify when the trial opens today.

Highwood Ex-Saloonist Admits Robbing Autos

Dominick Bartoli, 26 years old, 310 Railway avenue, Highwood, former tavern keeper, confessed yesterday to Chief of Police Frank Tiffany of Lake Forest that during the last three months he had stolen merchandise worth $1,500 from unlocked automobiles in half a dozen North Shore suburbs. Bartoli was arrested Saturday when police suspected the initials A. W. A. on a sweater he had might be those of A. Watson Armour Jr., whose automobile was looted. The suspicion proved correct.

SEARCH WATERS FOR MORE BODIES IN COAST WRECK

Sea Gives Up 6 of Lost; Three Identified.

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Airplanes and sea craft searched the wind churned waters around the mouth of the Columbia river tonight for bodies of the 34 man crew of the freighter Iowa, who foundered there early yesterday with all hands lost.

The ocean gave up six torn and bruised bodies today. Five had been identified as Charles Ogan, third assistant engineer, San Pedro, Cal.; Marion J. Perich, carpenter, New Orleans, La.; August O. Meyers, boatswain, Portland, Ore.; Karl C. Bendixen, chief engineer, Bellevue, Wash., and James McHenry, oiler, Philadelphia, Pa.

Surface craft and coast guard airplanes hovered over the site of the wreck on treacherous Peacock spit in a search for additional bodies. It was believed some of the officers and crew may have been trapped in the ship when she broke up under the battering of mountainous waves.

Meanwhile, in San Francisco, A. L. Schafer, Pacific coast area Red Cross manager, ordered emergency aid be given families of the victims wherever they might be.

"Our first concern is for the safety and welfare of our men, and the loss of any of them is felt deeply," said Kenneth D. Dawson, president of the States Lines.

"We, of course, have not learned the cause of the wreck, nor what influenced the judgment of the officers. We always have urged caution, pointing out that it is unwise, unsafe, and uneconomical to put to sea under adverse conditions."

South Side Couple Robbed of $3,075 Worth of Gems

Two men, one of them armed, robbed Louis Schneider, 5455 Blackstone avenue, and his wife, Florence, of jewelry valued at $3,075 and $65 in cash after halting their automobile near their home early yesterday. Charles Skrobane, an attendant in a garage, 5414 Lake Park avenue, who was in the car to take it to the garage, was not robbed.

GOES FROM JURY BOX TO ANSWER LARCENY CHARGE

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—A member of the grand jury, who had devoted the morning to passing judgment on acts of his fellow citizens, was himself arrested this afternoon, charged with grand larceny.

The juror is Harry Low, 44 years old, a member of the brokerage firm of Low Brothers. Under arrest with him on the same charge is his brother, Alexander H. Low, 49.

The arrests were the result of a complaint to the attorney general's office by Walter Godfrey, attorney for Irving Blatt, a dentist of Brooklyn.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Frank Ridgway

Contented Beeves

January 13, 1936.

"THERE'S a picture of contentment for you" said Clarence Thurow, Yorkville farm manager, as we walked up to the gate of one of the cattle feed yards at the Tribune farm today, to talk about winter rations. There stood 202 cud chewers motionless except for the rythmic lowering and raising of their jaws. Each steer had his white face projected forward seriously grinding away, doing his part to turn approximately 9,000 pounds of feed into meat daily.

It is estimated that this lot of steers averages in the neighborhood of 750 pounds. These are the 202 Herefords that worked as gleaners in the stalk fields during the fall and early winter. While they were picking up fallen ears, blades and stalks the steers had access to racks filled with a high grade of soybean hay. They ate about 2,000 pounds of the hay each day in addition to what they picked up in the corn fields after the pickers had finished their work.

The steers were taken out of the stalk fields on Dec. 27 and since then they have been kept in a dry lot, running in a shed at night and during storming weather. At the present time the steers are getting a ration of silage, soybean hay, and crushed corn. Silage makes up the bulk of the ration. The 202 steers are consuming approximately 5,000 pounds of silage daily—2,500 pounds being fed in bunks twice a day, morning and night. They are continuing to eat about two tons of soybean hay each day.

In addition to the silage and soybean hay the steers are getting approximately 2,000 pounds of crushed corn daily, in two instalments. Into each of the fourteen feed bunks in the lot, the men throw four heaping scoopshovelfuls of crushed corn at every feeding. This provides for equal distribution of the corn and allows plenty of room for each steer at the bunks.

In another lot at the Yorkville farm 79 Hereford steers have been on a dry lot ration since the middle of November. Since Dec. 1, these steers have not been given any silage but have been kept on a ration of corn and alfalfa hay. They are eating an average of about 18 pounds of crushed corn daily. Day and night they run to racks filled with alfalfa hay and are eating an average of more than 8 pounds each day.

It is estimated that the 79 head of whitefaces weigh an average of 725 pounds.

The soybean hay now being fed to the cattle is hauled on sleds direct from the field where it was harvested and put up in small shocks last summer. Despite the heavy rains and snows since harvest the hay is green, bright and free from mold.

During the recent zero weather a thin band of silage was frozen around the outer edges in the silos. Extra precaution has been taken in feeding the frozen silage. The frozen silage is carefully mixed in with the unfrozen material before it is thrown into the feed bunks. When it warms up enough to thaw, the silage is fed immediately after the frost leaves it. The small amount of frozen silage that went into the bunks during the severe cold weather caused no trouble.

A Statement of Policy from the House of Seagram

In the spirit of international goodwill and cooperation evidenced by the recent Tariff Treaty, Seagram fulfils its obligation by passing on to the consumer the full benefit of tariff reductions. For this Seagram claims no credit. It is its duty to the American public. But Seagram has gone much further.

In furtherance of that same spirit of goodwill, Seagram has made substantial additional reductions in price in order to make the luxury of these finer whiskies available at prices so reasonable that they come within the reach of the great body of the American public.

S. L. ROTHAFEL, FAMOUS "ROXY" OF THEATER, DIES

Producer Suffers Heart Attack in Sleep.

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—S. L. Rothafel, known to thousands as 'Roxy," who won fame and fortune by raising the motion picture stage show to the level of a spectacle, died today in his sleep at the Hotel Gotham. He was 53 years old.

S. L. ROTHAFEL.

The noted producer's death was caused by a heart attack. A servant tried to arouse him this morning, and when she called help he was found to be dead.

Roxy's last venture in the theater, in Philadelphia, ended in failure. The venture began a year ago when he became director of the Mastbaum theater in that city and changed its name to Roxy-Mastbaum. There were heavy box office losses and Roxy retired.

Born in Minnesota.

He was born in Stillwater, Minn., and came to New York when 12 years old. He worked as a cash boy in a department store and joined the marines when he was 18. He saw service in China during the Boxer rebellion and in 1907 left the service and made his first venture in the show business at Forest City, Pa. In a cramped room behind a bar, where he sold drinks, he began showing the crude motion pictures.

He had other small theatrical enterprises in Minneapolis and Milwaukee, and at last started in New York.

"When I went back to New York in 1913," he said, "I took charge of the Regent theater in Harlem. I put in a larger orchestra and began to make music a larger part of our programs. Then, we began to make stage presentations with much color in them.

Revises Musical Scores.

"Moreover, picture houses, for the most part, did not insist on any connection between pictures and music, and we began that scoring of pictures which we later developed into a system that went so far as to embrace musical motives for the principal characters."

Broadway then called him to take over its biggest palace of pleasure—the Strand, then the largest picture theater in the world.

From the Strand he went to the Rialto and the Rivoli and at last to the Capitol.

At this point another invention found him ready. It was the radio. The first theatrical manager to realize its possibilities, he poured out the songs and patter of the Capitol stage to a generation that was turning to its radio receivers with the same eagerness that its predecessor had turned into the hall where the flickering images sprang. Roxy and his "Gang" became a national sensation.

Joins Rockefeller Interests.

His next venture was the New Roxy, which sprang out of the earth and became, as he called it, "the cathedral of the motion picture."

On Jan. 27, 1931, he joined the Rockefeller interests for their enormous enterprise at Rockefeller Center.

The sweep of Roxy's imagination, for once, was equaled by the resources put at his command. Two theaters were built, the Music Hall and the R.-K.-O.-Roxy.

In November, 1932, the theaters were completed and the world came in its best bib and tucker to see the Music Hall and its smaller companion, the R.-K.-O.

Nothing ever had been seen in the workmanship of the theater that surpassed the equipment and splendors of the two places.

But Roxy gave way under the strain of illness and hard work and he left his post at the beginning of 1934.

Mr. Rothafel is survived by his widow, one son, Arthur, in California, and a daughter, Mrs. George Bijur.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at the Central synagogue.

WILLIAM LYNCH, MASONIC LODGE LEADER, IS DEAD

Funeral services for William A. Lynch, 66 years old, will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow in the Scottish Rite cathedral, Dearborn street and Walton place, under the auspices of the Apollo commandery, Knights Templar. Burial will be at the Cedar Park cemetery.

Mr. Lynch died Sunday in the Chicago Memorial hospital after a long illness. He was a 33d degree Mason, honorary member of the Supreme Council of Northern Masonic jurisdiction, commander-in-chief of the Oriental consistory, past commander of the Apollo commandery, and former head of several other Masonic bodies.

Last July Mr. Lynch retired as sales manager of the Hart, Schaffner and Marx Clothing company, after 42 years' service. Since then he divided his time between a home at Lakeside, Mich., and one at St. Petersburg, Fla. He was a bachelor and a member of a pioneer Carlinville, Ill., family.

E. W. BREDEMEIER DIES; FOUNDER OF PRINTING PLANT

E. W. Bredemeier, former Chicago resident and founder of the printing and binding concern bearing his name, died yesterday at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., at the age of 72. Burial will be at Fort Lauderdale, where he made his home for the last fifteen years.

Born in Bremen, Germany, Mr. Bredemeier came to the United States at the age of 20 and in 1895 founded E. W. Bredemeier & Co., which has its plant at 23 South Honore street. He continued as president of the company until his death with active management in the hands of one of his sons.

He is survived by his widow, Elsie; two sons, August E. and Hans A., both of Chicago, and one daughter, Mrs. Pauline B. Cook of Ravinia.

ESTATE OF RIO WIDOW HELD BY CORONER WALSH

Coroner Frank J. Walsh yesterday refused to surrender the estate of Mrs. Anna Rio Taskowski, widow of the Capone gangster, Frank Rio, when James Costo, said to be her cousin, and Attorney Charles Schaub appeared to claim it. Mrs. Taskowski was killed in an automobile accident on Dec. 26, a few weeks after her marriage to Joseph Taskowski, a sailor at the Great Lakes training station.

At the inquest last Friday Taskowski testified that he was threatened by members and friends of the Rio family and forced to sign papers giving up his share in his wife's estate. David Trott, attorney for Taskowski, yesterday informed Coroner Walsh that letters of administration in the estate were issued Dec. 28 in the Probate court to Costo. There was no mention of Taskowski as the husband, said Trott.

The only known estate, according to Probate court records, is Mrs. Taskowski's automobile, four diamond rings, and a diamond bracelet. The jewelry is said to be worth $5,000 or $6,000.

GILBERT'S WILL GIVES 4TH WIFE BULK OF ESTATE

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The will of John Gilbert, screen actor who died Thursday of heart disease, was filed for probate today, leaving the bulk of the estate to Virginia Bruce, his fourth wife.

No estimate was made as to the value of the property, which has been unofficially reported to run as high as $500,000. In excess of $53,000 was bequeathed to friends.

Leatrice Joy Gilbert, 9, daughter of Gilbert by his second wife, Leatrice Joy, will receive $10,000. Gilbert directed that his executors spend $150,000 to purchase six annuities of $25,000 in favor of Miss Bruce.

STATE NORMAL U. PROFESSOR DEAD OF HEART ATTACK

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Prof. Edwin A. Turner of Illinois State Normal university's educational department died of heart disease at a hospital here tonight. Born at Cold Springs, Ind., March 1, 1869, he first taught in Indiana schools. He came to I. S. N. U. as head of the training department in 1908. He was author of several text books and teachers' training manuals.

15,000 Crows in Oklahoma Are Killed with Dynamite

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand crows were killed with dynamite tonight. Bill Gaines, Oklahoma game ranger, directed the setting off of 98 seven-pound dynamite and shot bombs in blackjack thickets east of here. It was the most extensive attack ever made by the state fish and game department on the crow, enemy of farmer and sportsman.

Proud of Carnival Outfit

Warren Howe's wide smile does not begin to indicate how very proud he was of the top hat, walking stick, white tie and gloves and boutonniere, not to mention the tail coat, that he wore at the ice carnival at the Indian Hill club last Saturday afternoon.

Perhaps he was picturing himself half a dozen years hence when he will be "stepping out" at Harvard where his brother David is studying now and where his oldest brother, Fisher Howe, III., finished last June and where his father, Lawrence [Pompey] Howe, was graduated in 1907.

There will be another Howe, Lawrence Jr., at Harvard before Warren goes there, however, for Warren is the youngest of the family which lives in Winnetka.

Push Benefit to Clear Way for Vacations

Passavant Aid Members Plan Journeys.

BY JUDITH CASS.

We learned yesterday at a tea and cocktail party in Mrs. Walter R. Kirk's charming new home at 1500 Lake Shore drive why the ladies' aid society of the Passavant Memorial hospital started work so early this year on its benefit. The reason was so that the ladies could take their winter vacations with clear consciences, knowing that all the tickets for the benefit were sold three months in advance.

The benefit was planned several weeks ago but intensive work in disposing of boxes and main floor seats was started only a week ago yesterday and at the tea at Mrs. Kirk's it was reported that every box and two-thirds of the main floor tickets were sold. The women confidently expect that the rest will be disposed of within a week and then they all will be off for trips some time before the benefit on April 17.

The benefit is the only performance in Chicago this year, in many years in fact, of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra with Leopold Stokowski conducting, at the Auditorium theater. Those members of the board who have bought boxes have signified their willingness to give them back to be resold if any one wants a box, so main floor seats can be obtained by telephoning Mrs. Mark W. Trude at Saks store before Friday or at the Passavant hospital after that day.

Mrs. Kirk, president of the society, is planning to leave next week with Mr. Kirk for ten days in Boston and New York and Mrs. Trude will leave for Phoenix with Dr. Trude before long. Phoenix and Useppa Island seem to be the favorite winter resorts with Passavant board members and if it were necessary there could be small board meetings at either of those places at any time during the next three months.

Howard W. Fentons Leave for Honolulu.

Mrs. Howard W. Fenton, a member of the Lake Forest box committee, wa saying au revoir yesterday, for she and Mr. Fenton were leaving last night for the west coast to sail on the 25th for Honolulu. In Santa Barbara they will see their daughter, the former Honoré White, and her husband, William B. Cudahy, who are landing from their wedding trip to Honolulu on Jan. 16.

Mrs. Byran S. Reid, chairman of the ticket committee, goes to Useppa with Mr. Reid and their younger children next month, and Mrs. Gardiner Van Ness, co-chairman of the ticket committee, leaves soon to join Mr. Van Ness in Phoenix.

Useppa will be the destination of Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm, box chairman, when she leaves next Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. Daggett Harvey. The same island off the west coast of Florida is where Mrs. Laurance H. Armour, member of the Lake Forest committee, and Mr. Armour will go in March. Mrs. Walter J. Cummings, a member of the publicity committee, is going on a West Indies cruise with Mr. Cummings, and Mrs. James R. Offield, member of the program committee, and her daughter, Mrs. Denis E. Sullivan Jr., are looking forward to a visit in Phoenix with Mrs. Offield's mother, Mrs. William Wrigley Jr.

Phoenix also is where Mrs. Loyal Davis, chairman of the program committee, and Dr. Davis will spend their vacation this winter. Miss Caroline McNair, vice chairman of Mrs. Davis' committee, will be in Phoenix before long for she and Glendon Gerlach will go there on their wedding trip. Their wedding will take place on Jan. 22.

In addition to those already named Mrs. Kirk's guests included Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, honorary president of the society; Mrs. Daniel Peterkin Jr., Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. Edward R. Fifield, Mrs. A. O. Hart-

THE solitary saunterer singing Italian opera arias along Lake Shore drive, mentioned in this space, saw the comment and wrote in.

Now we are making a deliberate effort to find some one and we shall wait hopefully in our hospital bed, to see what luck. We want to find the person who is in possession of Franja Hutchins' copy of "Mary Poppins Comes Back," affectionately inscribed by Thornton Wilder. It happened like this: Franja, who is the daughter of President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago and Maude Phelps Hutchins, the artist, got two copies of "Mary Poppins Comes Back" for Christmas. One was from her mother, and one from Mr. Wilder, with its very personal and affectionate inscription. It was decided to return one copy to the store to be exchanged for another book of Franja's choice, but in the Christmas excitement it was Mr. Wilder's book that was sent back. The Hutchinses soon discovered their mistake, but alas, Mary Poppins, delightful person, was completely sold out, including Franja's book. Somewhere

THE young collegiates are again this year wearing bright colored earmuffs and going hatless. The strap on the earmuffs holds the hair in place and the muffs keep the ears warm.

THE other night Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Graham were among those who went to the N. B. C. studio in the Merchandise Mart building to hear Gladys Swarthout broadcast. It was a studio for which Mr. Graham had been the architect, and the song Miss Swarthout sang was "If I Should Lose You," from "Rose of the Rancho." It seemed a coincidence that Mr. Graham, the architect for the studio, should have got lost trying to get out after the broadcast.

A few evenings ago a little Chicago girl came from her first dancing party [supper at 6 and dancing until 9] and said, "O, mommy, I needn't have worried so about my dancing. I really was all right and I was quite popular, because several boys interfered with me." It developed she meant she was cut in upon.

Extend Stage Stay of Veloz and Yolanda

Play at Blackstone Closed Without Notice.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

This is Veloz and Yolanda week at the Chicago theater. The incomparable pair of ballroom dancers, who have brought romantic grace and the dignity of fine manners into cabaret entertainment, are saying good-by for a year with performances as stars of the stage production at this cinema house, and the people who didn't see them in the Empire room are forming long lines at the ticket window. Their success as vaudeville celebrities is so emphatic that their engagement has been extended until Thursday, Jan. 23, when they will depart for Holly's Cocoanut Grove and film studios.

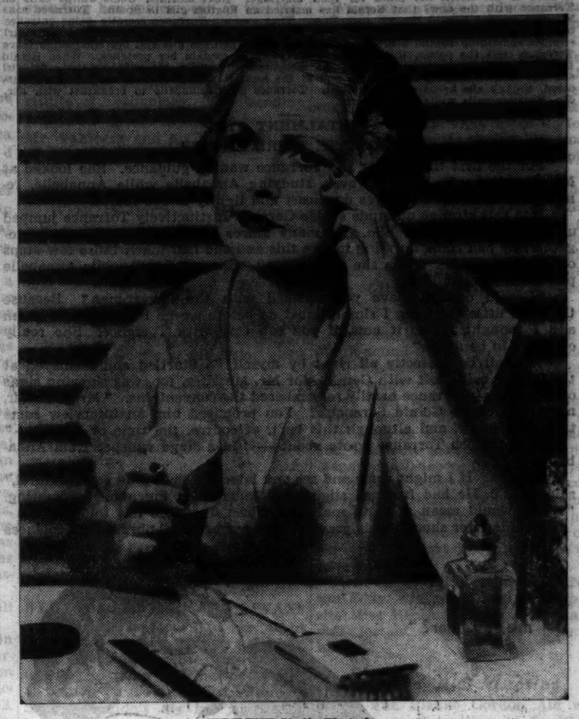
Their program for the current week contains four numbers, including the familiar "Cobra Tango," the "Veyolanda," and a new invention in comic toddles to the eccentric, omnipresent ditty called "The Music Goes Round and Round." The delicacy and refinement of their dancing, which revives the courtesy of another generation of ballroom dancing, does not lose its effectiveness in the large scale environment of the Chicago theater's stage and auditorium.

The bill also contains a hero of the moment, created by the cult for musical eccentricities, in the person of "Red" Hodgson, composer of "The Music Goes Round and Round." He proves to be an angular comedian of the dance bands, affecting traces of the hill-billy or village buffoon style of character, and he delivers the crazy song with a trumpet in hand, just as he did some four years ago before the number became a national obsession.

Walter Hampden will come to the Grand Opera house on March 16 in his last revival of "Cyrano de Bergerac." The engagement will be limited to two weeks.

"Porgy and Bess," George Gershwin's Negro folk opera, will end its New York run next Saturday night to go on tour. A Chicago engagement is expected.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS



[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

Some eye cream each day keeps the crows-feet away. A new eye cream that is rich in fine oils keeps the skin smooth and firm.

If you ask us, eyes are only as beautiful as their setting. Where's the profit in eyes of a trustful blue, a soulful brown, or a provocative half-and-half combination if the skin around them is crêpy and tired, the lashes sparse?

Eyes need more care these harassed days than they ever did before. The bonnets we plant on top of our heads certainly don't shade them; we all read a lot; frown plenty and probably sleep less than we should. At least, these seem the only logical explanations of the tired looking eyes we see everywhere on women from 18 upward.

And there are things you can do, you know, to keep away the age and agony signs. The right sort of eye cream, used regularly, keeps the crow's-feet away. There's a new one out of an unusually rich texture that's a two way affair. It's rich enough in fine oils to keep the dry, eager-to-wrinkle skin lubricated to the point of smoothness. At the same time it's stimulating enough to rouse the sluggish skin into a little action. If you've ever noticed, it's the skin around the eyes that gets tired first. No little muscles to keep it firm.

This special eye cream, faintly yellow and drippy with oils, is to be finger printed beneath the eyes and at the temples, pressed and patted in gently. You can leave it overnight if you wish.

Because this week is the cream's birthday it's also available in a special box of eye beauty aids—a bargain that contains just about everything you need to glorify the soul windows—the cream mentioned above, an elegant eye lotion, eyelash grower and darkener, some tissue oil to use on the lids and a tonic lotion to be used externally. There's even cleansing cream—and the price of the whole assortment is low.

Ruth Donnelly Puts This Film Above Average

"PERSONAL MAID'S SECRET."
Produced by Warner Brothers.
Directed by Arthur Greville Collins.
Presented at the Oriental theater.

THE CAST.

Joan.....Margaret Lindsay
Jimmy.....Warren Hull
Lizzie.....Ruth Donnelly
Diana.....Anita Louise

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"O, for a girl like Lizzie!"

So will sigh each and every young insurance broker who sees "Personal Maid's Secret." Unless he mutters with fear and feeling:

"Heaven deliver me from ever hiring a girl like that!"

You see, Lizzie is a promoter. She likes to see young folks get ahead. She has a way with her that, while not exactly hypnotic, still, does a heap of persuading. So—young Mrs. Smith who had visited the employment agency to hire a maid for $40, engages Lizzie for $70. . . .

The next thing she knows she has dug into her savings account for the wherewithal to purchase "mere necessities" in the way of silver which Lizzie feels she should have if she entertains—and Lizzie wants her to entertain because Lizzie knows that to do so will be awfully good for Mr. Smith's business. . . .

It is.

Lizzie feels that the Smiths should reside on the east instead of the west side.

They move. They're able to because the entertaining has resulted in marvelous business opportunities for Mr. Smith. After that it's no time at all till there's a landed estate in the Smith family and—O, what's the secret, you want to know?

Well—I guess we'll just let it go on being a secret till you see the picture. Lizzie lets it out along toward the end. But you've had your inklings long before she tells all. . . .

"Personal Maid's Secret" is Miss Ruth Donnelly's party, and she is practically the whole show.

Miss Donnelly, as you probably know, spends most of her screen life "supporting" other stars. In this photoplay she's been handed a merited chance to disport in the spotlight, and I know you'll like her. She has humor, intelligence and warmth and it is her work which gives this little programmer the lift that raises it from the ranks of the extremely ordinary modern era fairy tale.

She has a capable supporting cast, and the director handled his unremarkable scenario quite ably.

See you soon.

Music Notes

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Northwestern university announces a change of date for Marian Anderson's recital. The great colored contralto will sing in the Auditorium Sunday, Jan. 26, instead of Monday, Jan. 27, as originally planned. This is the last downtown event in the university's "History and Enjoyment of Music" series.

Rudolph Ganz, prominent Chicago pianist, conducted his own suite "Animal Crackers" last Saturday at the New York Philharmonic orchestra's children's concert.

Lily Pons is coming to Chicago for a recital. She is booked into Orchestra hall for Saturday, Feb. 1. Pons has become nationally famous within a very few years, with radio and the movies helping her on her climb to stellar positions. She is now a full-fledged member of that very small and select circle of triple threat singers.

David Van Vactor, flutist in the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has a program of his own composition scheduled for Orchestra hall foyer next Monday night. He will enlist the services of the Philharmonic String quartet, the Chicago Woodwind quartet, and Agatha Lewis, soprano. This is the young composer whose Concerto Grosso was performed Christmas eve by the orchestra.

The University of Chicago will revive Gluck's "Iphigenia in Tauris" at Mandel hall Jan. 24 and 25. Mary Ann Kauffman Brown has the principal rôle.

A Chicagoan who is doing things far from home is William Miller, the tenor who sang the young sailor in the concert version of "Tristan" here a month and a half ago. He is cast as Jenik in four performances of "The Bartered Bride" in St. Paul.

Harry H. Blums Will Be Wed 25 Years Tomorrow

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Blum will be married 25 years tomorrow. They plan to observe the event quietly in their home at 1540 Lake Shore drive.

BLACKSTONE IS DARK

Playgoers who went to the Blackstone theater last night expecting to see a performance of the Russian comedy called "Squaring the Circle," found nothing open but the box office, ready to refund money on advance ticket sales.

Today the members of the company will return to New York, using the stubs of the round trip tickets which brought them to Chicago, and with salaries paid in full.

However, William Vaughan, actor of the rôle of Vasya, is not without hope of salvage from the wreck. The impresario of the troupe, a New York dentist named Adolph Raboff, transferred his rights in the enterprise a few days ago to Mr. Vaughan and went back home. The latter has been scurrying around town seeking new backing, and especially the amount of a bond required by the rules of the Actors' Equity association—some $1,400.

"The original Equity bond had been exhausted," said Guy Hardy, manager of the Blackstone theater. "Withdrawals to meet salaries and bills caused Frank Dare, Equity's representative in Chicago, to rule that a new bond, covering two weeks' salaries, must be deposited before any more performances, either in Chicago or on tour, could be given. All salaries, wages, and other expenses to date, including Sunday night's performance, have been paid, and the company closes with a clean slate."

Vaughan stated that within the next day or two he might be able to secure backing that would finance the company, probably with changes in the cast, for a tour of other cities in the midwest.

Glenn Hunter, star of the company, has indicated a willingness to continue with the play.

Geographic Society.

Amos Burg will address the Geographic Society of Chicago this evening at Orchestra hall on "Voyaging Fuegian Seas for Cape Horn," showing motion pictures of the little known islands off the southern tip of South America.

WEDDING

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jane Getz, daughter of Mrs. Yetta Getz of 7045 Constance avenue, to James Samuelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Samuelson of 6044 Eberhart avenue. The wedding took place on Christmas.

Borsodi, Housing Authority, to Speak at Northwestern

Ralph Borsodi, economist and authority on housing, will speak on "The Home of the Future" in Thorne hall on Northwestern university's McKinlock campus tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock. The talk is part of the contemporary thought series and is open to the public without charge. Mr. Borsodi has written numerous books and articles on housing, among them being "Flight from the City" and "This Ugly Civilization."

Bright Buttons Give Glamor to Drab Gown

Some Spell Names Down Fronts of Dresses.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

More darn fun with buttons! Until you've seen the clever new arrivals displayed for decorating as well as holding collars, belts, and cuffs in place you have missed a good show! Buttons are a most important part of the dress, redeeming otherwise pluggy looking clothes into snappy, eye catching creations that make every one turn. For sports clothes and your pet knitted outfits, try the wooden buttons made with crystal centers, in the center of the circle of crystal either a fox head or a wee Scottie pup. You can have buttons and belt buckles to match.

The most cheerful buttons are the daisies, made of glistening colored celluloid. They are most realistic. Your fingers will positively itch to start pulling petals out. These come in clusters with a clip attachment, in a larger double cluster effect for a belt, and in single buttons that can be pinned on, like the trick buttons on a nurse's uniform. White ones with black, navy, and scarlet centers are stunning, as are brown eyed Susans. The same sunny yellow daisies with black centers will be splashing accents for printed silks. What better find for the daisy patterned silk prints than these exceedingly well copied flower buttons?

Initial buttons are here in either silver or gold metal, in caps as well as small letters. The best button trick of the year! You start right under your chin and spell your name, Chinese fashion, marching down the center of your blouse, jacket, or one piece dress. Lucky owners of long names are having a grand time spelling them out right down the front of the dress to the hemline. No, there are no numerals as yet. Maybe some wag will send them in later so that you can wear your telephone number, for a different decoration as well as subtle reminder to the interested!

Help Hospital.

The Women's auxiliary of the American hospital of Chicago has elected Miss Olga Menn president. Baroness Violet Winner was made vice president; Mrs. John P. McGoorty, treasurer; Mrs. Frank E. Simpson, secretary. More than 250 women already have joined the auxiliary, which was recently organized to provide hospital and nursing care to the needy.

Near East Party

Miss Jeanette Elliott, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Elliott of 1240 Astor street, will sing songs of the near eastern countries and wear a beautiful Albanian costume tomorrow at Mrs. Robert B. Gregory's residence, 1638 Prairie avenue, where there will be an exhibit and sale of near eastern handicraft from 10 o'clock until 6. Miss Katherine W. Reynolds, one of the national representatives of the Near East foundation, has come from New York to be in charge of the exhibit.

Mrs. Gregory has been interested in the work of the foundation for some time and she has a very fine collection of near east handicraft which includes the costume that Miss Elliott will wear. Hagop Mazlumian, known to his American friends as Jack Malcomb, will sing Armenian songs, accompanied by Glenn Harding. Mr. Harding, who was with the near east relief in Athens, brought Hagop back to America from Greece in 1923. Hagop was a real Greek refugee but now is an American citizen.

Moving pictures of Albania will be shown and Turkish coffee will be served by Mrs. Harding and Mrs. C. Raymond Andrew.

Founders' Day.

The Chicago graduate chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity will celebrate Founders' day at its monthly meeting at the Hamilton club tonight. The fraternity was founded at Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, in 1899. William Wilson, one of the earliest national officers of the fraternity, will speak.

I'll Never Tell

By Roy Vickers

SYNOPSIS.

Julius Saranack is murdered in his home, Hillfoot, in Callingham, England. Eight uncut diamonds of no great value are missing. Two days previously, Torrance Esdale, childhood sweetheart of Gerald Saranack, the murdered man's nephew, had appealed to her American employer, Hartland Massiter, to give Gerald an engineering job in Mexico. Gerald is expected back from Spain in two days. Massiter tells Torrance the job to be filled requires a married man. Though they had quarreled before he left, Torrance writes Gerald, in care of his uncle, her plans for their marriage. Next morning Uncle Julius calls on Torrance with the news that Gerald has married an English girl in Spain. Torrance asks Massiter to give Gerald the job regardless. That evening Torrance secretly gains entrance to Hillfoot and retrieves the letter. Then she hears voices, hides, and watches as a girl secretes something behind a brick in the fireplace. When the girl and her companion leave Torrance calls the police, then leaves, not wishing to explain her presence. When Gerald brings his bride to see her next day she recognizes Annabelle, his wife, as the same girl she had seen in Uncle Julius' house and at the hour it was later discovered he was murdered, though she keeps silent about it. Torrance asks Annabelle to breakfast with her. Mr. Massiter calls while she is there.

INSTALMENT VIII.

TOO LATE TO REMEMBER.

For the first time in her life Torrance wanted guidance. She looked at Mr. Massiter. He was, however, studying Annabelle while Annabelle, remote and frail, sat with eyes downcast and lightly folded hands.

Into this strange quietude strode Gerald. Instinctively Torrance jumped up and moved toward him. So many scores of times, in their years together, he had come bursting in like this and she had taken those few steps of welcome. . . . Then she remembered. She stood still while Annabelle put out a hand to him.

"Gerald darling, have you finished with the lawyer-man? Because there's a little shopping I simply must do before we go back to Callingham and I thought I'd do it now, if you can stay with Torrance. She really oughtn't to be alone."

"I shall be perfectly all right by myself!" Startled and dismayed at the idea of being left with Gerald—for Mr. Massiter, too, was showing signs of departure—Torrance hastily remembered the conventions. "Mr. Massiter, may I introduce Gerald Saranack? You promised him an interview some time, you know, and although this isn't, of course, the time or place——"

"It's the job Torrance wrote about——" in a stage whisper from Annabelle.

"O, yes. If I might come and see you later on, sir, I'd be very grateful," said Gerald. He had frowned slightly at Annabelle's ingenuous prompting. "A job would mean a lot to me, as I expect Torrance has told you."

Mr. Massiter shook hands gravely. His correct, well-phrased condolences and his expressionless face gave nothing away, but Torrance had the feeling that at first sight he approved of Gerald. Certainly Gerald was looking and sounding like the ideal candidate for a difficult job. In the month he had been away his face had lost its young petulance and grown thinner and almost stern. He no longer tugged at his hair and it lay like a bright brown cap on his finely modeled head. And he seemed taller somehow, and more solid.

Something savagely possessive rose up in Torrance. Gerald was still hers and she his, and they were going out to Mexico to work for Hartlandt K. Massiter and grow rich or stay poor—anyway, to be happy. . . . She shivered, moved—and found Annabelle's eyes intently upon her.

Annabelle smiled.

"I think I'll just slip away now, Torrence darling. Gerald will want to talk with you about all that's happened and I can come back here for him."

"My car is downstairs, Mrs. Saranack," put in Mr. Massiter, "and I should be happy to put it at your disposal." He rose and accompanied her to the door. "Let me tell my chauffeur where he is to take you."

"O, how very, very kind! But I can't think of depriving you. If you will give me a lift as far as your hotel that will be quite help enough. And Gerald will wait here till I get back, won't you, darling?"

Clever, thought Torrance! She felt almost frightened. Clever was this girl with the face of a flower, and determined and strong! Mr. Massiter wanted to out-stay Gerald and have a private word with Torrance. Gerald probably did not want to be left alone with Torrance—and Torrance most frantically did not want to be left alone with Gerald. But Annabelle pulled strings and her puppets danced. Again Torrance shivered.

Mr. Massiter was standing before her.

"Then I will say au revoir, Miss Esdale. I am staying at the Parnassus and I shall be really hurt if you do not call upon me to help you in some manner."

"Thank you, Mr. Massiter. I'll remember."

Mr. Massiter bowed. Then he bowed to Annabelle and opened the door for her, standing aside while she preceded him from the room.

Then he did an odd thing. With a flicker of the eyes, first at her retreating form and then at Torrance, he drew a newspaper from his pocket, laid it on the nearest chair, tapped it urgently with a finger and marched out in Annabelle's wake.

"Very sinister," commented Gerald dryly. "I hope you know the countersign? Is he giving me the chance of a job because you persuaded him? Because if he is——" He broke off and, leaning forward, took his head between his hands. It was a gesture of intense weariness of defeat. Then, dropping his hands, he looked up at her and for a long moment held her eyes with his.

She stood rooted. She felt she could not breathe.

"Yes," he said, as though he answered a question. "I have done a damnable thing. I've spoilt your life and my own. I know now that I've never stopped loving you, Torrance, not for one moment. And I've married Annabelle."

"Yes. You've married Annabelle." She had to wait for a moment before she could ask—"Why did you marry her?"

He made a defeated, angry sound.

"O heaven, there isn't any neat and tidy answer to that! Because I was sore with the knowledge of my perpetual inferiority to you—because out there in Spain I suddenly felt independent and rather a fine fellow and she was so stranded and little and forlorn—because I terribly wanted to take care of her. And I still want to. But—that isn't love, is it? This isn't love," he repeated as though he considered the fact for the first time. "It isn't what I felt for you, Torrance. I know that now. You were the whole meaning and background of life, you were my sweetheart and my partner whether you dragged me along or I dragged you——"

"Don't!" Her voice rose sharply. "It's too late to—to remember things. O, I don't mean to reproach you but if you have made a mistake all we can do is to help each other to bear it. We were splendid friends, anyway—that ought to make it easier for us to forget we were ever anything more."

Gerald stared at the floor.

"You know, it's odd but in a way you're much younger than Annabelle," he said. "She's the most childlike creature I've ever met, fragile and trusting and unselfish and absolutely innocent. She hasn't an inkling, for instance, about—about us. But all the same I feel she's older than you in her emotions. If she knew it was you I'd always loved she'd never believe that from now on I could feel only friendship for you. She often surprises me by the—well, almost sophisticated way she judges people."

"What would happen to her if she knew about us?"

"She'd break her heart, that's all." Gerald was vehement and direct. "I've done harm enough, Torrance. I can't add that particular cruelty to it."

She was silent. What could she say? If he had been right about Annabelle it would be like trampling on a flower.

She stifled a sob of fear. What to tell him—what never to tell him or any one else—racked her tormented brain. Thank heavens, there was the telephone! She crossed the room to answer it.

"Yes? Who? . . . O, Mr. Massiter! I didn't expect—yes, certainly. I can come at once. . . . The newspaper? No, I haven't yet. I'll look through it on my way to you. Good-by."

"Is that the millionaire?" demanded Gerald as she hung up. "I thought you'd finished your contract with him."

"He wants to see me at his hotel. It may be some more work." But she did not think so.

"Is he in love with you?" asked Gerald savagely.

"Why should he be! I've never thought about it," gasped Torrance. "O, how awful if he is—he's been so kind!"

"I'm sorry," said Gerald. "It's no business of mine, now. I forgot."

Mendelssohn Piece Is Stricken from Furtwaengler Concert

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—That a German conductor in the third reich must watch his step regarding Mendelssohn came home to Wilhelm Furtwaengler when he conducted a concert of the Vienna Philharmonic orchestra in Budapest last week.

The conductor's embarrassment leaked out when some one announced the program prematurely. A composition by Mendelssohn appeared, but just before the concert it was deleted in favor of a Schumann symphony. It was officially announced that the Mendelssohn opus would require more rehersal time, an excuse scarcely calculated to convince those believing that the musicians of the Vienna Philharmonic play classics like Mendelssohn's in their sleep.

Shirred Eggs Stretch Meals Miraculously

Unexpected Guests Certain to Relish Them.

BY MARY MEADE.

When dinner for four has to be stretched to dinner for eight, what then, my clever friends? Do you add a hearty soup? Serve everything on toast with a great deal of filling garnishments? Or—do you consider the possibilities of shirred eggs?

In the latter form of dinner stretching magic you need, to begin with, some of those individual shallow casseroles.

Next, from your original dinner menu the trick is to salvage something to serve as a basis for your shirred egg casserole dish. Divide the meat into small portions. Likewise divide the cooked vegetables and heat the combination thoroughly in the small casseroles. Just before serving slip a whole egg right into the middle of the hot dish, dot it with butter, seasonings, and maybe a little cream, and return the whole thing to a moderate oven to set the egg. The result? An attractive and filling one dish meal—at a minimum of trouble for you!

Maybe we've been too indefinite about this underpinning for the shirred egg, however. These suggested combinations may tempt you to plan one of them outright, or at any rate help in your adapting some slim dinner to the casserole idea.

I.

Small slice frizzled ham
Cooked spinach
Buttered carrots
Buttered potato balls

Arrange the cooked ham, spinach, carrots, and potatoes separately in the individual casserole. Add a tablespoonful of water to the bottom of the dish, heat for 10 minutes in a moderate oven, and break an egg over the top of the hot ham. Dot with butter, season, and return to oven to set egg.

II.

Codfish cake
Buttered cauliflower
Julienne potatoes
Cheese sauce

Arrange the codfish cake and cauliflower separately in the casserole. Heat, drop an egg in beside the codfish cake, and cover with several tablespoonfuls of thin cheese sauce. Bake in a moderate oven until the egg is set, garnish with a few brown julienne potatoes, and serve at once.

III.

[This one accomplishes the difficult feat of dividing four chops among eight people—without that stretched look!]

Browned diced pork or lamb [cut from chops]
Small cooked whole onions
Cooked peas
Mashed potatoes

With a pastry tube pipe a border of mashed potatoes around the edge of each casserole. Inside the border arrange a row of the small cooked onions, alternately with little mounds of cooked peas and pieces of meat. Heat in the oven, break an egg into the center of the dish, dot with butter, season, and return to the oven to finish baking.

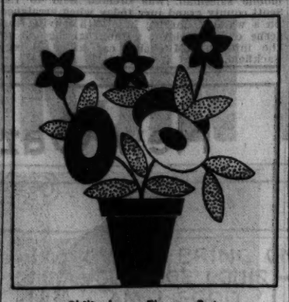
Quilt Possesses Charm of Early Dutch Settlers



Philipsburg Flower Pot.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Philipsburg Flower Pot" first was made in a Pennsylvania town called Philipsburg Center many long years ago. It possesses all the charm typical of the Dutch who settled in that territory to make early American history. Only 16 applique blocks are required when combined with 26 plain colored blocks. Each square measures 12 inches when completed. The entire quilt is finished with a 10½ inch border and bound with a one-half inch binding around the border.

For a limited period Nancy Cabot offers 10 quilt patterns of her own choice at a price of 10 cents for the group (12 cents by mail). Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street, or Tribune Tower.

mann, Mrs. John Dern, Mrs. Harry H. Shearson, and Mrs. Frank S. Sims.

The abscessed ear that prevented Walter F. Dillingham from accompanying his wife from Boston to Chicago last week has delayed him longer than anticipated and he hasn't joined Mrs. Dillingham yet at the John Alden Carpenters' hospitable home at Lake Shore drive and Bellevue place. He will be here very soon, however, and in the meantime Mrs. Dillingham is being kept busy seeing old friends and relatives.

Today Mrs. Dillingham will be one of the several out-of-town guests at a tea Mrs. Charles H. Hamill is having after the symphony concert at the Hamill apartment, 179 Lake Shore drive. Most of Mrs. Hamill's guests, including Mrs. Dillingham, will spend the early afternoon at Orchestra hall where Mina Hager will be the soloist. Miss Hager will sing Handel's solo cantata, "Lucrezia" and Mr. Carpenter's Gitanjali songs.

Miss Hager will be the especial guest at a tea and cocktail party Dr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Byfield are giving after the concert in their Italian court studio. Mrs. Byfield is honorary president of the Woman's Symphony orchestra.

Friday after the concert there will be a procession of women walking south on Michigan avenue from Orchestra hall to the Fine Arts building to attend the tea that will open Maude Phelps Hutchins' exhibition in the Dell Quest galleries.

Mrs. Hutchins, the wife of the president of the University of Chicago, Robert M. Hutchins, has invited quite a number of friends to assist, including Mrs. Arthur A. Small and her sister, Mrs. Robert R. McCormick; Mrs. Harold Stark, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. Charles Breasted, Mrs. John A. Carpenter, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, Mrs. Edward H. Bennett, Mrs. Henry Gale, and Mrs. Carl Bricken.

Dr. Chang to Address Friends of China.

The American Friends of China have cards out for a tea at the Casino next Monday afternoon at which Dr. P. C. Chang, professor of philosophy at Nankai university, Tientsin, China, will speak on "The Meeting of the Chinese and Russian Theaters." Tea will be served at 4:30 o'clock, and Dr. Chang will begin his lecture 15 minutes later.

Dorothy Thompson [Mrs. Sinclair Lewis] is to talk about "How Europe Looks Today" at the Woman's Athletic club at 11 o'clock next Thursday. Because so many members have gone away, each member may invite three guests instead of the usual two.

The date of the big benefit planned for Feb. 6 has been changed to the 7th because so many members of the boards of the three charities sponsoring the affair are regular Thursday night concert-goers and the 6th is a Thursday. Emerson House, Madonna center, and Sunset camp are the three charitable organizations that will benefit from the affair, the opening of Saks' new store.

Prenuptial Parties for Miss Croft.

A young couple who are to be married on Jan. 25, Miss Bettina Croft and Edwin W. Sims Jr., are the special guests of many parties. Edward Gammie and Frank Crum entertained at cocktails last Saturday afternoon in their apartment, and Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sampson entertained similarly.

Mrs. Stewart R. Peacock is giving a luncheon for the bride-to-be at the Chicago Athletic association, and the following noon Mrs. Truman R. Barnes will give a luncheon in her home. Mrs. Paul Robinson will give a dinner party at the Palmer house Friday night, and Saturday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. John Ford Evans [Priscilla Sims] and Charles Newhall will give a tea-dance in the ballroom of the Powhatan apartments. Miss Eloise Abrahamson is giving a luncheon and bridge party for Miss Croft Friday at the Blackstone.

On the Tuesday before the wedding Miss Kathryn Benson will give a dinner party at the Congress hotel and the next afternoon the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Sims, will give a tea-dance at the Drake. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Croft, the bride's parents, will give the bridal dinner at home at 900 North Michigan avenue on the night before the wedding.

The wedding will take place at 8 o'clock in the evening in the Croft residence and a reception will follow at 9 o'clock in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. Mr. Sims and his bride will be at home after March 15 at 210 East Pearson street.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. North of Lake Forest, the former Sarah Jackson, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Friday.

Dashing, Military, Youthful

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

It's dashing and youthful, this early spring frock with the military air! The stand-up collar is jaunty, and the smart tucking at the shoulders is prim and tailored. And buttons! What woman doesn't love the special chic they lend to a frock? The sleeves of this model are especially worthy of a few lusty cheers. They're full and comfortable, and their graceful folds descend fashionably into a slightly fitted line at the wrist, accented, of course, by smart buttons like those which march cleverly down the front of the bodice.

The original of this frock was created in smoke gray wool jersey, which shines in the fashion limelight again.

Style No. 2548 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 4⅛ yards of 39 inch material.

Junior Leagues AskConference to Meet Here

Chicago, Evanston Join in Invitation.

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

If the plans of the Chicago and Evanston Junior leagues materialize the leagues will be hosts to the 1937 Association of Junior Leagues of America national convention, which would mean that in May of that year more than 400 members of Junior leagues of the country would arrive here to be wined and dined and to discuss at a series of meetings policies and programs of interest to Junior leagues.

These plans were discussed at a meeting of the Chicago Junior league yesterday at the Drake hotel. But the fact that Chicago and Evanston intend to invite the A. J. L. A. does not indicate that it will accept, for at least three or four cities ask for the national meeting each year.

But should the A. J. L. A. accept, the arrival of the 400 odd delegates would not be a great tax on individual hostesses, for, as Miss Margot Atkin explained, members in whose homes the visitors are billeted are not responsible for much more than beds, breakfasts, and gasoline because the association finances the conventions and delegates. Chicago never has been host to the Junior League association.

This year's national conference will be held in Richmond, Va.

The Chicago league is interested in two affairs now, the arts and interests show at the Casino a week from Thursday and the annual spring second-hand clothes sale on April 2. Miss Virginia Melody is general chairman of the sale committee.

Another meeting, that of the Service club, occupied the interest of younger women yesterday. It was held at the Woman's Athletic club and was the occasion on which Mrs. Frank G. Osborne [Anne Robinson] turned over the leadership of the club to Mrs. Frank S. Sims [Betty McNair]. Mrs. Sims has been one of the hardest working members of the club since her debutante days and her election to the presidency was cheered by the several hundred members.

Mrs. Sims was receiving congratulations yesterday not only upon becoming chief officer of the Service club but upon the birth just three weeks ago of her second son.

Looking like the million dollars the club would like to make some time for its many charities, she spoke yesterday with force and optimism that augur well for the success of the club during the coming year.

The club is starting the new year with a reduced membership, since the roster recently was pared down to exclude those who have not kept up their share of responsibility in the club's program.

To the membership has been added a score of debutantes who gave their services to the annual revue held last fall, and who now have been invited to join the club.

Other officers elected include Miss Marion Newcomet, first vice president; Mrs. Ernest Byfield, second vice president; Mrs. Leslie B. Olmsted, treasurer; Miss Lucy Harrison, recording secretary, and Mrs. Lawrence Nelson, corresponding secretary.

William Gillette Returns to the Stage in "Three Wise Fools"

Newark, N. J., Jan. 13.—(AP)—William Gillette, for half a century a star of the stage, emerged from a five year retirement at 80 tonight in a revival of "Three Wise Fools" at the Shubert theater.

A fond and enthusiastic audience marveled at the agility and snap of the star in the rôle of the choleric gentleman of Austin Strong's sentimental drama, a rôle created in 1920 by Claude Gillingwater.

Always aloof from his public, Gillette gave no explanation for returning to the stage. His manager confided, however, that he suffers recurrent nostalgia for acting and its camaraderie.

In this rôle, on the first night, he was occasionally not as sure as he doubtless will be after facing another audience or so.

But for the most part his performance belied his years. His voice is vibrant and authoritative and the action of the play requires him to be brisk and fussy.

Will Rogers' daughter Mary has a rôle of almost equal importance to the star's. A lovely ingénue, she brings a gracious persuasiveness to the part of the waif, and was welcomed quite as heartily as Gillette.

Winter Creates Own Necessity for the Use of a Deodorant

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Deodorants, it is reported reliably, are selling in greater volume now than at any time in history. I learn that even in winter the sales volume is high, but not nearly so heavy as in the warm weather. Naturally, one would not expect it to be so heavy in the cold months. But complaints come in from various sources where numbers of girls are employed calling attention to the fact that in the heated offices one may become as distressing a nuisance to co-workers as in summertime. From store departments where trying on dresses is done actively, complaints are likewise registered against women who fail to realize that, even in winter, precautions must be taken.

It's all so simple nowadays to buy and use a deodorant, that it is not necessary to go into details. It is enough to remind women that they have to keep aware of the possibility of this trouble rearing its unlovely head.

Also, there's an item in connection with the subject of which we speak. I refer to the airing of winter clothing of the wool variety, especially, before it is put away in the closet. One always can put a dress on a hanger and hang it up in the room so that the air from the night-opened window gets a good chance at it. It's this failure, more often than bodily neglect, that causes the warm office unpleasantness. If a dress is put away with perspiration odor clinging to it, the odor will permeate the whole closet. Shoes, too, should be subjected to the same airing.

Nowadays, particular women are as meticulous about the fresh, sweet odor of a clothes closet as they can be. And it pays to be so, for the one who takes pride in the clean scent upon opening a closet door never will be guilty of tucking away any garment bearing a tainted odor.

There are people who take the greatest care of themselves who yet suffer with an unpleasant odor. For those who find deodorants ineffective, the use of a little chlorinated soda or chlorimine in the bath water will be found effective. But be careful not to let chlorinated water come in contact with the eyes.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Goodrich Hubart, 1489 Asbury avenue, Evanston, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Jane Hatfield Hobart, to Robert William Vahlberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vahlberg of Oklahoma City. Miss Hobart attended Monticello seminary and the University of Oklahoma and is spending her senior year at the University of Illinois. Mr. Vahlberg was graduated last June from the University of Oklahoma and is studying architecture at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The wedding will take place in September and Mr. Vahlberg and his bride will live in Oklahoma City.

The engagement of Miss Margaret F. Webb to Harry A. Wardenburg, son of Mrs. Alice Wardenburg, 7626 Eastlake terrace, was announced at a tea Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. McAuley, 3920 Lake Shore drive. Miss Webb is a graduate of Mundelein college and Mr. Wardenburg of Northwestern university. The wedding will take place in June.

An Inconsistent Adult Will Rear Confused Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"I hesitate to speak to her about it," said a woman of her neighbor. "You never know which way the cat is going to jump with her. She may be as nice as pie and say, 'Of course Sandy shouldn't dig up your tulip bulbs,' or she may snap out, 'Well, I can't watch my dog all day—people should fence in their gardens if they're so particular!' You never know whether she's going to take your head off or be all peaches and cream."

There are lots of children who feel that way about their parents. They have no sense of security, or perhaps I should call it serenity, about how their actions will be met.

"I broke a pane of glass in the Smith's garage, mother," said a boy the other day with fear and trembling.

"Did you? Well, I suppose every boy breaks a window once in a while. How much of your allowance have you got left?"

"Gosh, mom! I thought you'd be awful mad. I thought you were going to take my head off."

This boy was old enough to be articulate about the situation. But the smaller children aren't. They don't even formulate their responses to themselves, but they become bewildered and confused by a parent who is entirely unpredictable.

It's not good for a child of any age to feel a sense of uncertainty as to how his mother or father will take things. And I mean whether it concerns a trifle like leaving toys around, or disobeying, or breaking a window—or a more serious thing, such as may occur to the adolescent boy or girl in his or her more mature actions and relationships.

Sometimes the unevenness of a mother or father is due to worry or unhappiness that makes them irritable and snappy. Sometimes it's due to ill health. Sometimes it's due to a less worthy cause—the fact that you resent the children's interference with your personal convenience, or care too much what people think, or just have let yourself become an uncontrolled, selfish person.

Try to be fair and consistent with your children. Many frictions and behavior troubles will clear up if you do.

Tiredness is a factor we didn't mention. We have a fully written leaflet, entitled "Tips for Tired Mothers," which will be sent on receipt of a large stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Campus Crowd Makes a Movie Preview Lively

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—When the studio producing "Rose Marie" booked its first public preview in the Westwood Village theater, the studio forgot that Westwood Village is the seat of the University of California at Los Angeles campus and that the campus is seething with athletic vigor since its football team recently ended the coast conference season as co-champion with Stanford.

When time came for the show house doors to open, a crowd which had been waiting some time to get in rushed straight through the lobby in one grand football rush, knocking people against the walls, trampling some of them, and breaking the doors inward.

Stars and invited guests of M. G. M. studio found their reserved seats held by embattled autograph seekers. When some of the actresses tried to grope their way to seats they found people pushing in with them and sitting down in their laps. The studio staf hurriedly sent a call for police. Meantime, Jeanette MacDonald, star of the film, tried to enter the front door, but a dozen men and women swept through with and behind her. Jeanette's hat was knocked over one ear and she lost her gloves in the commotion.

Mrs. Isabel Eddy, mother of Nelson Eddy, who plays and sings opposite Miss MacDonald in the film, also was jostled, but took it in good humor.

According to CULBERTSON

Tuesday is Expert's day in Ely Culbertson's column. Write your bridge comments, suggestions, and interesting hands to him, care of this paper. For questions, remember to inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

TOO MANY TRUMPS.

A hand recently was sent to me with the request that I should approve or condemn the penalty double of the final contract, which was stated to be four spades; the intermediate bidding was left to my imagination.

Accustomed as I am to bridge atrocities, I never have become sufficiently hardened to look upon them with professional indifference. This time I actually winced when a glance at the hand revealed that twelve tricks were certain in no trump! How four spades could have been selected will have to remain one of life's mysteries.

The bidding should have been:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 dmnds.	Pass
4 no trump	Pass	6 dmnds.	Pass
6 no trump [final bid]

At the remarkable contract of four spades, the play was extremely interesting.

West made the excellent opening lead of the trump queen. [Holding six trumps, this almost always is the best attack.] South won the ace, and cleared away the ace of hearts. Then South cashed his remaining hearts and two of dummy's top diamonds, after which the king and the small club were led, placing the lead in South. At this stage the situation was:

NORTH

SOUTH

On the lead of the club queen, West faced a hopeless proposition. In actual fact, it did not matter whether he ruffed with the jack, the nine, or the deuce—he could not win more than two tricks! If the jack were selected, North would, of course, discard a diamond. Now the spade nine return would be won by North's ten, the queen of diamonds led, and South's last club discarded while West ruffed. This would result in West leading from his 8-3 up to declarer's A-7. Similarly, if West ruffed the club with the nine, dummy's ten would over-ruff and the diamond be led for a club discard. West would ruff and have left the J 8 3 of trump to South's A 7 6—two tricks for South.

The best play for West would be to ruff with a low trump. Even this, however, would be unavailing. North would over-ruff with the five and lead a diamond, which South would ruff with the ace! Now, the last club lead would assure dummy's spade ten of winning the third trick of the last five.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: My partner and I were defending a four spade contract. We had taken three tricks, when my partner threw his hand, face upward, on the table and conceded the rest of the tricks. I still had the highest outstanding trump, and claimed a trick, but the others said the concession must stand. How about this?

Answer: If a side concedes a trick which it could not lose by any play of the cards, such concession is void.

YOUR STOMACH AT WORK ★ Curious Facts About Digestion

THERE ARE 300 THINGS SOLD FOR ACID INDIGESTION, SOME CONTAINING 20 OR MORE MEDICINAL INGREDIENTS. YET IMMEDIATE RELIEF CAN BE HAD FROM A LITTLE TRIANGULAR TABLET CARRIED IN THE POCKET AND MUNCHED LIKE CANDY!
GREAT COMFORT IN SMALL SPACE! THIS IS EXACT SIZE OF THE TABLET THAT NEUTRALIZES ACID IN THE STOMACH.
P

Yes, it's curious what some people do when they have a pain in the stomach, a little gas, or attack of "indigestion!"

They take all sorts of remedies with high-sounding names. They clutter home and office with bottles and spoons, and all sorts of preparations.

When one little thing they could tuck in a pocket might have straightened them out in a hurry!

Years ago, a man named Pape discovered a simple way to relieve distress due to acid stomach. Diapepsin, in tablets that are just eaten like candy, has brought happiness to thousands who thought they had a "weak stomach."

If you have distress after meals, any acid discomfort at all, your stomach is probably slow in emptying. If you relieve this condition with Pape's Diapepsin, you can eat with more enjoyment!

Try it! Carry the pocket tin and take a tablet or two after meals until your digestion is "clicking" and all that sourness is gone. Pape's Diapepsin; remember the name.

FOREIGN CITY OF OLD WORLD 3½ HOURS FROM U. S.

Monterrey Just 148 Miles Beyond Border.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTERREY, Mexico, Jan. 13.—Three and a half hours' drive from the border at Laredo, Tex., took THE TRIBUNE roadster to this city, as foreign as if in another hemisphere. The 148 miles of pavement is part of the incomplete highway to Mexico City that has stirred the imagination of Chicagoland motorists.

From the open French window of a clean and comfortable hotel here comes a balmy breeze. Over the flat roofs of one and two story adobe [mud] houses tower the belfries of a cathedral built in 1790. Beyond the church is one of the mountains of the Sierra Madres that surround the city.

Advertise Bull Fight.

In a plaza in front of the hotel benches are shaded by giant date palms, fruit-bearing orange trees and other tropical vegetation not recognized by this visitor. Among posters pasted on a nearby wall is an advertisment for a bull fight.

The population of 135,000 includes descendants of the Spanish conquistadores and of the Indians who met the soldiers of Don Diego de Montemayork when he settled here in 1596 to work the silver mines. There is a foreign colony of Americans, English, and Germans, some employed in the smelters and rolling mills.

The drive here from the border is over a bituminous macadam pavement, smooth except for occasional chuck holes. In the main, it is a flat country heavily grown with cactus, huisache, chaparral and yuccas. There are thatched huts of Indians who plow small fields with oxen.

Buy Mexican Money.

Before crossing the border at Laredo, Mexican money was purchased at $27.85 for 100 pesos. The automobile was bonded for 3 pesos and a tourist permit purchased for 3.60 Mexican. A Mexican customs inspector said about twenty-five American automobiles a day are entering this port, most of them headed for Monterrey, but a few en route to Mexico City.

THE TRIBUNE roadster is being loaded with canned groceries, sandwiches and water for the 614 mile drive from here to the capital, which with luck will be reached in less than 24 hours of travel. In so far as can be learned, there is no food, water nor bed of certain cleanliness in this 614 miles of doubtful road conditions through tropical jungles, precipitous mountains, and expansive deserts. [Mileage charts give the distance 2,194 miles from Chicago to Mexico City.]

Mexican authorities say the road will be officially opened to tourists by the middle of May. Since 1929 they have been announcing periodically that the highway would be finished in several months. Pascual Ortiz Rubio, former president of Mexico, is heading a company that announces plans to build a string of modern tourist camps between Monterrey and the Mexican capital.

Overrides All Blue Island Board: Reappoints Chief

Despite the unanimous disapproval of the village board, Mayor Fred A. Rice of Blue Island last night reappointed Albert Eick, former chief of police of Crestwood, as acting police chief of Blue Island for a thirty day period. Eich is a former sergeant of the state highway police under former Gov. Len Small. He succeeds Chief George J. Fiedler, who was suspended for ninety days on Oct. 13 for using automobile license plates not his own. Mayor Rice said Fiedler would return to the force today as a sergeant.

Police Release Henneman, Hold Schaaf in Slaying

George Henneman, secretary-treasurer of the painters' union, local 191, who has been held since Saturday in connection with the murder of his wife, Elsie, was released yesterday by Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police. William Schaaf, a former official of the union, identified by Henneman as one of three men who killed his wife while she was riding with him, is being held. An inquest into the slaying will be held Friday at the county morgue.

TWIST OF LIGHT RAYS MEASURED FOR FIRST TIME

Existence of "Spin" Is Shown in Test.

Worcester, Mass., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Measuring the spin of light—the twisting force its rays exert on anything solid—a scientific feat never done before, was announced today in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. Richard A. Beth of Worcester Polytechnic institute.

Spin of light, or its angular momentum, means that each particle, or photon, of light is capable of spinning like a speeding rifle bullet.

Spin was Pure Theory.

This spin has been pure theory until Dr. Beth found a method of proving its existence and measuring it by training a beam of light on a circular quartz plate one inch in diameter and about three-thousandths of an inch thick.

The light came from a tungsten filament glowing at temperatures ranging from 4,500 to 5,000 degrees Fahrenheit. The quartz plate hung in a vacuum and the light before striking the plate was polarized by passing it through a Nicol prism.

"The experiment," Dr. Beth states in his report, "proves that light can be made to exert a twisting force on a material object. In other words, light or radiation can be made to carry an angular momentum through empty space which may be transferred to matter.

Observed as Twisting Force.

"The angular momentum is observed as a twisting force or torque on the disk by suspending the disk from a very fine quartz fiber about a foot long. The torque measured was about one ten-quadrillionth of a pound-foot. A pound-foot is the twisting force represented by a force of one pound acting at the circumference of a wheel one foot in diameter.

"The value of the experiment lies in the further verification it affords the modern theory of light and because modern technique has made it possible to detect an effect which was considered entirely beyond human observation only a few decades ago."

Off for Utah

Thirty-eight students and graduates of the University of Witwatersrand, at Johannesburg, South Africa, who are touring the United States to study American mining, visited Tribune Tower yesterday. They departed last night for Salt Lake City, Utah. The group arrived at New York on Jan. 6. By the time they return home the South Africans will have covered 28,000 miles, according to F. D. Cartwright, one of the leaders.

TOUHY RELEASE DELAYED AS BAIL IS INSUFFICIENT

"Terrible Tommy" Touhy, charged with participation in a $78,000 mail robbery in St. Paul on Jan. 3, 1933, remained in federal custody in Chicago yesterday when property offered by Michael J. Norris, 104 South Central avenue, a tavern keeper, as bond for his release, was found insufficient.

Federal Judge Walter C. Lindley gave Touhy until 10 a. m. tomorrow to complete the bond, and the indications were that Attorney Joseph Roach, representing Touhy, would find the additional property required. Touhy's bond was fixed at $50,000, but the property to cover it must be double this amount.

Meanwhile the order issued Saturday by United States Commissioner Walker, ordering Touhy removed to St. Paul, was held in abeyance until tomorrow, and Touhy remained in custody at the County hospital.

Civil Service Commission Orders 5 Policemen Fired

Five policemen were ordered discharged yesterday by the city civil service commission which heard the charges against them last Wednesday. The men discharged and the reasons: John T. Addison, false arrest of two young women; Charles E. Daley, beating his estranged wife.

DISPLAY NEWEST DEVICES TO WIN (OR LOSE) COINS

Makers Exhibit Games of Chance.

New methods of coaxing small coins from the pockets of the public are on exhibit at the Hotel Sherman in connection with the convention of the National Association of Coin Operated Machine Manufacturers.

Many of the devices are of slot machine or pin game types in which a small coin is invested in the hope of receiving a return of from two to twenty times the investment.

Live Mouse Picks Winner.

One of the features of the exhibit depends upon a live mouse for its element of chance. This device, which gained popularity several months ago in night clubs and gambling rooms of the southwest, consists of a table about 4 feet square, around the edges of which are a series of colored holes. A glass wall about twelve inches high surrounds the table.

The operator of the game places in the exact center of the table a box containing a live mouse. He raises the box and the mouse scurries for cover. The color of the hole down which the mouse dives determines the winner of the game.

Vending Machines on Display.

Other than the speculative games there are numerous vending machines on exhibit.

W. A. Tratsch of the A. B. T. Manufacturing company, Chicago, yesterday was elected president of the association. He succeeded Fred L. Mills of the Mills Novelty company. Convention officials said 90 per cent of the manufacturers are located in Chicago.

MURDEROUS GAS ATTACK ON HOME IS INVESTIGATED

Will county authorities sought yesterday to determine whether five persons who were overcome by poison gas in a shack at New Lenox Sunday night were the victims of an intended murder plot. Sherif Michael Breen of Will county said the five escaped death by only a matter of seconds.

The shack, which is about six miles east of Joliet on the Lincoln highway, is the home of Leonard Wetzel, 38 years old, a dairy farmer.

Wetzel and his three daughters, Dorothy, 16 years old; Marjorie, 12, and Virginia, 9, and Stella Stevens, 13, daughter of a neighbor, were seated at dinner, and Mrs. Wetzel was in the kitchen when Virginia fell to the floor.

A moment later the three other girls fell off their chairs and Wetzel began to feel ill, but he was able to throw open the windows and doors, to put the four unconscious girls in his automobile and to take them to the home of Dr. Janet Holt, five miles away, where all were revived.

Dr. Holt asserted that she believed a poisonous gas had been introduced through a keyhole. She declared the poisoning was not the result of coal gas or tainted food.

Footprints found outside the shack were investigated as a clew. Wetzel was questioned by the sherif to determine if the poison attack might be connected with disputes in the milk business in the northern Illinois territory, but denied that he had any enemies among his competitors.

AUTOIST HELD IN CAR DEATH.

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Kenneth Mitchell, 34 years old, Davenport automobile salesman, was ordered held to the Scott county grand jury today when arraigned on a warant charging him with leaving the scene of an accident without giving aid to the injured. Mitchell's car killed Robert Sackfield, 63, of Davenport.

RETZLAFF BOOM IS ON! 5 OR 6 FANS PICK HIM

What if Louis Bout Proves 'Em Right?

BY FRENCH LANE.

In time the steadily growing support for Charley Retzlaff, who fights Joe Louis at the Chicago Stadium Friday night, may reach astounding proportions. In fact, if things keep piling up, there may be a Retzlaff landslide.

CHARLEY RETZLAFF.

Rallying to the Retzlaff banner yesterday was none other than Mrs. Charley Retzlaff herself of Leonard, N. D. Twenty-four hours earlier former Gov. William Langer of North Dakota had thrown his support to Charley.

Then, there's Jim Mullen. About the time the match was made Jim, who dug up this newest foe for the Brown Bomber, also declared for Retzlaff.

Don't Like Joe.

Previously King Levinsky, Primo Carnera, Max Baer, and Pauline Uzcudun, for reasons best known to themselves, expressed a keen desire to be on anybody's side except that of the Brown Bomber.

And last night there was some talk that Mr. Mullen had made still another strategic move and that by noon today Society Kid Hogan would be carrying the Retzlaff banner.

All this will give you a rough idea of the speed with which the Retzlaff movement is gaining momentum. When and where is it going to stop?

Like Braddock Fight?

Another talking point for the Retzlaff contingent is the similarity of the impending scrap to that one in New York less than a year ago when Max Baer encountered an unexpected beating at the hands of just such another underrated fighter as Retzlaff is—James J. Braddock, the present world's champion.

Braddock's wife and kids thought he would win that fight, but no one else did. It turned out that Braddock's wife and kids knew what they were talking about.

It all must be very exciting both to the fight goers and to Joe Louis' bankers, for $35,000 was in the till at the Stadium last night as a result of the advance sale of tickets. With the fight still four days away a $100,000 gathering is freely predicted in all quarters, even by Mr. Mullen, who forgot the fighters just long enough late yesterday to take one little peep into the counting room.

Fans Pack Training Quarters.

Word that Louis at last had hit his best form and that he was finally hammering his sparring mates around most unmercifully sent a capacity crowd into Trafton's gymnasium during his training session yesterday.

He showed to better advantage in this drill than at any time since he started getting ready for the encounter with Retzlaff and those who a few days ago were shaking their heads and bemoaning the fact that he was undertrained were gradually changing their tune.

The crowd at Madison Square gymnasium, where Retzlaff worked, was not as large as the one which assembled to see Louis, yet it appeared to be a ringwise gathering. The fellows who think they know all about fistic affairs were there and were trying to find out if Retzlaff had even a ghost of a chance with the former Golden Gloves champion. They watched Charley knock a sparmate flat on his back.

Still they were not ready to return a verdict after yesterday's drill ended. They may come to some sort of a conclusion after they see the rugged North Dakota fellow work today.

Eddie Mader, heavyweight of New York, and Art Sykes, Eddie Long's Syrian, yesterday were matched to box the eight round semi-final. Mader is rated as the best prospect among the eastern heavies. Sykes is best remembered for his eight round battle against Louis. He held the Brown Bomber on even terms for seven rounds only to fall a victim to a right hand knockout wallop in the next session.

FIGHT IN PHILADELPHIA?

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Mike Jacobs, Twentieth Century Sporting club promoter, today was giving serious consideration to Philadelphia as a possible site for the Max Schmeling-Joe Louis bout.

"Philadelphia has made a very attractive offer," Jacobs declared. "I have been offered either the Municipal stadium or Franklin field for the fight and there are strong political and civic groups ready to back the proposition."

The promoter admitted he has a bid also from Chicago. He left for Chicago late today to attend the Louis-Charley Retzlaff fight Friday night at Chicago Stadium.

Talking It Over

BY ARCH WARD.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

NO university boxing team in the country will have a stronger 1936 schedule than Wisconsin. . . . The Badgers will meet in succession Pittsburgh, North Dakota, Minneapolis Golden Gloves champions, Syracuse, Eastern Maryland, Penn State, eastern intercollegiate champion; Washington State, Pacific coast champion, and Michigan State. . . . In the third block of the challenge match for the three cushion billiard title Welker Cochran wanted to sandpaper his cue. . . . Somebody suggested that he use the paper on the shelf opposite his chair, but he said: "That's all right for sandpapering a horse's foot, but not a billiard cue." . . . At that, Willie Hoppe quietly brought out a piece of the paper Cochran desired and handed it to him. . . . A veiled warfare is going on between the big shots and the unknowns among golf professionals on the subject of tournaments. . . . The established boys with reputations desire only a few big money meets, while the young men coming up are willing to play for cash and glory every day of the week. . . .

Minneapolis will give Bernie Bierman a civic dinner shortly as appreciation of his accomplishments at the university. . . . Texas schools soon will announce that they are following the precedent of the Southeastern conference in recognizing athletic ability as a qualification for a scholarship. . . . Fort Worth and Dallas newspapers are engaged in a spat over their respective bowl game showings. . . . Dallas, seat of Southern Methodist, referred to Texas Christian's victory in the Sugar Bowl as by the "tiniest of margins." . . . Fort Worth immediately pointed out that this was better than no margin at all. . . . Nebraska, with six titles in eight years, dominates Big Six conference football. . . . The Cornhuskers in that span have won thirty-three, lost three, and tied four. . . . Kansas leads in basketball with a record of fifty victories and twenty-four defeats and four championships in the seven years since the league was organized. . . . Santa Anita's daily mutuel average of $375,000 tops all other tracks with the exception of Narragansett. . . .

Lyn Lary and Larry French formerly played on the Visalia, Cal., High school nine. . . . Bill Brubaker, who may take Pie Traynor's third base job away from him next spring, comes from U. C. L. A. . . . Joe Louis has been guaranteed $1,000 by William J. Trevillian, vice president of the W. T. Rawleigh company in Freeport, Ill., to referee a six round bout there Monday night between Adam Smith, Rockford, and George Vallas, Chicago. . . . Smith is the Rockford baker boy who for two or three years delighted Golden Glove crowds. . . . Shaver, Cottom, and J. Wooden, former Purdue basketball stars, are playing professional ball with the Kautsky A. C. five of Indianapolis. . . . Cincinnati Reds will play thirty-three exhibition games, all against major league clubs. . . . Frank Moore, golf pro making the rounds of the winter tournaments, is a brother of Terry Moore, Cardinal outfielder. . . . Terry is financing the trip. . . . Notre Dame has received its first request for working press accommodations for next year's Ohio State football game from the Fremont, O., Messenger. . . . Meanwhile ticket orders for next year's game with the Army, as well as Ohio State, are coming in regularly and are being returned with the notation that the sale will open in August. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Ray Schalk signed a contract to coach the University of Wisconsin baseball team. . . . Tex Rickard picked Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., as the best lightweight in the world.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

WAKE MAIL BOX.

DEAR HARVEY: Now that Joe Louis definitly has established himself as one of the ring's truly greats, from different sources come statements placing him ahead of our immortal Jack Dempsey. 'Twas ever thus with the sport fan. As a new star appears, the old dims and becomes just a memory.

Before making any such assertion, however, let's ask ourselves a few questions and review the past, proved facts.

Could Louis against a man like Firpo take it on the chin and sail out of the ring, come back snarling and unleash anything resembling the savage-like attack Dempsey showed in his two round knockout of the "Wild Bull of the Pampas?"

Will Joe hold the championship, after securing it, for as long a period against all comers and never fail to give customers a show to their satisfaction?

Could the Brown Bomber, at the age of 32, equal the old Manassa Mauler's comeback attempt, 10 years after his rise to fame, whereby he knocked out Jack Sharkey, leading contender, and later fought one of his best fights against his conqueror, Gene Tunney, coming within a fraction of regaining his title, even closer than did Jim Corbett against Jeffries years before—a feat which to date has not been accomplished by any heavyweight?

Consider these questions before taking away anything from the fighter who could dish it out with either hand, take it, and who gave the public such shows it never has been satisfied in the eight years since his retirement.

Charles Snyder.

In recent national ratings, The Ring, a boxing periodical, placed Joe Louis No. 1 in the heavyweight division over Champion James Braddock.

Now I agree with that estimate of relative ability all right, but I don't think it's fair to Braddock to take away his top place BEFORE his title defense. If Braddock had refused to meet Louis, it would be different. He hasn't. He's willing to meet the colored wonder. The time is set but simply hasn't arrived yet.

Alarm Clock.

Each morn the clock rings loudly
And ends my pleasant dreams.
It says "Get up and go to work
And build those concrete beams!"
So I arise and to the job,
And glad to do my best,
But still I'm hating inwardly
The clock that ends my rest.

Friday night brings pay day
And Saturday no work—
No clock to end my slumbers
With "Get up and go to work!"
So Friday night I'm happy and many plans I make
To sleep late in the morning,
But still I always wake
At just the time the clock would ring
If I had set it so,
But there is no work on Saturday
So back to bed I go!

HAWKS ARE JUST DEFENSIVE TEAM WITH NO DEFENSE

If It Confuses You, Think of Them!

Games Tonight

Montreal Canadiens at N. Y. Americans.
N. Y. Rangers at Montreal Maroons.
Toronto at Boston.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Blackhawks, who are just a bit dizzy as a result of the merry-go-round rides their opponents have been giving them in the late moments of recent games on their beloved home ice, practiced skating, including quick stops and graceful glides, at the Stadium yesterday morning. When it was over, however, the lads still had headaches and their ears were ringing from a harsh blend of the howls of their bosses and the boolngs of their constituency.

There will be another practice this morning at which hocky fundamentals will be introduced, in preparation for Thursday night's game here with the league leading Detroit Red Wings, a match which will have much bearing on whether Maj. Frederic McLaughlin will carry out threats to make over the team for the second half of the season.

Where's That Defense?

It seems that the Hawks have become a bad hocky team because they are a defensive team. As near as we can figure from the experts a defensive team is very weak on defense. We have heard of defensive teams, like the New York Americans prior to this year, who were good defensively but losers because they never got a lead because they wouldn't go on the offensive. The Hawks aren't like that. They are a defensive team which has been specializing on blowing leads.

On Dec. 22, a Sabbath night, at the Stadium they blew a 2 to 1 lead in the last 30 seconds of the final regular period and eventually lost to the Americans, 3 to 2. On Jan. 5, before another Sabbath home crowd, they tossed off a 2 to 0 lead and lost to the Maroons, 3 to 2. And Sunday night they had 4½ minutes to go, leading 1 to 0, when they collapsed and two goals in two minutes by Aurel Joliat plastered them again.

Take to Punting.

In each of these instances they finished second best because they played what is called defensive hocky. To those who aren't particularly technical about their hocky, it may be said that "defensive hocky" as played by the Hawks has nothing to

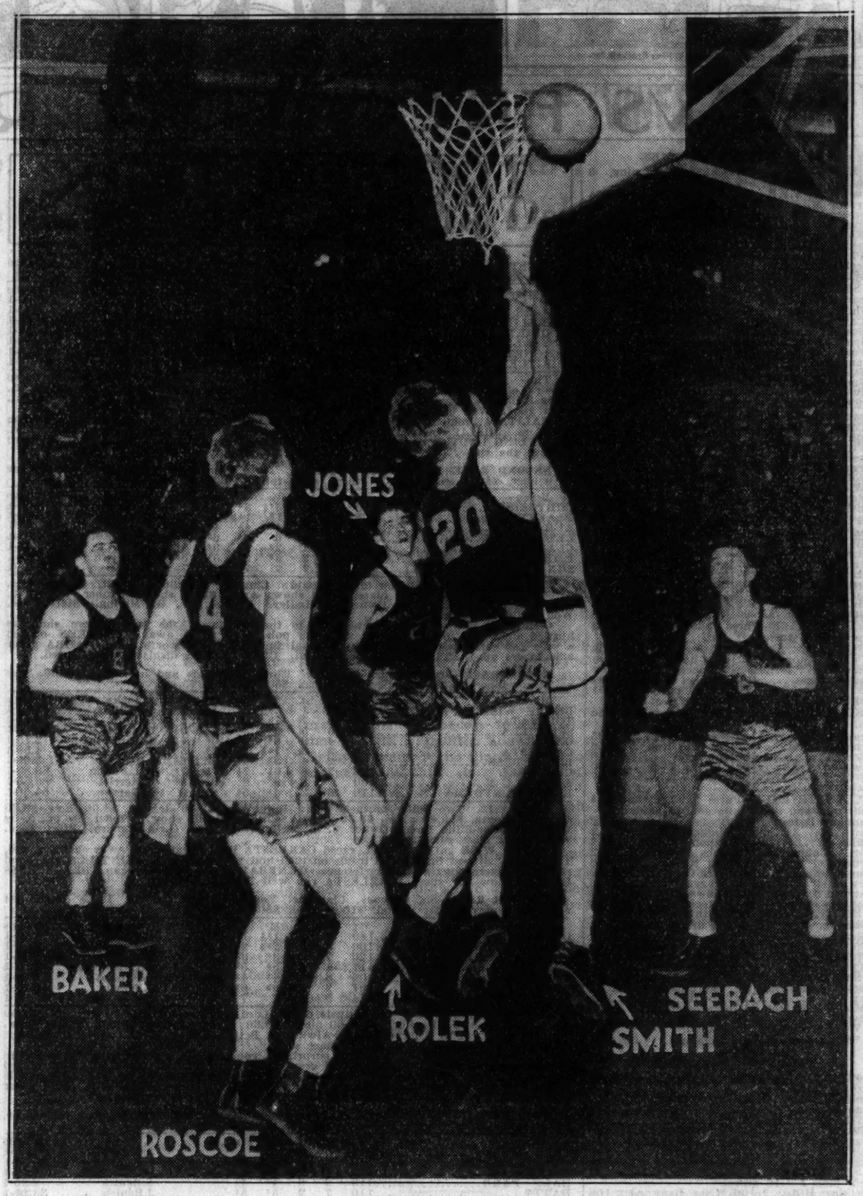
POOSH 'EM UP, JEAN!



Jean Smith, Northwestern center, dribbles in close under the basket and finds himself surrounded by the whole Minnesota team as he attempts a shot in last night's Big Ten game at Patten gymnasium. The ball didn't have quite enough push to go into the basket, but Smith didn't mind, for he made four baskets and three free throws as Northwestern won, 45-24. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Northwestern Whips Minnesota Five, 45-24; Maroons' Rally Fails; Indiana Wins, 33-30

A second half attack that netted 25 points enabled Northwestern to defeat Minnesota, 45 to 24, at Patten gymnasium last night. The brilliant Wildcat offensive was coupled with an airtight defense which held the Gophers to 6 points in the final period.

Minnesota kept pace with Northwestern in the first half which ended 20 to 18, in the Wildcats' favor, after the lead had changed hands seven times and neither team had enjoyed more than a 4 point lead.

It was a big night for the five starting members of the Northwestern squad, all of whom scored freely. Mike McMichaels, sophomore forward from Des Moines, led scorers with 12 points on six field goals. Jean Smith, sophomore center, scored 11 points on four field goals and three free throws. Vance and Bender, starting guards, both scored 6 points.

Ed Jones led Minnesota with 7 points. He collected all of his points in the first half, being removed early in the final period on personal fouls. George Roscoe, sturdy forward, whose ball carrying led to the Wildcats downfall in football last fall, made three long one handed shots in the first half to keep his mates in the running.

The Gophers got off to a 3 point lead on Jones' free throw and field goal. Baskets by Smith and McMichaels put the Wildcats ahead by 1 point and from then on the lead changed hands frequently until it was tied up, 12 to 12. Trenkle then started the Purple off on a rally after which they were never overtaken. Baskets by Bender and McMichaels ran the count to 20 to 12. In the closing seconds of the period the Gophers put on a drive of their own that netted 6 points before the gun sounded.

The second half was all Northwestern. Bender opened the period with a long toss from near midcourt. Roscoe retaliated with a similar shot and it was the last the Gophers scored until the closing minute of the game.

INDIANA, 33; CHICAGO, 30

Bloomington, Ind., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Indiana university's basketball team won its third consecutive Western conference victory tonight, defeating a surprisingly strong University of Chicago quintet, 33 to 30.

Bill Haarlow of Chicago and Ken Gunning of Indiana engaged in a scoring duel, with Haarlow, leading individual scorer of the Big Ten last season, making eight field goals to Gunning's six. Gunning carried off scoring honors, however, by making seven of eight free throws. Haarlow made his only free throw attempt.

Indiana got off to a good start on Gunning's sensational shooting and led, 20 to 12, at half time.

Haarlow led the Maroons in a great second half rally, with three field goals in a row. Huffman, Gunning, and Stout returned the bombardment for Indiana, but Haarlow, supported by Lang and Amundsen, put Chicago back into the race with a basket apiece.

With seven minutes left to play, Indiana attempted to stall when Chicago's defense tightened. Lang broke through for an under the basket shot and brought the score to 31 to 25. Fitzgerald converted when Platt fouled him, but Gunning retaliated to score two free throws. Fitzgerald dribbled under the basket to make it 33 to 28 and Amundsen added another field goal for the Maroons before the gun ended the contest.

BADGERS GIVE HAWKEYES FIRST DEFEAT, 27-21

Hoosier Quintets Lead Big Ten.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Wisconsin handed Iowa its first Western conference defeat tonight, 27 to 21. The Badgers moved into a 3 to 0 lead at the end of the first minute and never were headed, Iowa succeeding in tying the score only once.

At the outset of the second half, Johnny Barko, Iowa's captain and scoring star, connected with a long shot to tie the score at 12 apiece after the Badgers had held a 12-10 advantage at the half.

Iowa went 11 minutes before scoring its first field goal, a long shot by Barko, who added a pair of free throws and another basket near the end of the half for six of the Hawkeye 10 points. Barko was the only Iowa player able to penetrate the Wisconsin defense for a field goal until less than five minutes of the half remained, when Johnson, substitute for Lamb, flipped in a side shot.

Fritz Wegner, acting captain and guard, led Wisconsin with three baskets and three free throws. The Badgers made 11 of 14 free throw attempts and Iowa nine out of 13.

PURDUE, 41; MICHIGAN, 32

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Purdue's speed and exceptional accuracy on fast breaks under the basket was too much for Michigan's towering quintet tonight as the Boilermakers achieved their third successive Big Ten victory, 41 to 32, before a sell-out crowd of 4,500.

Unrelenting hawking of the ball by the entire Purdue team kept Michigan from scoring more often under the basket. Purdue's defense against the taller Wolverine five was exceptional, particularly on rebounds under the Michigan basket.

Michigan held the lead only once, in the first two minutes and 45 seconds of play, when John Townsend, Tamagno and Rudness scored in rapid succession to give the Wolverines a 6 to 0 lead.

Purdue rallied here, and with Bob Kessler and Jewell Young connecting from all angles, promptly advanced to a 15 to 8 lead in eight minutes of play. The Boilermakers led at the half, 24 to 18.

OHIO, 18; ILLINOIS, 13

Champaign, Ill., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Ohio State defeated Illinois, 18 to 13, tonight before 6,000 in a Big Ten conference basketball game.

Both teams missed an unusually large number of shots from the field, Illinois making only four out of 62 attempts and Ohio State six out of 51. Harold Benham, senior forward from Manteno, was responsible for all four Illinois goals.

Ohio State won the game in the last five minutes after Benham had made two successive goals to bring the Illini within a point of a tie. Whitlinger and Dye scored baskets to give Ohio a five point margin which it held until the end.

Tied 6 to 6 at the half, the two teams wasted many shots but kept the near capacity crowd in an uproar as the ball dipped into the hoop and out again time after time.

Free throws by Henry and Braun for Illinois and by Thomas and Raudebaugh for Ohio constituted all the scoring in the first nine minutes before Tippy Dye of Ohio, broke a 2 to 2 tie with a long field goal. Free throws again tied the score for Illinois, which went ahead, 6 to 4, when Benham made his first goal. McDonald tied the score with a short basket on the next tip off.

The Illini played 19 minutes of the first half before scoring from the field. Lineup:

NANNY GOAT HAS IMPORTANT JOB AT BROOKFIELD

She's Mother to Baby Mongolla Gazelle.

BY BOB BECKER.

Although a visitor to the Chicago Zoölogical garden at Brookfield can expect to be surprised by the large number of unusual mammals, birds and reptiles on exhibition, there is one surprise in the building housing the antelopes that we had not counted on when we visited the garden a few days ago. We had no sooner entered the building and started to look at the mammals than we heard the insistent and plaintive ba-a-a-ing of a goat.

We looked around for the goat that was contributing a rather foreign note to a building exhibiting so many beautiful African antelopes, but we couldn't see it. Then Robert Bean, assistant director of the zoölogical garden, noting the puzzled expression on our face, took us behind the scenes to meet the goat. Here we found a friendly old nanny that deserves a lot of credit, considering her importance in the schedule of the antelope house.

Keeper Gets on Spot.

On July 3, 1935, a Mongolla gazelle was born in the antelope house. When it was about four weeks old, the mother of the animal died. Then the keeper had a real job on his hands because he was obliged to find a foster mother for the orphan. Here is where the old nanny goat was signed for service.

Ever since last August, the goat has been contributing rich, nourishing milk for the little Mongolla, and he's thriving on it. So that is the reason there is a bleating nanny goat behind the scenes in the antelope house. She's making it possible to raise a valuable little gazelle that's a long way from home and has no mother.

When we prowled around in this room at one end of the antelope house we noticed a handsome male specimen of the ariel gazelle. He was very friendly [his name is Jerry] and we stopped for a moment to scratch his nose. Jerry has been banished from the cage containing his mate [Sis] and a young ariel because he can't be trusted at this time.

Jerry Is Hardboiled Gent.

Too often the male will kill a newly born gazelle, even though it is his own, so Jerry has been moved to "solitary confinement" while Sis and her offspring are out in front on exhibition. The female ariel is very friendly. She put her nose up to the bars to lick my hand while we were talking to her.

When you visit the zoo at Brookfield we suggest that you look for the orphaned Mongolia gazelle and Sis, the ariel and her youngster. The latter is an unusually beautiful animal, with its black face, trim build, and graceful head.

SWEET GUINEA	107	3	7	5°	6	6	6	J.Stout	3.75-1

Time, 1:45 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Free Spirit, $19.80 straight, $8.40 place, $5.10 show; Autowin, $5.40 place, $4.00 show; Flag Cadet, $4.50 show. Winner, ch. c., 3, by Stimulus-Gratuity. Owner, Miss A. Doris. Trainer, H. L. Campbell. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

FREE SPIRIT, going in best form, moved up and into lead turning out of back stretch, drew away and won nicely in hand. AUTOWIN, trailed field to the half mile pole, began to close ground and finished with a rush. FLAG CADET was used up setting the pace. TREBOR, well up for six furlongs, then dropped back thoroughly beaten. JOAN D had speed for six furlongs. SWEET GUINEA was outrun.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Four year olds and up. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $425; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

CHICAGO GOLDEN GLOVES ENTRY GROWS TO 800

Hold First Medical Exam on Jan. 21.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

More than 800 boys have entered the ninth annual Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournaments in the Chicago sectionals. This number, of course, is increasing daily. Six hundred of the entries received to date will report at Trafton's gymnasium, 180 West Randolph street, for medical examination on Jan. 21, one week from today.

Letters will be mailed tomorrow to this group of 600 amateur boxers, who will report between 6 p. m. and 8 p. m. on Tuesday. The second medical examination will be held at Trafton's gymnasium on Thursday, Jan. 23. The hours will be the same and letters will be mailed to this group this week and as late as next Monday.

Parents Must Sign.

These letters of instruction for the first two medical examinations will contain a copy of the referee's instructions and a parental consent card, which must be signed by parent or guardian and brought to the examination by the boxer.

At the examination each boxer will register with the central association of the A. A. U., under whose sanction the Golden Gloves bouts are held. Registration in the Open division is paid for by the boxer, as this registration is good for one year. THE TRIBUNE will pay the cost of registration with the A. A. U. for the Novice boxers. This registration is good only for the Chicago tournament.

After registration each boxer will be examined and will receive instructions concerning where and when to report for the trials. He also will be given a ticket of admittance for his second for the night on which he will box. This schedule completes preparations for the sectional meets which start Feb. 10 on the west side, Feb. 11 on the south side, and Feb. 18 on the north side.

32 Novices Will Qualify.

Thirty-two Novice boxers will qualify for the semi-finals and finals of the Chicago Novice tournament which will be held in conjunction with the Tournament of Champions at the Chicago Stadium on Feb. 24, 25, and 26. Chicago's entry list in the Tournament of Champions will be 32 boys from the Open division. In addition to this group [four in each of the eight weight classes], the Catholic Youth champions will compete against the boxing champions from 44 cities in 13 states.

Any boy who receives instruction to report for examination Jan. 21 and cannot because of work or other adequate reason may send in another application blank or report for the next examination. His parental consent blank is essential, for without it he will not be permitted to take the examination.

EDWIN WALING STOPS MICHAELS IN FIFTH ROUND

Edwin Waling, 1933 Detroit Golden Gloves champion, last night scored his sixteenth triumph in as many professional bouts by stopping Tony Michaels, Ashtabula, O., in the fifth round at Marigold Gardens. Waling, who weighed 128 pounds, five less than his opponent, scored six knockdowns, one in the first round, three in the fourth, and two in the fifth. It was Waling's third straight knockout at Marigold.

George Engel, Plymouth, Ind., 150¾, defeated Bob La Monte, Chicago, 151¾, in ten rounds. La Monte sustained a cut over his left eye in the last round. Other results:

Harold Brown stopped Ray Drake [3], Tommy Howell and Sammy Verse drew [4], Ben Irving beat Carl Scalise [4].

HURTADO BEATS ROTH FOR 114TH VICTORY IN ROW

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Ralph [Indian] Hurtado, lightweight from Panama, remained in the unbeaten ranks as he captured a ten round decision over Al Roth of the Bronx at the St. Nicholas Palace tonight. Hurtado piled up an early lead and had enough left to withstand Roth's belated rushes. Roth, who in his last two starts lost to Tony Canzoneri and Frankie Klick, became Hurtado's 14th victim in these parts. The Indian now boasts 114 consecutive triumphs.

Western State Five Beats Valparaiso; 6th in Row

STADIUM SIGNS BATH AND TREEST IN TOURNEY BOUT

Hank Bath, Fort Morgan, Colo., protégé of Jack Kearns, and Billy Treest, 1934 Chicago Golden Gloves middleweight champion, have been matched to box ten rounds in a heavyweight elimination bout at Chicago Stadium Jan. 24. The bout is expected to give Bath, whom his manager is attempting to develop into a potential title challenger, his hardest test.

Bath made his Chicago debut at the Stadium Jan. 2 in the second round of the tournament by scoring a five round technical knockout over Babe Davis. Then he went to New York to prepare for a scheduled match against Jack Dempsey's Red Burman last Friday, but the commission there held up his application for a license and the bout was canceled.

O. K. in Chicago.

The New York commission believed Bath is suspended in California, which has a working agreement with New York and Illinois. Chairman Joe Triner of the state commission indicated yesterday, however, that Bath's appearance against Treest will be approved.

"We have not received any information from California as to the ineligibility of Bath," the chairman said. "It is understood that Bath is in good standing there. Consequently, unless we receive information to the contrary, Bath will be permitted to fight."

Treest Wins Twice.

Treest made his first start as a heavyweight in the current tournament by registering a four round technical knockout over Eddie Roushkolb at the Coliseum on Dec. 13. He knocked out Happy Ahlgrim in the third round of the elimination at the Stadium last Friday.

The Illinois commission yesterday requested New York to suspend Bobby Pacho because of the California junior welterweight's refusal to go through with a scheduled match against Geno Salvatore of La Salle, Ill., at Marigold Gardens Monday. Pacho is booked to box Cleto Locatelli at New York Friday. . . . Laddie Tonelli, Marseilles, Ill., welterweight, has filed a challenge with the commission for a third match with Billy Celebron, Rockford. Tonelli was victorious in the first one and Celebron won the second. . . . The Davenport Daily Times will hold its Golden Gloves sectional tournament at Davenport Jan. 29. . . . Small Montana, Philippine Islands, has been recognized as world flyweight champion by Illinois. The decision coincides with that rendered by California Sept. 16 after Montana had defeated Midget Wolgast of Philadelphia in ten rounds at Oakland.

Entries for the Illinois Athletic club amateur boxing tournament at the I. A. C. Jan. 22 and 23 will close Jan. 20. Johnny Behr, athletic director, says no post entries will be accepted. All eight classes, from flyweight to heavyweight, will compete in the preliminary round on the opening night. Survivors then will fight in the semi-final and final rounds Jan. 23. F. M.

1,000 PAY HONOR TO NOTRE DAME TEAM AT DINNER

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Notre Dame club of the St. Joseph valley honored Coach Elmer Layden and members of the 1935 Notre Dame football squad tonight at its annual testimonial gridiron banquet.

A thousand persons filled the huge dining hall on the campus to hear coaching notables, among them several former Notre Dame players, and leaders in the church, politics, and sports. Eddie Dowling, actor, was the principal speaker.

Part of the program was devoted to memorial services to Will Rogers, principal speaker at last year's banquet; Knute Rockne, former Notre Dame coach, and Charles L. O'Donnell, late president of the university.

MAY INVESTIGATE NEW YORK BOXING

Assemblyman Wants the Governor to Act.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—A state inquiry into the state athletic commission's handling of professional boxing, as well as a thorough probe of so-called bootleg amateur fighting, was asked by Assemblyman Robert J. Crews, Brooklyn Republican, in a resolution introduced in the legislature tonight.

Crews, a former pugilist, wants his fellow law makers to request Gov. Lehman to appoint a commission to question Gen. John J. Phelan, chairman of the boxing board, and his associates, Col. D. Walker Wear and Bill Brown. Since the Republicans are in power here now, it is considered likely that Assemblyman Crews' measure will be passed.

Crews Claims Discrimination.

Crews is irked at the boxing fathers' treatment of Madison Square Garden in the Hank Bath-Jack Kearns disbarment. A veteran fight fan, Crews is of the opinion that Gen. Phelan and his confreres are discriminating against the house that Tex Rickard built in their rulings.

"I love boxing and I'm not out to seek the repeal of the Walker law, under which boxing now is conducted in this state," Assemblyman Crews explained, "but I think Phelan and those fellows, if left to their own devices, will ruin boxing in New York by their autocratic conduct in office.

"Boxing can be conducted properly, but Phelan and his associates seem unable to do it. The general has hippodromed his office into a three ring circus.

Just a Political Racket.

"Boxing has become a political racket under the present commission's guidance. Promoters, fighters, and their managers have been getting a terrible pushing around. It is high time somebody unhorsed the general and restored order in the fighting game. Phelan was one of the license commissioners who drove two Dempsey-Tunney fights, worth $10,000,000 to any community, out of New York. I read that the Schmeling-Louis bout, worth $5,000,000 to our town, may be staged in Chicago or Philadelphia. That would be nice, eh?"

A blast against the commission by Nat Fleischer, editor of a boxing magazine, prompted him to draw up his resolution, Crews admitted. Fleischer recently charged Phelan with autocracy, incompetence, and corruption in a radio broadcast. The veteran expert demanded that Gov. Lehman start a probe and he urged the legislature to join the parade.

McKINLEY FIVE WINS, 40-26, FROM KELVYN PARK

McKinley High school opened its junior basketball schedule in the west section of the city league by triumphing 40 to 26, over Kelvyn Park on the McKinley court yesterday.

A long shot attack in the second half, with John Bellezzo and Sam Moshis doing the shooting, enabled the home team to pull away. McKinley led at the half, 16 to 14.

Entries Close Tonight for Windy City Meet

Entries will close tonight for the 24th annual Windy City Bowling tournament which will open on Saturday at the Windy City alleys. Jerry Peck of the Cicero Avenue Recreation had planned to close the lists last week, but he decided to give belated entrants a chance to file.

Lindstrom Says He Wants No Fabulous Sum

Miami, Fla., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Freddie Lindstrom, recently released by the Chicago Cubs, said today he had received offers from the Philadelphia Athletics, Chicago White Sox, and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Without indicating which, if any, of the offers he would accept, Lindstrom said he was not asking "any fabulous sum" for his services.

"I'll play ball for what I'm worth," the veteran outfielder explained. "I think I still can roam the outfield and hit the ball with the best of them. And when I slow up so that I can't step in fast company I want to quit this game."

GRIMM EXPLAINS RELEASE.

St. Louis, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Unconditional release of Freddie Lindstrom by Chicago Cubs last week was explained today by Charley Grimm, manager of the National league champions. Grimm, whose action bewildered Lindstrom above all, said the step was taken because he figured Lindstrom would not be very active during the 1936 season.

Grimm said at his home here today he planned to use only five of the six outfielders he had for the 1936 campaign. His choices were Augie Galan, Chuck Klein, Frank Demaree, Johnny Gill, and George Stainback, and Lindstrom, who played both in the outfield and at third base during 1935, would not be a consistently active player.

The Cubs manager added Galan will play center, Demaree left, and Klein right, with Stainback and Gill as reserves. Stanley Hack will play third.

DYKES AWAITS CALL.

Fort Myers, Fla., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Chicago White Sox, said today he had not conferred with Freddie Lindstrom, who was released by the Chicago Cubs last week. However, he is expecting a call from the veteran player.

WISCONSIN BOARD MEETS 7 HOURS

Members Refuse to Talk on Recommendation.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The University of Wisconsin faculty athletic board emerged from a seven hour session early tonight without divulging the nature of the recommendation it will make to the board of regents relative to the latest flareup in what is known as the "Wisconsin athletic situation."

The regents will return tomorrow for their regular January session, but will not resume their deliberations on the athletic probe until Wednesday.

Nothing to Say.

Reports that Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, athletic director, had been exonerated by the athletic board on charges of instigating the circulation of a petition asking the resignation of Football Coach Clarence W. Spears were neither denied nor affirmed by that body when it adjourned tonight. Its members had nothing to say, thereby conforming to the veil of official secrecy since the bombshell exploded on the campus early in December.

Primarily, the athletic controversy revolved about the circulation of a petition by John Golemgeske, captain elect of the 1936 football team, which he claimed was instigated by Meanwell. Subsequent charges of fraternity politics and other complications were thrown into the picture before it first reached the regents Dec. 19. That body, after hastily surveying the data at hand, turned the matter back to the athletic board with a flat mandate to submit a recommendation.

Doors Are Well Guarded.

That's what the board apparently was doing today, but until its decision is announced by the regents the public never will know officially what went on behind closely guarded doors leading into President Glenn Frank's office.

Press representatives could only guess. The most likely one is that Meanwell has been exonerated by the board and that the regents, after administering a light scolding to the principals involved will apply the whitewash brush Wednesday afternoon.

That action, too, would conform to precedent.

BAER MAY TURN WRESTLER; GETS $25,000 OFFER

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Max Baer may turn wrestler. Lou Daro, Los Angeles promoter, said today he offered the former heavyweight boxing champion a year contract of $25,000 or 20 per cent of the gross receipts to enter the wrestling ring. Baer, who weighs 231 pounds, countered with a demand for $35,000.

Ancil Hoffman, Baer's manager, later termed the $25,000 figure "chicken feed" and said he would have to confer again next week before reaching a decision.

U. S. Olympic Skating Team Feted in Oslo

BY ONEIL FARRELL.
[Coach of American Olympic Skating Team.]
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Oslo, Norway, Jan. 13.—The United States Olympic ice skating team, still a bit wobbly after a rough crossing, arrived here tonight from Hamburg, Germany, to be met by a crowd of more than a thousand Norwegian ice skating enthusiasts.

The American team which will strive to win the Olympic championship in competition with the world's fastest skaters when the winter Olympiad is held at Garmisch-Partenkirchen in the Bavarian Alps included Kitty Klein of Buffalo, N. Y.; Eddie Schroeder and Leo Freisinger of Chicago, Delbert Lamb and Robert Petersen of Milwaukee, Wis., and Allan Potts of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Schroeder Is Popular.

Before the American skaters could reach the Bristol hotel, where they will be quartered during their stay here, they were surrounded by an army of Norwegian autograph seekers. Eddie Schroeder, former winner of THE TRIBUNE'S Silver Skates Derby, received the lion's share of attention in this, since he had already appeared here before.

The team was féted at a huge banquet given at the hotel tonight by local skating authorities, but they will settle down to the serious business of getting back their land legs tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, when they will open training at Frogner stadium.

All in Good Shape.

Despite the rough voyage from New York to Hamburg, every member of the team is in excellent condition, and all hope to be in top racing form within the next ten days. They will skate twice tomorrow at the stadium, and follow the same procedure for the next week.

They will have their first opportunity in competition next week-end when they will take part in an international event, and the following week-end will go after the European championships.

HARRIS UPSETS HENDRIX TO WIN MIAMI TENNIS

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Showing no regard for the fact that his opponent had scored upset victories over two favorites, Charles Harris, young West Palm Beach star, today defeated Arthur Hendrix of Lakeland, Fla., for the Miami-Biltmore tennis championship. Harris won by scores of 6-4, 6-0, 2-6, and 6-2.

It was the fourth time in a row that Harris had beaten Hendrix in tournament competition. Harris played a smooth, confident game, while Hendrix, with the exception of the third set, could not find the stroke which had helped him to eliminate Wilmer Allison of Texas and Bryan Grant, ranked nationally at No. 1 and No. 3, in earlier matches.

Harris, teaming with Martin Buxby of Miami, defeated Grant and Russell Bobbitt, another Atlantan, 6-4, 6-4, 5-7, 4-6, 6-4, in the doubles final.

VINES, STOEFEN IN NET WINDUP

Meet in International Arena Tomorrow.

William T. Tilden II, still the most imposing figure in tennis at the age of 43, will bring his professional troupe to the International amphitheater, 41st and Halsted streets, tomorrow night for another series of matches. Tilden's drawing powers in Chicago, both as an amateur and a professional, have been tested and proven before, and a crowd of 8,000 is expected to see Big Bill and his colleagues engage in six matches.

Although Tilden is still the main attraction, he brings with him several others who have distinguished themselves in world competition. Heading these are Ellsworth Vines and Lester Stoefen of California, champion and runnerup, respectively, in the world professional tournament at Paris last summer.

Lott Plays Barnes.

Chicago's own representative will be George Lott, acknowledged as the game's ablest doubles player, who is now a veteran with the Tilden troupe. Another player who has been with Tilden since the latter turned pro, is Bruce Barnes of Texas. Lott and Barnes will open the show with a singles match starting at 8 p. m.

The newcomers to pro tennis here will be Berkeley Bell, who recently joined the troupe; Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold, and Jane Sharp. It will be the first time since Suzanne Lenglen and Mary K. Browne came here with the C. C. Pyle's band, that women have appeared in professional rôles.

Play Doubles, Too.

The rivalry between Vines, conceded to be the best in the game, and Stoefen, who has improved notably on the present tour, will be resumed in another of the singles matches. Other singles match Tilden and Bell and Mrs. Arnold and Miss Sharp.

The doubles side of the game will not be neglected in tomorrow's show. Lott and Stoefen, who swept the boards in national and international play before joining the professional ranks, will be paired against Vines and Bell, while Tilden and Miss Sharp will battle Stoefen and Mrs. Arnold in a mixed encounter.

German-Americans Meet on Olympic Funds Tonight

SIX DAVIS CUP STARS TOLD TO START TRAINING

Budge Given Lessons by San Francisco Pro.

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—It will be five months before Uncle Sam's boys fire their first shot in the 1936 Davis cup warfare, but the tennis generals already are laying plans for America's part in the campaign.

The United States Lawn Tennis association's Davis cup committee already has notified six players that they are to condition themselves for the match starting next May. They are Wilmer Allison, Donald Budge, Byron Grant, Frank Shields, Gene Mako, and Johnny Van Ryn.

Get Tutor for Mako.

Budge, Mako, and Shields, all on the Pacific coast, already have been placed under the supervision of Edward [Bud] Chandler, a member of the cup committee who is a San Francisco attorney. In an effort to develop Budge, the committee has assigned Tommy Stow, a San Francisco professional, to work with him.

Up to now only Budge has had the benefit of a private tutor, but the association stands ready to do the same for Grant, Shields, and Mako if they so desire.

The committee feels that Allison and Van Ryn, both in their early thirties, have had sufficient experience to prepare themselves without the aid of the association.

Hendrix Surprises Officials.

Everything has been going along smoothly except for the disturbance created by Arthur Hendrix, an unranked Florida player, in southern tournaments recently. Officials merely took casual notice when Hendrix defeated Allison in New Orleans, but when he cracked down on Grant at Coral Gables yesterday in four sets there was considerable eyebrow lifting.

"It's somewhat of a shock to us," said Walter Pate, vice chairman of the committee. "Grant ordinarily is unbeatable on clay so this lad Hendrix must have come a long way since the last time I saw him. However, it doesn't affect Grant in so far as Davis cup consideration is concerned."

While these six men thus far have been the only players lined up by the association, Pate said Sidney Wood, now recovering from an attack of appendicitis, also may be given consideration.

New York, Jan. 13.—Uncertainty over the form of payment that the bonus sponsors will adopt was reflected in trading in treasury bonds on the New York exchange today and this group was quiet and prices mostly easier. The rest of the list advanced slightly in moderate dealings.

Financial authorities do not take kindly to the suggestion that payment of the bonus be made with "baby bonds" maturing in 1945. The best opinion is that the government might better make direct cash payments than to place a large volume of bonds in the hands of a large number of men, many of whom would immediately dump their securities on the market.

High Grade Issues Firm.

High grade corporate issues were firm, continuing the slow but steady upward movement which had its inception in the middle of December. Santa Fe general 4s duplicated their old record high and others of that type moved fractionally higher. Closing prices of government bonds were mixed. Losses ranged from 1-32d to 6-32ds and gains from 1-32d to 4-32ds.

Second grade rail issues were strong, with gains of a point or more in Baltimore & Ohio refunding 5s, "Katy" 5s of 1962 and 4½s of 1978, New York Central 5s, New York, Susquehanna & Western refunding 5s, and Southern Pacific 4½s of 1969.

Several Bonds Are Higher.

Particular firm spots in various groups included Allis Chalmers 4s, "Soo" Line 5s, New Haven 4½s, Pure Oil 4¼s, and Cotton Belt 5s at 33¼. Among active losers were General Theater 6s, Alleghany 5s, American Rolling Mill 4¼s, Studebaker 6s, and Columbia Gas 5s.

A further slump in the Italian group unsettled the foreign division slightly. Australian 5s and Belgium 6s were among others losing fractionally.

Utah Power and Light.

Investors' Guide: I have fifteen shares of Utah Power and Light $7 preferred stock. I would like what information you can give me.—Miss A. H.

Answer: Utah Power and Light is a subsidiary of Electric Power and Light corporation. It is both a holding and operating company, furnishing electricity to 338 communities in Utah, Idaho and Colorado. Salt Lake City and Ogden are two of the cities served.

Operating results have followed an uninterrupted downward trend since an amount equal to $13.72 per preferred share was earned in 1929. In the twelve months to Oct. 31, 1935, the company earned the equivalent of $2.10 per preferred share. In 1934 earnings equaled $2.07 per preferred share, against $2.44 in 1933, $6.89 in 1932 and $9.33 in 1931.

On Dec. 31, 1934, current assets were $3,264,000 and current liabilities were $3,237,000, leaving working capital of only $28,000.

The $7 dividend preferred currently pays quarterly dividends of only 58 1-3 cents a quarter and the $6 preferred only 50 cents. Arrears on the $7 stock are $18.67 and on the $6 stock $16 a share. Both classes rank equally.

The stock is a speculation.

Pennsylvania-Dixie Cement.

Investors' Guide: Would be pleased to have information on Pennsylvania-Dixie bonds for investment.—W. L. E.

Answer: Although operations of Pennsylvania-Dixie Cement corporation prior to 1931 were on a satisfactory basis, the slump in building since then has prevented the company from earning a profit even before interest. The $8,738,000 of first 6s, due 1941, are consequently regarded as speculative, even though current position of the company is adequate and some improvement in operations has been evidenced in the last 21 months.

In the 12 months to Sept. 30, 1935, the company lost $830,000 after interest of $544,000. In 1934 it lost $128,000 before interest, against similar losses of $1,098,000, $1,276,000 and $730,000 for the three preceding years.

During the twelve months to Sept. 30, 1935, the company retired more than $500,000 of bonds. Working capital dropped about $450,000. Current assets on Sept. 30, 1935, were $4,180,000 and current liabilities were $246,000.

STOCKS UNEVEN; RAILWAY GROUP IS BRIGHT SPOT

Court Decrees Have Varying Effects.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 13.—The stock market began a new week today with a great deal of uncertainty and hesitation, which failed to be dispelled even by the latest rebuke handed out to the Roosevelt administration by the Supreme court. Prices for equities were mixed throughout the session despite a late rally in the carrier section of the list.

Trading was at a slower pace than it has been for a week, the total turnover in stocks amounting to approximately 2,599,000 shares. Considerable evening up took place in the motors, steels, and some of the higher priced specialties.

Utility issues were strong for a time, but dipped under their highs when the Supreme court failed to rule on the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority to the disappointment of most professional traders.

Rice Millers' Decree Expected.

In the rice millers' case the court ruled, as it was confidently expected to, that processing taxes paid into court, but not handed over to the treasury, would go back to the companies paying them. That means that some $200,000,000 now impounded in the courts will be returned. The effect was to confirm the market's discounting last week of such returns for companies known to have money involved.

Some disappointment was also occasioned by the fact that the tribunal, in dismissing a case brought to question the Bankhead cotton control act, failed to announce a decision on the merits of the act itself. After marking time most of the forenoon the market rallied slightly immediately following the rice millers' decision, but quickly turned irregular on the Bankhead decision and the postponement of the TVA ruling.

Railroad Stocks Are Strong.

One of the brightest spots in the list was the performance of the rails. Becoming tired at the profit taking among the industrials and partly because of the prevailing uncertainty over the TVA, the speculative fraternity turned its attention in the afternoon to the carrier section. As a group the rails moved into the highest ground touched in the last two years. New high prices were registered in New York Central, Atchison, Norfolk and Western, and Missouri-Kansas-Texas. It was observed that inflation would not help the rail shares, but the stocks might profit for awhile from the general scramble to exchange money for something else.

Fractionally lower prices were paid for the steels, although the industry, according to estimates, will show another gain in its operating rate. Pittsburg Steel was an exception, climbing more than 9 points to reach a new high of 69¾. Metals were fractionally lower.

COURT REJECTS PLEA TO PREVENT BREAKUP OF AAA

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 13.—Federal Judge William H. Kirkpatrick today refused to restrain President Roosevelt and other government officials from abolishing the AAA organization because of the Supreme court ruling outlawing the act.

P. T. Vincent, Philadelphia real estate dealer, sought the restraining order, contending the AAA should be kept in operation until a nation-wide referendum is taken to judge it. He challenged the right of the Supreme court to do anything but "enlighten the people" on the validity of laws, and held that the court's decisions "striking unconstitutional laws" off the books constituted a "usurpation" of the prerogatives of the electorate.

His attorney indicated the case would be taken to the Circuit Court of Appeals, and said "we want to get this case right up before the Supreme court itself just as soon as possible."

STEEL OUTPUT INCREASED FOR CURRENT WEEK

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—Steel production in the Youngstown district jumped 66 per cent of capacity today, equaling the highest point in five years, as the American Iron and Steel institute estimated national output for the current week at 49.4 per cent, compared with 49.2 per cent last week.

The expansion in the midwest area came as a surprise and was occasioned by a heavier than expected schedule for the Republic Steel corporation. A 64 per cent operating rate was indicated for the district on Saturday.

Pennsylvania Crude Oil Advanced 10 to 15 Cents

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The price of five grades of Pennsylvania crude oils increased 15 cents a barrel today, while a sixth grade, Corning, rose 10 cents. The prices follow: Southwest, $2.17; Eureka, $2.12; Buckeye, $1.97; Corning, $1.42; Bradford district, $2.45; New York transit, $2.45.

Michigan Oil Advances.

Mount Pleasant, Mich., Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Michigan crude oil price was advanced 10 cents a barrel to $1.32 effective tomorrow in the face of continued decline in production.

Pure Oil Offers Plan to Pay Back Dividend

HENRY M. DAWES.

A plan for clearing up $6,564,162 in dividend arrears on three issues of preferred stock of the Pure Oil company was submitted to shareholders yesterday by Henry M. Dawes, president. Under the plan the stockholders would receive cash and additional preferred stock.

Dawes explained that directors of the company reserve the right to withdraw the offer at any time before March 10, 1936, subject to the right of extension.

In submitting the plan he estimated that net income of the company for 1935 after depreciation and depletion was $8,100,000, compared with a deficit of $884,872 for the preceding year.

Equal to $1.98 on Common.

The 1935 profit after allowance for dividends of $2,050,000 on preferred stock is equal to $1.98 a share on common. Dawes' estimate for 1935 placed net income after interest and all charges, except depreciation and depletion, at $16,000,000. Depreciation and depletion aggregated $7,900,000.

This marked improvement in earnings was attributed to the good showing made by all departments of the company. The company was aided by the end of the gasoline price wars during 1935, an increase in its production of crude oil and the improvement in general business conditions.

On April 1, 1936, unpaid dividends on preferred will aggregate $6,564,162, consisting of $25.50 a share on the 8 per cent preferred; $19.12½ a share on the 6 per cent preferred, and $16.87½ on the 5¼ per cent preferred.

Provisions of Plan.

The plan provides:

Each shareholder of the 8 per cent preferred [which is callable at $110 per share] is given an alternative. For each share of his present stock he may get 1.34 shares of new 6 per cent preferred and $1.50 in cash or he may get one share of new 8 per cent preferred and .24 of one share of the new 6 per cent preferred and $1.50 in cash.

Holders of the present 6 per cent preferred are offered 1.18 shares of the new 6 per cent preferred and $1.12½ in cash. Holders of the 5¼ per cent preferred are offered 1.16 shares of the new 6 per cent preferred and 87½ cents in cash.

Cites Expected Results.

Dawes said consumation of the plan will have the following effects:

"All of the then outstanding preferred shares of the company on April 1, 1936, will be placed on a current dividend basis by the release and discharge of $6,564,162 of accumulated dividends without drawing materially on the cash resources of the company. The position of the common shares will be improved by the release of the accumulated dividend charges and holders of the notes of the company will be likewise benefited inasmuch as warants for the purchase of common shares are attached to such notes."

GLASS FIRM MAY BUY AM. TOBACCO TIN CAN BRANCH

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Dow, Jones & Co. says an official of the American Tobacco company stated today that his company was negotiating with "one of the glass companes" for the sale of the Tin Decorating company, an American Tobacco subsidiary with a plant at Baltimore which manufactures tin cans for tobacco as well as other purposes.

For some time reports have been current in the financial district that the Owens-Illinois Glass company, largest bottle maker in the country, or interests subsidiary to, or identified with it, were considering the purchase of various can manufacturing units to allow entrance into the tin can field in an important way, it was stated.

Four Railroads Report Gains in Car Loadings

Final Curtain Falls for Old Illinois Theater

BY AL CHASE.

The final curtain has been rung down in the Illinois theater, for many years one of Chicago's leading playhouses, as a result of a transaction partly negotiated yesterday and to be concluded today. Wreckers will start to tear down the historic structure within a few days, and the premises at 61-65 East Jackson boulevard will be used as an open air parking station. The name of the lessee will be disclosed later.

HARRY J. POWERS. [Moffett Photo.]

The parking lease was made only a few days prior to an offer from the Seventeenth Church of Christ, Scientist, which had been negotiating for the building for many months. When the church board of directors authorized the transaction, which involved complete remodeling of the theater for religious purposes, it was found that the parking company already had closed a deal for it.

Powers Liquidating Property.

Harry J. Powers, veteran theater man, who has been one of the owners of the playhouse since it was erected in 1898, is one of the three liquidating trustees in charge of the property for the bondholders. The other two are Martin F. Colby and R. A. Mowat.

The Illinois theater was erected to take care of the bookings of the old Columbia theater [on the site of the present Monroe theater at 57 West Monroe street], which was destroyed by fire. Its opening was one of the spectacular events of Chicago theatrical history, and for many years it was the city's leading playhouse for musical shows, including Ziegfeld's Follies.

Housed Many Famous Plays.

In addition, Powers, who also owned Powers theater [formerly Hooley's theater], where part of the Hotel Sherman now stands, booked many famous dramas of the last four decades in his Jackson boulevard house, so that the Illinois footlights have shone on as glamorous and noted a galaxy of world stars as any American theater.

Title to the theater property was secured by the bondholders following foreclosure proceedings in 1932. A bond issue of $750,000 underwritten by the Continental and Commercial company has been paid down to $650,000.

U. S. Farm Loans on Crops and Live Stock Proposed

Washington, D. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—A bill to authorize the farm credit administration to make loans to farmers, taking a first lien on crops and livestock to be produced as security, was introduced by Chairman Smith [Dem., S. C.], of the senate agriculture committee. The measure calls for the appropriation of $60,000,000 out of existing treasury money. It would be limited to the present year.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK STOCK PRICE JUMPS 35 POINTS TO 260 BID

Stock of the First National Bank of Chicago yesterday jumped 35 points, closing at 260 bid ,265 asked. The advance was attributed to a movement in the stock putting it in line with prices of other leading bank shares which have moved higher recently.

First National shares have not kept pace with other gains. It is pointed out that stock of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, now on a $2 annual dividend basis, is selling at 131 to 133 a share. At their new price, First National shares, which are on a $4 annual dividend basis, are selling at about twice the price of the Continental Illinois stock. It was said offerings were light in First National stock yesterday, which gave sellers the edge.

There were few other changes yesterday. National Boulevard declined 5 points to close at 160 bid, 175 asked, and Northern Trust advanced 10 points to close at 590 bid and 600 asked.

2 CLOSED BANKS INDICATE MORE FOR DEPOSITORS

The Hyde Park-Kenwood and the Midland National banks yesterday issued statements of condition as of Dec. 31 to the controler of the currency. The latter reflected payment of another 15 per cent to depositors in December and indicated full return of deposits is likely at some future date after a Reconstruction Finance corporation loan is repaid.

The Hyde Park institution has repaid its $356,700 loan from the RFC, leaving the way open for a new loan. Cash of $107,766 on Dec. 31 was nearly enough to make another 5 per cent payment to depositors, but negotiation in the next few months are expected to obtain a new RFC loan and a somewhat larger disbursement for depositors.

The Midland National has paid $263,216, or 90 per cent, to depositors, including $43,869, or 15 per cent, in December. This was made possible through an RFC loan of $41,500, of which $10,500 already has been repaid. Cash on hand is $2,622. Remaining assets on the books at $506,288 are estimated to be worth only $95,500 when they can be sold. This indicates, however, that full payment of depositors is to be expected ultimately.

BANK TO PAY OFF AND QUIT; BLAMES U. S. REGULATION

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Officials of the Deland, Ill., First National bank today announced decision of the directors to pay off depositors and close the institution. Liquidation of the bank's deposits and assets of more than $475,000 will be arranged at once, the announcement said.

Decision to close the bank was reached by the directors because, they said, "the government's rigid restrictions on banks have made banking in small towns unprofitable."

Keeshin Wins Illinois Permit for Truck Line

Ending a fight that started in 1930, the Illinois commerce commission yesterday made public an order which grants to the Keeshin Motor Express Company, Inc., a certificate of convenience and necessity for operation of a motor express service between a number of Illinois cities and towns. The commission held the motor truck company was in a position to offer a better service to the various communities involved than the railroads.

J. L. KEESHIN.

The Keeshin company originally asked for a certificate on Oct. 1, 1930. The commission denied the petition on Jan. 24, 1933, but granted the company a petition for a rehearing on March 14, 1933, on the motion of Luther M. Walter, attorney for the Keeshin concern. Since then there has been a long series of hearings.

Railroads Oppose Petition.

Fighting the effort of the Keeshin concern to get the certificate were a number of railroads, including the Burlington, Rock Island, Illinois Central, Milwaukee, and North Western. The Railway Express Agency, Inc., was lined up with the railroads. The railroads contended they were offering satisfactory service and, further, their huge investments and the jobs of their employés were jeopardized by the truck operations.

During the period when hearings were in progress, the Keeshin company maintained trucking service between the various points.

In its decision the commission said that while the railroad companies are adequate to provide the type of service they are now rendering, their service does not meet the public need for "the more economical, more flexible, more complete and expeditious type of service" which the Keeshin company is rendering.

Overnight Service Given.

The commission pointed out that the truck company gives overnight service between the various communities, whereas the railroads cannot do this, although in some cases the railroads' schedules call for such service.

The cities and towns affected by the order are Chicago, Geneva, De Kalb, Malta, Creston, Rochelle, Ashton, Nachusa, Dixon, Sterling, Morrison, and Fulton over route 6 and between Sterling, Galt, Lyndom, Erie, Hillsdale, Silvis, East Moline, Moline, and Rock Island over routes 6, 86, and 3; also between Dixon and Freeport over route 26; between Dixon and Rockford on route 2 and other points.

PRICE FOR GOLD IN LONDON TOPS PEG SET BY U. S.

Dollar Makes Sharp Recoveries.

New York, Jan. 13.—[Special.]—For the first time since last May 31 the dollar price of gold today was higher in London than in New York. In the foreign exchange markets the dollar recovered against most foreign currencies after the pronounced weakness of last week.

With the pound valued at $4.97¼ in London at the time the price of gold was fixed, the metal was worth $35.04 an ounce, compared with the United States treasury price of $35. Athough gold was unchanged from Saturday's level of 140 shillings 11 pence a fine ounce, the cheapening of the dollar rates against the pound lifted the dollar value of the metal above Saturday's price of $34.94 an ounce.

Last May the dollar price went briefly to $35.16, but it is necessary for the price to reach $35.30 before shipments can be made profitably from here to England.

Sterling Loses Early Gain.

While the pound was higher against the dollar at the time of fixing the price on gold, it later weakened against the dollar and closed at $4.96⅞ in London, compared with Saturday's close of $4.97½. The pound opened here at $4.98, but declined by midafternoon to $4.96⅞ and closed at $4.96⅝, off ¾ cent for the day. Scandinavian currencies dipped 3 to 5 points and Canadian dollars 6¼ points to 99.87½ cents.

The rebound of the dollar against the gold bloc currencies was particularly sharp, as the French and Swiss francs again dropped below their parities against the dollar after rising above par on Saturday.

French francs closed at 6.62 cents, compared with a parity of 6.6335 and Saturday's close of 6.64¾ cents, a net loss of 2¾ points for the day. This slump in the franc raised the value of the dollar against francs to $1.0020 from 99.80 cents on Saturday.

Swiss Francs Below Parity.

Swiss Francs at 32.64 cents reflected a loss of 11 points for the day and placed the money under its parity of 32.67 cents. Guilders dropped 18 points to 68.22 cents, but remained above parity with the dollar, which is 68.06 cents.

Other currencies were irregular in their movements against the dollar, German marks losing 9 points, while the belga rose 2 points.

Gold engagements for the day reported by the federal reserve bank amounted to $1,801,000, of which $1,699,000 was taken in Canada and the remainder in India. Imports here yesterday included $2,526,400 from France, $368,000 from Russia, $345,700 from Ecuador, and $263,600 from Chile.

Northern Trust Profit Equals $28.52 a Share

Net profits of the Northern Trust company during 1935 amounted to $855,597, or $28.52 a share, Solomon A. Smith, president, reported yesterday at the annual meeting of stockholders. Earnings were equal to 7.22 per cent on average capital employed during the year.

S. A. SMITH.

After payment of dividends amounting to $540,000 during the year, net permitted addition of $315,597 to undivided profits.

No earnings figures were disclosed last year after the annual meeting, but it was said yesterday 1934 profits were equal to $28.03 a share and earnings to 7.27 per cent on average capital.

Will Elect Officers Today.

All directors were reëlected. The board will meet today for the selection of officers for the ensuing year.

Stockholders of the Personal Loan and Savings bank reëlected all directors and chose Walter L. Vincent, president of the Central Illinois Securities corporation, to fill a vacancy on the board. Officers will be elected at a meeting of directors Jan. 23.

Directors of the Upper Avenue bank were reëlected yesterday. The board then renamed all officers and made two promotions. Ralph N. Larson, cashier, was named vice president and cashier, and Frank McGlinchey was named assistant cashier.

Other Bank Elections.

Officers and directors of the Western State bank of Cicero, 5600 Cermak road, were reëlected yesterday.

The directorate of the I-C Bank and Trust company, 1538 East Fifty-third street, was decreased from six to five members through decision of stockholders not to fill a vacancy existing for several years. Lawrence Schnadig was elected to the board to fill a vacancy caused by the recent death of his father, Jacob. Other officers and directors were reëlected.

MILLS NOVELTY ASKS $54,000,000 TRUST DAMAGES

New York, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Suit for $54,000,000 damages for alleged violation of the Sherman and Clayton anti-trust laws was filed in U. S. District court today against more than two score ice cream companies by the Mills Novelty company, Chicago, manufacturers of counter ice cream freezers, slot machines, and other products.

S. Joel Middleman, attorney for the Mills company, said the complaint charged the defendants with unfair competition, defamation of character, sabotage, and boycotting tactics.

Included in the list of defendants are the Borden company, the Breyer Ice Cream company, the Hydrox Ice Cream company, and Castle's Ice Cream company.

SPEEDY REFUND OF TAX SOUGHT BY PROCESSORS

50 Million Chicago Funds Held.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Immediate action on the part of meat packers, flour millers and other processors toward regaining full trol of the estimated 200 million dollars in processing taxes which have been impounded under court orders was foreseen yesterday, following the decision of the United States Supreme court in the rice miller's case.

JOHN E. HUGHES. [Kaiden & Kazanjion Photo.]

It is estimated about 50 million dollars of these impounded funds is held in Chicago. That 25 per cent of the total for the nation is held here is due to the location in Chicago of large meat packing concerns.

Processors to Claim Tax.

Charles J. Faulkner Jr., general counsel for Armour & Co., said yesterday that some time would be required for a study of the Supreme court's opinion, but that he believed no course had been left to the district courts except to return the impounded tax money to the companies that had paid it—in other words, the processors. The producers, he said, had no just claims on this money.

The farmers who signed up under the AAA, Mr. Faulkner said, received compensation in the form of AAA checks and the farmers who did not sign up were compensated by the advance in hog prices.

District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, who had said last week that the tax money could not be repaid until the Supreme court had decided the rice millers' case, was in Washington yesterday.

Packing Stocks Are Strong.

Meanwhile, stocks of leading packing companies were strong yesterday on the prospect of the return to them of the impounded tax funds. Wilson & Co. common rose $1.50 and the preferred was up $2.50. Swift common gained 50 cents, Cudahy 62½ cents, and Armour 50 cents.

Swift & Co. has the largest stake in the funds to be returned with approximately $17,000,000. Based on the six million common shares outstanding its gain would be about $2.80 per common share. Armour's $12,150,000 would be equal to a little more than $3 per share on its 4,085,418 outstanding common shares. Wilson & Co., with $5,500,000 to be refunded and 2,001,163 common shares, would bene-

MEMBER BANKS' LOANS, DEPOSITS SHOW DECLINES

Interior Institutions Sell More Federal Bonds.

A decline in deposits and loans of reporting member banks in 101 cities was disclosed yesterday in the report of the federal reserve board for the week ended Jan. 8. The falling off in loans was particularly noticeable in the 99 cities outside of Chicago and New York.

Of the 61 million dollar decline in loans and investments reported, the 99 cities accounted for 52 millions. The decrease in New York amounted to only 17 millions, while Chicago banks reported an expansion of 8 millions.

Holdings of government bonds, direct and guaranteed, were down 57 millions in the 99 cities, while additions of 76 and 24 millions, respectively, were reported by New York and Chicago banks. This resulted in an aggregate rise of 48 millions for the 101 cities.

Collateral Loans Drop.

The 99 cities accounted for 25 of the 32 million decline in collateral loans. New York's shrinkage was 8 millions, while Chicago showed a million dollar rise. Chicago also showed a one million rise in commercial loans, New York had a 40 million decline, and the 99 cities had a 10 million drop.

Demand deposits dropped 240 millions—153 millions in New York, 24 millions in Chicago, and 63 millions in the 99 cities. Total time deposits gained 13 millions, the same as the New York gain, Chicago having a 3 million shrinkage and the other centers a similar increase. This resulted in a decrease of 227 millions in net deposits—140 in New York, 27 in Chicago, and 60 elsewhere.

Including a negligible change in government deposits and the 179 million rise in interbank deposits—101 in New Lork, 17 in Chicago, and 61 in the 99 cities—total deposits were down only 47 millions.

GRAINS DECLINE IN DULL TRADE; MAY WHEAT AT $1

Persistent Liquidation Causes Recession.

Grain prices moved lower on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday under the weight of small but persistent liquidation which proved too heavy a burden to throw off. May wheat closed at $1, or nearly a cent a bushel lower, recovering somewhat from a midsession dip which carried the contract below the dollar mark for the first time in several weeks. July and September wheat were about unchanged, while other grains lost small fractions.

Volume of trading was light. An almost total disinterest by outside speculators encouraged selling by professionals. A small amount of support made its appearance through commission houses, while millers bought moderate quantities of wheat, lifting hedges as flour moved into consuming channels.

Court Decree Has Small Effect.

The latest blow to the New Deal's crop restriction schemes—the decision given the rice millers by the Supreme court—was accorded only momentary interest and had no perceptible effect on the trend of prices. The ruling was construed as a bullish influence, but speculative interest was at such low ebb that the decision was not translated into market activity.

Foreign markets did little. Winnipeg closed ⅛ cent higher to ¼ cent lower, and Liverpool declined ⅜ to ⅝ cent. Closing prices of principal May futures in Chicago follow:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Week ago.
Wheat	$1.00	$1.00⅜	$1.02½
Corn	.59⅝	.60¼	.62¼
Oats	.28	.28¼	.28¾
Rye	.53⅝	.54⅛	.55⅝

Canadian Exports Moderate.

Export business in Canadian wheat was moderate. It was reported the dominion has sold a cargo recently to Brazil and that several sales had been made to Greece. Japan was said to have purchased two cargoes of Australian wheat during the day.

Local cash traders sold 50,000 bushels of red wheat to mills and one house sold 50,000 bushels of Canadian feed wheat now held at Milwaukee.

Visible supplies of wheat were reduced 2,332,000 bushels last week, yesterday's report disclosed. This carried total remaining supplies to 67,975,000 bushels, against 78,257,000 at this time last year. Corn stocks decreased 938,000 bushels, oats dropped 487,000 and rye dipped 236,000 bushels.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable rallied sharply today on the Supreme court's dismissal of the Bankhead act suit. Final prices were 8 to 9 points net higher. Sales were 82 contracts. Bleachable, spot, nominal. January closed at 10.00c per lb, March 10.03c, May and July 10.07c.

COTTON FUTURES RECOVER EARLY DIP; CLOSE HIGHER HERE

Cotton futures fluctuated in an erratic manner yesterday, breaking early in sympathy with Liverpool and on the belief the Supreme court would hold the Bankhead compulsory control act invalid. Prices dropped as much as $1 per bale below Saturday's finish, but as soon as it was announced the court had refused to review the Lee Moor case shorts started to cover and found offerings light.

Closing trades, while somewhat below the top on the distant deliveries, were 1 to 6 points higher in Chicago, while active futures at New Orleans were 3 points higher to 1 point lower, and New York was unchanged to 5 points higher.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher, with New Orleans and Houston at 11.65 cents; Galveston, 11.45 cents, and New York 11.95 cents per pound. Prices in cents per pound:

HOGS ADVANCE FURTHER DESPITE HEAVY RECEIPTS

Fresh Pork Prices Drop 50 Cents to $2.

The hog market yesterday scored additional advances despite heaviest receipts in almost a year. Prices rose 10 to 20 cents above Saturday's close.

Another break occurred in fresh pork prices, declines in loins ranging from 50 cents to $2. Sharpest losses were recorded in the east. The average decline in fresh pork loins here since the tax was killed a week ago is equivalent to about 80 per cent of the tax on this particular cut.

Demand was broad yesterday. Selected 200 pound hogs topped at $10.20, an advance of 20 cents Saturday. The average price for the session at $10 was 15 cents higher than on Saturday.

Receipts Total 26,000.

Receipts were estimated at 26,000 head, compared with 29,016 a week ago. Only two Monday totals have been larger since February last year. Eleven leading markets received 86,000 hogs, which was 14,000 fewer than a week ago, but 11,000 more than a year ago. The advance estimate for today at 23,000 is 3,000 short of last Tuesday's run at Chicago.

Lamb was steady to $1.50 higher. Because of the sharp downturn in the market for live lambs, farmers sent in only 8,000 head, one of the smallest Monday totals in recent months. Prices rose 25 to 35 cents, carrying to thep top $11.

Cattle shipments were held back, only 15,000 head arriving. Best steers were strong to 25 cents higher. Others were steady to strong, although some weakness was evident in the plainer classes under $8.50. Because of the shortage of top grade steers less than 200 head sold above $12. One string of 44 averaging 1,055 pounds topped at $14.

Meat Stocks Rise.

Packers built up reserve stocks of meats substantially during December, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. Pork stocks Jan. 1 were 27 per cent greater than on Dec. 1, amounting to 323,633,000 pounds. This was a gain of 70,424,000 pounds, the greatest for one month since last January.

Lard stocks rose to 52,432,000 pounds, an increase of 14,526,000, while beef stocks climbed 16 per cent to 106,044,000 pounds, compared with 91,164,000 on Dec. 1.

Lamb meat totaled 3,021,000 pounds, a gain of 13 per cent for the month. Miscellaneous meats amounted to 74,234,000 pounds, compared with 63,284,000 a month earlier.

Frozen poultry totaled 107,205,000 pounds, compared with 86,098,000 pounds on Dec. 1, and a five year average of 117,752,000.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was firm and unchanged today at 3.15c per lb. It was reported that as of Saturday a local refiner obtained 30,000 bags of Cubas from store at New York at 3.15c. After declining 2 points early under liquidation, futures firmed up on active Cuban and commission house buying. Final prices were at the best of the session and 5 to 8 points net higher. Sales were 26,050 tons.

TRIBUNE TO PUBLISH NEW PRICE INDEX FOR BASIC COMMODITIES

Beginning today THE TRIBUNE will publish a new expanded commodity wholesale price index compiled by the Associated Press. The new index includes 35 basic commodities, which accounted for approximately half of the wholesale turnover in 1926, the basis for the index. The previous index of 20 staple commodities comprised about one-third of that turnover.

Through its system of leased wires the Associated Press is able to collect quotations on the 35 commodities from leading markets and to compute the index within a few minutes after all the prices have been established each day.

The individual commodities include the following 20 which were in the previous index: Butter, cattle, cement, bituminous coal, coffee, copper, cotton, corn, eggs, hides, hogs, lead, oats, petroleum, rayon, rubber, silk, steel scrap, sugar, and wheat. The following 15 commodities have been added: Antimony, burlap, cocoa, cotton cloth, flour, lambs, lard, linseed oil, lumber, rye, steel billets, tin, turpentine, wool, and zinc.

Yesterday the index advanced to 76.70. Last Saturday the new index was 76.62, a week ago, 77.30, a month ago, 76.76, and a year ago, 76.49. The range during recent years follows:

	1935-'36.	1934.	1933.

UTILITIES ACT VICIOUS, DAVIS TELLS COURT

Declares Law Last Word in "Federal Tyranny."

Charlotte, N. C., Jan. 13.—[Special.]—The public utilities holding act today was branded as "vicious" and "the last word in federal tyranny" by John W. Davis in a vigorous assault on its constitutionality in his argument on behalf of the American States Public Service company before the Fourth Circuit court here.

JOHN W. DAVIS.

"Your honors have never before been presented and, I hope, never again will be presented a case involving an act on which the brand of unconstitutionality is more strongly imprinted," Davis said in concluding his argument.

Appeal Previous Decision.

The case was appealed by the government from a federal district court in Baltimore, where Judge William C. Coleman branded the act as unconstitutional in all of its phases.

It is the only case involving the constitutionality of the public utility holding company act heard in lower court and decided by the presiding judge and the only one involving the constitutionality of the holding company act that has any likelihood of reaching the Supreme court in time for a decision before the summer recess.

If it takes its usual course, the official opinion will not be handed down until the spring term of court in Richmond in April, but, due to the importance of the case, it is considered probable that the opinion may be handed down before that time.

Rules Act Invalid.

The appeal came to the Circuit court after Judge Coleman, upon request of the trustees of American States, seeking a plan of reorganization, asked for instructions from the court by which they had been appointed as to whether or not they should register with the securities and exchange commission.

Judge Coleman replied by holding the holding company act unconstitutional in its entirely. The case then came to the Circuit, on appeal of Burco, Inc., an intervening creditor.

Government attorneys announced at the start that they were not prepared to argue the constitutionality of the act but wished to limit their argument to an attack on the jurisdiction of the court.

VORTEX PLANNING ACQUISITION OF INDIVIDUAL CUP

Consolidation Would Form Biggest Unit in Field.

A merger by which Vortex Cup company will acquire the assets of the Individual Drinking Cup company, maker of "Dixie" products and oldest established paper cup concern, will be proposed in a letter to shareholders today. The new Vortex company, whose name has not yet been decided, would become the largest unit in the industry.

Present capitalization of Vortex would be increased from 150,000 of $2.50 convertible class A shares and 350,000 no par common shares to 250,000 class A and 600,000 common, 250,000 of the latter being reserved for conversion on a share for share basis.

The 70,000 class A and 101,458 common shares now outstanding would be exchanged share for share for new stock.

Exchange Stock and Bonds.

Present stockholders of Individual would receive 108,650 class A and 101,458 common shares, plus $975,000 in first mortgage 4½ per cent bonds due in five years and secured by the Individual plant at Easton, Pa. Individual is a privately owned company with small capitalization, closely held.

Equal distribution of common stock arises from approximately equal net earnings of the two concerns. Individual's majority of class A was arrived at by considering net tangible assets of $3,265,520 for Individual and $1,842,766 for Vortex and allowing equitable adjustments for differences in accounting policies. The bond issue was decided upon to hold down issuance of stock and retain Individual's large surplus, including $1,700,000 in cash, government notes, and marketable securities.

Stated Value $20.

The class A stock will have stated value of $20 a share, while the co-par common's stated value will be cut from $5 to $1 to permit a write-off of Vortex good will.

Robert C. Fenner, president of Vortex, will retain that position in the new company and said Vortex officers will retain active management. Hugh Moore, president of Individual, will become chairman of the new concern.

Fenner said costs of the merger will offset savings in the first six months and there will be practically no change in book value of stock as a result of the merger. Application will be made for listing of additional stock on the Chicago Stock exchange when the union is effected.

Prepare Now for the Big Season Ahead.

BURNHAM'S

(for 64 years the world's largest beauty school)

Will Enable You to

EARN MORE

The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher.

SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY MORE GIRLS ENROLL IN BURNHAM'S THAN IN ANY OTHER BEAUTY SCHOOL.

BURNHAM'S AWARDS TRIP TO PARIS to STUDENT. Geneve Huffman, winner of semi-annual Burnham scholarship for efficiency while in training, sailed June 19 on S. S. Manhattan with all expenses paid. Burnham's offers opportunities not found elsewhere.

DAY OR EVENING CLASSES.

Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduation. It is to your advantage to register now, even if you cannot start until later. Open every day and on Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings until 9 p. m.

How to Become a BEAUTY EXPERT

What are your ambitions to be? An "ordinary" mediocre beauty operator trained to work only in the "cheapest" shops at minimum wages? Or—wouldn't you rather be a genuine beauty expert with sufficient training, practical experience and technical knowledge to qualify you for a good paying position in a high class shop?

Unquestionably you want to be an expert and earn more money. DeLEE trains its students to be real experts.

At DeLEE you will receive individual personal instruction, under Madame Louise. You will learn the really fine points of beauty culture and hairdressing in the shortest possible time. Visit DeLEE today.

DeLEE UNIVERSITY OF BEAUTY CULTURE

FINANCIAL INDEPENDENCE

Will Come Easy in Beauty Culture.

A better pay Beauty Culture Job or a Business of Your Own will come to you QUICKER and EASIER by training at LOUIS RUE'S—because their advanced methods teach both the "WHY" and the "HOW" of the profession. You learn by class or private instruction and practical work on actual CUSTOMERS under standard SHOP conditions. Day or evening. Call, phone, or write.

Slayer of Lawyer in Courtroom Faces Trial for Murder—Kipling's Condition Critical After Operation

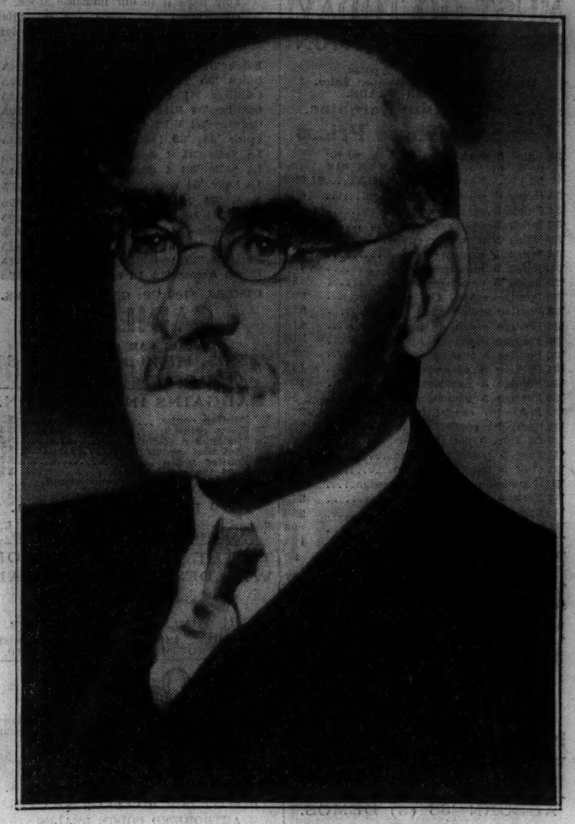
SLAYS LAWYER IN CROWDED COURTROOM AND FIRES ON JUDGE—John W. Keogh, litigant in foreclosure case, shown as he appeared in Judge Prystalski's courtroom yesterday a few seconds after he had shot and killed Attorney Christopher G. Kinney and fired on the judge. He was overpowered and taken to jail cell. (Story on page 1.)

[TRIBUNE Photos.]

JUDGE PRYSTALSKI ESCAPES DEATH FROM BULLETS IN COURTROOM—Circuit Judge John Prystalski as he appeared on the bench in his courtroom in the county building yesterday a few seconds after John W. Keogh had fired at him (picture at left) and as he examined the slayer's pistol in his chambers (picture at right).



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

KIPLING'S CONDITION IS CRITICAL—Recent portrait of Rudyard Kipling, the famous British poet, who underwent operation in London hospital for gastric disorder. His condition is critical. (Story on page 1.)

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

TELLS WHY HE USED GUN IN COURT—John W. Keogh in cell yesterday after killing lawyer in court and firing at judge. The 72 year old slayer had a mania over the subject of legislative reapportionment. (Story on page 1.)
